ANOTHER HORSE SHOW FOR KENT

Thoroughbreds from three States are expected to participate in a special race meet and hunter trial to be staged on the farm occupied by J. Ivon Rigby, one mile west of here on the Tolchester highway, next Saturday afternoon beginning at 1.30 o'clock.

Among sportsmen and feminine lovers of horseflesh expected to come here for the colorful event, which will list eight races, are members of the family of Mrs. John J. Raskob, of Centreville, Benjamin Decker and Miss Caroline Reynolds, of Elkton, Samuel Ross, of Oxford, Pa., and Chester Massey, of Church Hill.

Mounts from the stables of these enthusiasts as well as from the Quinby and Carter stables, of Centreville, the Hearn stables of Newark, Del., the Storey stables of Queen Anne's county and the Morrow string of steeds from St. George's, Del., will be seen in action, it is anticipated, in addition to many local horses of Kent county. Proceeds will go to the Kent County Public Health Association.

Chester Massey will bring his well-known jumping pony whose record is 6½ feet in an exhibition jump. Several exhibitions will be given during the meet. Races will be run over a one-half mile dirt track and the steeplechase will be staged over the same track with four brush jumps to the one-half mile.

A feature of the meet will be a match race between Dooley Arlington, six-year-old imported standard bred mount, owned and driven by Arthur Burris, of Kent county, and Sir Jimmy Duke, three-year-old steed sired by Iron Duke out of Landy Bess, owned and ridden by J. Ivon Rigby, Jr., of Chestertown.

The scheduled events follow:

1. Flat race, one-holf mile, for ponies ridden by children.
2. Flat race, for local horses never having won a race, one mile.
3. Match race between Dooley Arlington and Sir Jimmy Duke, one-half mile.
4. Flat race, one mile, for thoroughbred horses.
5. Flat race for horses to be ridden by girls, one mile.
6. Pairs of hunters over eight jumps, one mile, time and performance to count.
7. Steeplechase, one mile, over eight jumps, thoroughbreds barred.
8. Steeplechase, open to all, one and one-half miles, over 12 jumps.

FRED FETTER TO LEAD

Fred Fetter will be an innovation at Elkton when he makes his first public appearance at the State Armory, there, on Wednesday night, for the Co. "E" Club's annual Thanksgiving Dance, but to music lovers from this section who attend the affair he will appear as a pleasant repetition. Fetter will act as master of ceremonies at the Thanksgiving Cotillion, which will mark the second anniversary of the Cecil county dance promoters.

Fetter will be remembered here as the saxaphone artist who furnished music for the Sunday afternoon teas at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, who played with the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company Band, and who, with Norman Sutton, Herbert Ward and Harry S. Russell, took part in the recent ministrels. At the Co. "E" Club's function he will direct the entire program and entertain the patrons with an unsurpassable line of ballyhoo.

According to the sponsors, Fetter's appearance at the Thanksgiving Anniversary Dance will be the greatest innovation since the original engagement of the Sasa Loma Orchestra shortly after the organization of the Co. "E" Club, two years ago. The club's new master of ceremonies enjoys widespread popularity with southern radio audiences as a saxaphone soloist and dance musician.

CLOSE GAME EXPECTED

All interest in the College Sophomore and Freshmen Classes is centered on the forth-coming traditional football game between these two classes. The rivals are holding pep meetings and daily football practice, composed mostly of signal learning at the present time. The game will be played on Wednesday before Thanksgiving, November 24, and the whole college and most of Chester town will witness this bitter struggle.

CHESTERTOWN WINS 1st ROUND

Galena was the scene of a spirited contest Wednesday between the field ball teams of Calvert School of Cecil County and Chestertown High School of Kent County.

Both teams were county champions and they played as champions should. Early in the game, Calvert established a three-point lead, and held that advantage until the fourth quarter, when a desperate spurt on Chestertown's part put her onepoint in the lead.

Calvert quickly retaliated with another field goal, and it looked as if this would give her the game. But in the last few seconds Chestertown's left wing shot a swift goal, which gave the game to Kent with a score of 9 to 8.

Miss Marguerite Miles of the P. A. L. refereed the game with her usual keen, fair decisions. The early part of the game was marked by its petty penalies; such as, stepping with the ball, regaining it after a roll, and double drbbling. The latter half, however, was a good example of what a clean, hard-fough, speedy game of field ball can be.

The excitement of the spectators was evidence of the good sport which it offered, for even the rain in the last quarter could not cool the enjoyment of the crowd.

Calvert's team showed wonderful courage and pluck. Drawn from a high school of only seventy-five students, it more than held its own against the team of a school almost four times that size. Had it not been for an injury to the right hand of her captain and star shot, the victory might have been hers.

