The Kent News

SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1931

KENT has had lots of rain this summer. Last year we had none. Thus it goes.

THE TOWN ELECTION

Chestertown is to be congratulated upon the orderly election held Monday under the new Charter. The two supervisors, John C. Davis and Olin Stafford, carried out the features of the law with ease and correctness that enabled the election machinery to run smoothly. It was a close election each candidate having warm supporters.

The new officials, with but one exception, have had experience in town matters and the exception has good judgment and leisure so that Chestertown can look forward to a progressive regime.

Messrs. Thompson and Gill, the retiring members, have left some good acts. One of them was the auditing of the books which will likely be continued. The other was the economy program put on the first year by which several thousand dollars were paid on the debt of the town. They also made some mistakes which proves that they were mortal.

The NEWS wishes the Mayor and City Council a successful administration.

OFFICER INJURES NECK IN DIVE

Ensign Joseph Gardiner, 22, of Charlotte, N. C., a graduate last June of the U. S. Naval Academy, was taken to Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, Sunday from the country estate of Mrs. Isaac H. Dixon, of Baltimore, 10 miles from here, on the Chesapeake Bay, in an army airplane.

The officer dived off a boat into shallow water Saturday night and injured his neck and spine when his head struck bottom. Dr. Harry G. Simpers, of Chestertown, gave first aid.

THE KENT-SUSSEX CO. FAIR

Mighty good news for all residents of Kent county is contained in the announcement of the program of the Kent and Sussex County Fair, which appears in this newspaper this week. The Fair is to begin on Tuesday, July 28, and continue for five big days and nights, ending Saturday, August 1st.

As usual there will be the special Governor's Day events on Thursday, July 30, which will be featured with three fast races, a cattle parade, 19 acts in front of the grandstand, daylight fireworks and band concerts galore. It is expected that at least 20,000 persons will be in attendance at the Fair Grounds in Harrington on that day, should the weather be clement.

The Kent and Sussex Fair Committee points out that every effort has been made to make this year's Fair an outstanding one, and with this end in view, $15,000 has been spent for amusement, and $8,500 is to be paid out to exhibitors in the form of prizes and premiums.

The races will be more varied than ever this season, with harness races, pony races, running races, chariot races, mule races. The automobile races will take place on Saturday, the last day of the Fair, and there will be seven sensational speed events in which some of the world's most famous drivers will participate.

Despite the fact that more money than ever has been expended to bring the best possible amusements and attractions to Harrington for enjoyment and entertainment of the Fair visitors, there will be no increase in the prices of admission.

THE final report of the treasurer of the Sudlersville Firemen's Carnival shows that the company made a net return of $1,226.00 The firemen of that town are highly pleased over the results.

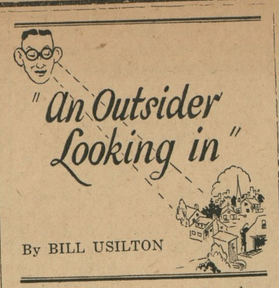
DRUNKEN DRIVING CUT IN SHORE DRIVE

As a result of the campaign now in progress against drunken driving only one case was reported on the Eastern Shore during the week according to local State officers.

G. K. Kelley, of Preston, had his license revoked for this cause as well as for reckless driving. C. F. Gordy, of Heron, had his license suspended for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate and three motorists were refused licenses for having operated without a license. They are John Bangert. Cambridge; Harry Davis, Salisbury, and James Gordy, Hebron.

KENT county was the first to raise its quota in the special campaign conducted for the relief of drought sufferers of last summer.

More than $19,000 of the $15,000,000 raised was spent in relieving distress in eight Maryland counties. The counties in which this money was distributed were Garrett, St. Mary's, Charles, Queen Anne's, Caroline, Montgomery, Prince Georges and Anne Arundel.



