Something to Build On

We would all be surprised if we knew what people say behind our backs; and there is some foundation for the terrible talk about us. —Ed Howe in Howe's Monthly.

Asker—You say your wife is very ill. Is it dangerous?

Teller—Oh, no. She's only dangerous when she's well.

Doctor (after bringing victim to) —How did you happen to take that posion? Didn't you read the sign on the bottle? It said "Poison."

Ebenezer — Yassah, but Ah didn't believe it.

Doctor—Why not?

Ebenzer — 'Cause right underneaf

Mr. Weakspine had crawled under the bed when he heard the burglar. After a while of breathless waiting he felt someone trying to crawl in beside him.

"Is that you, Sophonisba, dear?" he whispered.

"No," was the answer. "I've just had a look at her. I'm the burglar. Move over."