Chestertown's strength lay in her pass-work and endurance; she did not seem to find herself until the last quarter, although she showed promise of power throughout the game.

The goals for Calvert were made by V. McKinney, who shot three field goals, and L. Nickell, who scored one. For Chestertown, Miriam Ford was the high scorer with three field goals to her credit, while Gertrude Leaverton made one field goal, and Margaret Antony scored a foul shot.

It was a gamble which side would win, and today Chestertown feels lucky rather than clever to have made the winning point.

The line-up was:

Calvert.		Chestertown
V. Yerkes	RW	P. Grainger
E. Wilson	RI	D. Brown
V. McQinney	C	F. M. Ford
L. Nickell	LI	A. Bland
G. Algard	LW	G. Leaverton
B. Alexander	DHB	M. Anthony
H. Ewing	CHB	V. Ford
S. Payne	LHB	K. Anthony
R. Gifford	RFB	E. Sutton
F. McKinney	LEB	H. Harris
V. Smith	G	M. Reinhart

The Chestertown High School Soccer team is marching on to victory. At Centreville Thursday they defeated their rivals 13 to 3.

MRS. HARRY WILLIAMS, of Worton, Kent county, will preside at the Saturday afternoon meeting of the National Farm Women's Conference, at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, December 5th.

Mrs. Williams, Home and Community Chairman of the Maryland Home Bureau Federation, is one of Kent's leading farm women and is nationally known for her activities along that line. Kent is proud of her.

The women's conference precedes the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation which will be held from December 7 to 9 in Chicago.

JOSIAH MASSEY, Kent's champion corn grower, won the prize offered for the best ears of corn submitted in connection with the Harvest Sale staged by Noland's Store, Chestertown.

The prize for the largest pumpkin, in connection with the same event, was won by Mrs. Helen Kirby, Sudlersville.

JOS. N. WHEATLEY, Kent's champion checker player, defeated C. W. Smith, of the Western Shore Monday five games out of seven, one being a draw. The match was held in Barnett's barber shop, the training ground for all good players.

THE City Council has ordered its executive officers to ask president Paul E. Titsworth, of Washington College to prevent students from destroying property here and lighting bonfires in the town on holidays.

MIDGETS ARE WEDDED

Miss Hilda Lucille Blockston, midget daughter of Mrs. Amelia Blockston, of Ridgely, eloped last Saturday night with George Hessey, midget son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hessey, of Crumpton, Md.

They were married by the Rev. Harry Hufnal of the M. E. Church at Crumpton. The wedding was followed by a supper party and reception given by friends of the couple, in the village town hall. On hearing of the wedding from a friend of her daughter late Saturday night, Mrs. Blockston made an attempt to have the marriage annulled, but the charges were later withdrawn as both parties are of age, Mrs. Hessey being 25 years old and her husband 31. Mr. Hessey is a traveler with a wide experience having been associated for a number of years with traveling shows.

At present he is engaged in farming near Crumpton, where the couple will make their home.

MANY HAPPY FALL WEDDINGS

A wedding of interest to local people took place in Cambridge Tuesday when Miss Dorothy Shriver, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Shriver, became the bride of John Pattison Perry, of Pittsburg, formerly of Centreville.

Miss Shriver is a graduate ofWashington College with the class of 1924 and has many friends in Kent. She is the sister of Mrs. Fred W. Dumschott, of Chestertown. Her father, Dr. Shriver, is a member of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College.

Mr. Perry, formerly of Centreville, is a half-brother of Mrs. S. Scott Beck, Mrs. J. T. Kibler, Mrs. J. G. Metcalfe and Mrs. P. G. Wilmer, all of Chestertown.

* * *

William Clarence Crew, 21, of Betterton, and Martha Frances Bishop, 19, of Centreville, were married here last Saturday by the Rev. J. Harry Wright, pastor of the Chestertown M. E. Church.

Young Crew, a former student and athlete at the Chestertown High School, is familiarly known by the name of "Mitch." The bride is a member of a prominent Queen Anne's county family and is a graduate of the Centreville High School.

* * *

Miss Emma L. Manlove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Manlove, of Warwick, Md., and Gilmore J. Reed son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reed, of Middletown, were married on Saturday evening by the Rev. Norman Nicklas at the Warwick M. P. Parsonage. The couple were attended by the bride's sister, Mrs. Margaret Bendler, of Middletown, and Otis J. Carey, of Port Penn. The bride's mother and a few friends were also present.

