Q.

CATTLE SHOW.—The tenth annual exhibition of the Maryland State Agricultural Society will be held at the Society's grounds, Baltimore, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 20th, 21st, 22d, and 23rd of this month.

BANK FAILED.—The Mineral Bank at Cumberland failed on Monday. This institution suspended specie payment some days ago, and had in circulation quite a large amount of paper in Western Maryland, parts of Virginia and Ohio, and other points West. It has heretofore sustained a good reputation. The Civilian says:

The Bank made an assignment, and appointed, at an early hour on Monday morning, Messrs. John Beall, and Geo. A. Pearre of this city, Trustees, who immediately took possession, and are now devoting themselves assiduously to an investigation of the condition of the affairs of the Bank, and will furnish to the public, at the earliest practicable moment, a correct statement of its condition.

THE MEETING IN THE SQUARE.—Monument Square last evening, on the occasion of the American mass meeting, was filled, as we have often seen it before on similar occasions, with the enthusiastic and ardent lovers of American freedom, assembled together to listen to strains of eloquence from the lips of her most devoted sons, who have gathered round her standard and entered into the cause with a determination to lead on to victory in the approaching contest. The committee having the arrangements in charge had made every preparation during the day. The staging erected for the speakers was handsomely decorated with flags. Minnick's brass band was also in attendance, and during the gathering of the multitude played a number of patriotic and other airs. The outskirts of the Square were held by a number of boys, who built several bonfires, and the glare of the flames, as it lit up the faces of the gradually swelling throng, added to the animation of the scene.

At eight o'clock J. Bond Chaplain arose and called the meeting to order by nominating Wm. Price, Esq. president president, with the following vice-presidents, as officers of the meeting. Col. J. Mabury Turner, Wm. A. Van Nostrand, Thomas Birch, Thomas J. Pitt, A. Mace, Col. N. Brewer, Henry J. Scarff; A. J. Burke, George M. Green, Charles L. Graft, Samuel J. Soper, John T. Ford, A. D. Evans, George H. Dalton, Dr. Wm. H. Hayward, J. Irwin Smith, and Nathan T. Dushane. Secretaries, John N. Wright and Samuel M. Evans. The nominations were received with acclamation.

Mr. Price, on taking the chair, indulged in a brief address, which chiefly consisted in a review of the principles of the party. He concluded by reading a letter from Millard Fillmore, addressed to the committee, from New York, in response to an invitation to be present at a meeting. The reading of the letter elicted much applause.

The assemblage had by this time swelled to several thousand persons, and among them we observed several distinguished orators, who took their seats upon the stand. After music by the band the president introduced the Hon. Thos. Holliday Hicks, the American candidate for Governor, who, amid considerable enthusiasm, proceeded to address the meeting. The speaker, after touching upon his opponent, reviewed the past condition of the city as contrasted with the present, reverted to the the attempts made to malign her and denounce the clubs and cliques as he went along. During the remarks of the speaker the deputations from the various wards began to arrive on the ground, and the uproar of drum and fife compelled the gentleman to pause. The band also struck up, whilst the square rapidly filled with transparences of every possible device, and banners. Rockets were also sent up, and salutes fired, and the scene for a while was one of great animation. In the midst of it the orator resumed, but the clamor of the arriving wards was so great as to put a pause to the proceeding again. In the line of the 17th ward was borne the ship of State with rigging of banners, and boys at the mast heads. The 16th ward bore a carriage in line, profusely decked with evergreen. The feature of the 20th ward was a grand illumnted pyramid, on which was displayed devices, &c.

A live eagle, from the 17th ward was perched upon the railing over the speaker's stand. After the agitation had somewhat subsided, the speaker again resumed his remarks, and having concluded, Wm. H. Purnell, Esq., the candidate for the office of Comptroller, was introduced. His address was a stiring appeal to the voters of the community, and was well received. He was followed by Wm. L. W. Seabrook, French S. Evans, Esq., Hons. Henry Winter Davis, J. Morrison Harris, and Dr. Christopher C. Cox.

At a late hour the meeting adjourned, amidst the greatest enthusiasm.

On the fourth morning he drifted by a boat and succeeded in getting into her, and on the fifth day he picked up Mr. Grant, who had been five days on a portion of the hurricane deck of the steamer.

Mr. Grant having swam to the boat the two then pulled for the hurricane deck, and took from it Mr. Dawson, the passenger. There had been twelve men on it: Geo Buddington, the third engineer; John Bank, coal passer; —— Eury, a fireman, and six passengers, names unknown, all of whom, one by one, died and fell off into the sea!

Mr. Tice, Mr. Grant and Mr. Dawson, were eight days without water or provisions, the sea most of the time making a complete breach over them The day after the steamer went down they saw a number of passengers on pieces of the wreck, but could not assist them.