By BILL USILTON

OF COURSE this week's column must open with the heading—CONGRATULATIONS TO CHESTERTOWN'S FIRST MAYOR, CHAS. N. SATTERFIELD!...Personally, I'm quite pleased that Mr. Charlie was elected, which doesn't in the least, however, insinuate that I have any animosity for the defeated candidate, Scott Thompson. Mr. Thompson has always appealed to me as the dramatic fire fighter, tearing down Main street in his breath-taking manner to be one of the first on hand to pilot our fire engines to the blaze. And this colorful impression is about all I have of the worthy gentleman from Herring Hill for since he has been a member of the Board of Town Commissioners I have been away from town.

But with Mr. Charlie its different. I have all kinds of impressions of him and most of them are good. They couldn't all be good He would be a perfect man then and Chestertown would have to have another election. I can remember him at Sunday school, always comfortably seated with his chair tilted back and his arms resting on the chair beside him...I can see him coming around the corner of the Third National Bank, unbuttoned coat flowing in the wind, and waving to friends with a hand filled with newspapers and letters...giving me a cheery greeting from the porch of his former home on Queen street...and wishing me luck in basket-ball games...talking of trips to Philadelphia to see a ball game with Mr. Ralph Barnett in the barber shop...seated on the sidelines in the W. C. gymnasium, and turning his head swiftly from right to left neighbor as he applauded a goal for our side...helping me to get a quick job completed at his shop when I wrecked Mr. Eben Perkins' boat by plowing into the Chester River bridge . . . and many, many other impressions. And, as an outsider looking in, these little things, rather than a knowledge of the capabilities of the two men, sort of placed me on his side of the fence.

Anyway, a new form of municipal government is launched and we wish it every success in the world. I'm sure the election wasn't crooked, we have a Mayor, a mighty good collection of Councilmen, the town is divided into wards, and the experiment bids fair to being another notch, just a little higher up, in the side of progressive Chestertown. Now for the Armory and Postoffice! The new Mayor has got to have a few cornerstones to lay or his job will only be half done.

****

While on this subject of new municipal government for our fair city I want Judge Rogers to know that I know he is the representative from the First Ward. Since he had no opposition in the election I've had quite some time to ponder over complaints that I can present to him as representative of my home district. As yet I haven't gotten one that's tough but, never fear Judge, I have a bulldog's tenacity in such matters and I'll give you something to think about while you are sailing that skiff.

****

I KNOW at least two of the Chestertown columnists, along with a great many citizens, will be interested to know that "success" is more plainly written on the glorious banner of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform than ever before. A Miss WETMORE has just been appointed to a very high office in the organization. Things like that have always appealed to Will Collins, but he'll probably be worried with the thought of the Drys—a never-say-die lot whether they are right or wrong—digging up some bird named I. M. Arid, or a crusading damsel christened Helen Brimstone. (that's a hot one).

AND a few things we heard or read about during the week . . . "George Washington," by Woodward, is one of the most illuminating and revealing volumes I've read in years. One incident in particular amused me. The Father of His Country, while president, attended church in Philadelphia and was berated by the minister in the pulpit for setting a poor example for his countrymen, as he did not take communion and never kneeled in prayer. Washington said he wouldn't disturb the pastor by his presence, and never attended the church again...Ann Welch gets a big kick out of the New York subways. She loves to ride an express that tears along under ground at fifty-five miles an hour. (PS. Jerry Giraitis isn't sorry. Taxis are expensive)...City ordinance in Centralia, Washington has prohibited the males from shaving until August 10. There have been several arrests, but no reason given why the men refused to obey the ordinance. I blame the women. I'm no roue or lady's man but I've had complaints even with a one-day growth...One Chestertown politician wanted an eligible voter, now in New York, to come to Chestertown and vote for Satterfield. He would have paid all the expenses ..'My "Famous Kent Countians' have been a little too mild. A few unfavorable comments are necessary to make it realistic...Kathryn Smith, charming daughter of Fairlee's A1 physician, is touring New England. She called one of the boys . . . and how've you been?

AFTER several weeks of inspection by agents of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who have 200 traps planted about the town only one Japanese beetle has been found here. Several hundred have been discovered in Chesapeake City in Cecil county and several in Easton. W. E. Cranston, Government specialist at Dover, Del., is in charge of inspection work in this area.