THERE have been 1110 hunters' licenses issued at the clerk's office in Chestertown. Rabbits seem to be scarce but birds more plentiful than usual. Sheriff Vickers' party of six bagged 14 rabbits Monday. The Crew Bros. killed 13 on Carle Myers' place Monday and Tuesday.

FINED $47.10

Deputy Game Warden Edgar J. Watson made a raid Sunday and Monday on illegal hunters in the northern section of the county near Millington. He arrested G. W. Burris, Philadelphia, and George Saunders, near Golt, on charges of hunting on Sunday and without licenses. The hunters were fined $47.10 each. They paid, procured a license and enjoyed the sport.

ONE scarcely realizes that the absence of rain has been so prolonged that wells and springs in this county are going dry. While there were occasional light showers at infrequent times during September and October there has not been sufficient moisture to maintain the underground sources of water with sufficient quantity to admit to their normal supply, and we approach Winter with this unfortunate meteorological condition unrelieved by the hope of early betterment.

THE Moving Pictures at New Lyceum have been very good the past week and the programs for the coming week also look very entertaining.

H. W. VICKERS, ESQ., has sold to Samuel M. Ford the Spry Home Farm of 82 acres, near Chesterville, for $3,550.

VALUABLE KENT PROPERTY SOLD

A deed went on record this week from G. Elsworth Leary to Mrs. Carolene Hynson duPont for the 130 acres of woodland formerly being a part of "Hinchingham Farm."

We are advised that Mrs. duPont has also purchased of the Colonial Trust Co., of Baltimore, the valuable "Hinchingham Farm" proper, containing 210 acres of land, and beautifully situated on the Chesapeake Bay below Tolchester Beach and with an unexcelled broad stretch of water and shore line.

While the price is private we understand this historic old estate brought around $25,000, and that Mrs. duPont, who is a daughter of the late Richard D. Hynson, of Kent, and the present Mrs. Rogers Wilson, of Wilmington, intends to make extensive improvements during the coming year and will ultimately have one of the finest water front residences on the Eastern Shore. Her husband is Col. Lammot duPont, of Wilmington, one of the wealthiest and outstanding business men of the United States.

Senator S. Scott Beck, of Chestertown, negotiated the purchase of these properties for Mrs. duPont.

A COUPLE of young men broke into Capt. Wm. H. Cooper's garage on Calvert and Kent streets at 2 A. M., Thursday, turned on the electric power which operated the outside tank and stole therefrom over seven gallons of gasoline. In order to operate the pump they were unable to break the lock on end of hose so they cut the hose in half thus releasing the power and enabling them to get all the gasoline necessary. They left their penknife. Captain Cooper regrets the destruction of his hose and and says if they had called at his home one block away he'd given them the gasoline. A resident close at hand saw the thieves and thought they were some of Capt. Cooper's family called out early on an emergency. They were in a Chevrolet car.

THE joint meeting on Thursday last at Centreville of the Chestertown and Centreville Rotary Clubs was a successful affair. The speakers were Rev. Harry Wright and Dr. Paul E. Titsworth. President Ray Horney, of Centreville Club, made the welcoming address and President C. C. Jones, of Chestertown, responded. Song leader Conlyn Noland had charge of the singing. A fine turkey dinner was served by Mrs. James Keating, of the Blue Lantern Inn. The Centreville Club will return the visit of Chestertown on December 7.

THE State Roads office now located on Court street, Chestertown, will shortly occupy larger quarters above A. S. Turner and Sons Garage on Main Street. Rolph Townshend is in charge of the Chestertown office which has under his care the State roads and bridges in Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's, Caroline and Talbot.

AN exciting "coon hunt," one of the first of the current season, was held Wednesday when a party of ten men started three racoons, one opossum and one skunk in the Quaker Neck district of Kent county, where two "coons" were treed and captured by dogs.

APPLICATION blanks for 1932 auto tags will be mailed on November 27 to more than 330,000 owners of autos and trucks.

Delivery of the auto tags will begin November 30, and the new license plates may be installed on December 15. Law requires all autos to have 1932 tags by January 1. The new tags will be white background with red figures.

Commissioner Baughman declared that no new tags will be issued to motorists until they have complied with the Maryland "Save-a-Life Campaign, which closes November 30th. Only about 150,000 have been tested under the campaign to date.

BRIG.-GEN. MILTON A. RECKORD, Adjutant General of Maryland, was the principal speaker at the 4th annual banquet of the Frank M. Jarman Post, No. 36, American Legion, Friday night at the Voshell Hotel here. Captain J. Thomas Kibler, commander of the local post, presided. Captain G. Allan Jarman and other local officers also spoke.
