HEAT BROKEN BY A SEVERE STORM

The mercury reached 96 degrees in Chestertown Wednesday but the heat wave was broken by a storm which visited this county about 4.00 o'clock doing considerable damage.

Lightning struck the steeple on the M. E. Church at Chestertown, doing damage estimated at $200.

The bolt entered from the top of the steeple, carrying away a large panel and column of woodwork, and tntered inside, tearing away a portion of the plaster.

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company responded to the alarm sent in, but its services were not needed as no fire followed.

Telegraph and telephone communication in the Pennsylvania Railroad office was put out of commission by a bolt of lightning which stunned Station Master Arthur E. Culver and his assistant, Mr. Cartwright. Neither was injured, but were stunned for some time.

The storm was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, which will be a great benefit to wells in the county. The wells had been very low for a number of months.

Farms in this vicinity suffered severely when a small tornado, or "twister," swept over them.

At the farm of Harry C. Thompson near this place, the wind moved the front steps of the residence all the way around to the back yard. The gale also moved the entire front porch several feet.

Shade trees were uprooted and the smoke house and dairy building were blown down. The roof of a garage on the farm was blown in, damaging an automobile owned by Francis Wilson, son-in-law of Mr. Thompson.

In the farm of John Whitly. four valuable hogs were struck by lightning in a field and instantly killed.

A large barn at Sassafras, owned by Mrs. A. B. Johnson was struck and burned. The Millington Fire Company saved the horses and cows from death in the structure.

On the farm of Charles Fuller, in Queen Anne's County across the Chester river from this place, a barn was struck by lightning and its roof torn off by wind. The building, however, did not take fire.

Several trees on the farm of Chas. Nicholson were blown over.

Lightning struck a number of wheat fields in the county, among them being on R. G. Nicholson's and Mr. Ford's farm, setting fire to and burning up a number of shocks of wheat. On the farm of John Clendaniel, Elmer Pierce was stunned by lightning while he was leaning against an outmobile in which Mr. Clendaniel was sitting.

At Rock Hall lightning struck Walter Hadaway's chimney knocking part of it away. At Sharptown a large maple tree in front of the church was splintered and many street lights in Rock Hall put out of commission.

THOS. W. ELIASON, JR., is having his "Washington Headquarters" building rewhitewashed and repainted in preparation for the big Washington celebration next year. In Annapolis there have been over 80 buildings marked as having been visited by the illustrious George.

KENT COUNTIANS will revel in baseball this 4th of July. Double headers will be played at several points.

St. James or West Kent, under Howard Byrd's management, has not lost a game.

In the Kent County League, Chestertown will go to Kennedyville and Still Pond will play West Kent on the Chestertown High School diamond.

Double-headers are scheduled for the Kent 4-H League, according to Manager Stanley Sutton.

NO PICTURES at New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday.

In another column the Tolchester Co. advertises that all parking space will be charged for at 25 cents per car on holidays and Sundays.

THE THREE lowest bids on the Chestertown Armory were as follows; Dashields, $54,800; Walter T. Pippin & Son, $53,307; Schmidt, $51,000. These three will be asked to submit another bid on revised plans.

CAMP CARVIL ON THE CHESTER RIVER

Camp Carvel on the Chester River opened for the summer this week. It is beautifully situated on the H. A. Kratzer farm, right on the banks of the river in Quaker Neck, below Chestertown. Mrs. Richard Carvel is in charge and ably assisted by her sister, Mrs. Chas. Shaunessey, of Mt. St. Mary's College. Miss Amelia Gude, of Marjorie Webster School, is counsellor.

W. T. PIPPIN & SON AWARDED CONTRACT

At a meeting of the building committee of the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Company on Monday afternoon, bids were opened on the contemplated improvement and contract awarded Walter T. Pippin and Son, Chestertown. The bids were as follows: Walter T. Pippin $3,890; Harry F. Callahan, $5,622; Stavely & Bowers, $5,072; Pennington Construction Co., $4,899. Henry P. Hopkins, of Baltimore, is the architect.

The building when completed will have a colonial front with marble door step, electric side lights, composition letters of company, carved rosettes. Interior to be replastered, old vault removed and floor covered with linoleum in cement. Walls are to be painted and new electric fixtures installed.

An outside stairway will connect with second floor room which is to be rented. A rear room on second floor is to be fitted up for the company's directors quarters. The contractor promises to complete the work on or before Sept. 1, 1931.

DECISION REVERSED ON SCHOOL CLOSING

The County Board of Education Tuesday decided to reopen tht Morgnec and Cherry Lane rural schools at the beginning of the September term. Some weeks ago they had decided to close these schools.

It is said that although Cherry Lane will have an enrollment of not more than eight at the beginning of the fall term, sufficient pressure was brought to bear by patrons of both Cherry Lane and Morgnec to induce the board to reopen both. The rural school at Turner's Creek will be closed. At the request of the patrons of Worton Point rural school, the board also ordered that school closed and provision will be made to transport the pupils to other schools. In another column will be found notice asking for bids on bus route to Hanesville.

NEW WHARF AT PINEY NECK

The County Commissioners Tuesday agreed to build a wharf for the watermen and others in Piney Neck at Long Cove. The cost will be about $1,300. This wharf will be 16x24 with an approach of 9x100 ft.

VOSHELL HOUSE
INTEREST SOLD

The one-sixth interest of Barclay Eshman in the Voshell House was sold at public sale Tuesday to Chas. Eshman and his sister, Mrs. Mary Athinson, of Washington. The price was $1,000 subject to about $5,000 prior claims.

RASKOB FIREWORKS
FOR RIVER REGATTA

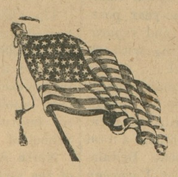
Fifteen hundred dollars worth of fireworks will be set off at a night exhibition here during the third annual regatta of the Chester River Yacht Club in August, according to club officers, who have announced that John J. Raskob will transfer the exhibition from Pioneer Point Farms to the local anchorage.

The illumination usually is held at the Raskob estate on July 4.

SCORES of Catholic boys from Baltimore, Wilmington and Philadelphia will enjoy vacations at Camp Martin at the mouth of the Chester River, which has opened for the summer. The first group of Baltimore lads are already there, led by the Rev. John J. Russell, of St. Martin's Catholic Church and John R. Spellisey, of Baltimore.

Four weeks have been set aside for girls, beginning July 26. Bernard M. McDermott is assistant director of the camp and Joseph H. Carroll is registrar.

IF YOU have not registered you can not vote in the Chestertown election on July 20. Next Monday is the last day.



THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

FRANCIS SCOTT KEY

O say, can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming —
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming!
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On that shore. dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
W here the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In fully glory reflected, now shines on the stream;
'Tis the star-spangled banner, O. long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

(Officially Adopted As The National Anthem of the United States of America by Act of Congress, March 3, 1931

THREE BIG HAULS IN CHESTER RIVER

Last week the NEWS noted a haul of about 7 tons of hardheads off Northwest Point, Chester river, by Capt. Elmer Batchelor and crew. These fish sold for only two cents per pound.

Another unusual catch of fish was made about the same place next day and these were shipped unpacked to Philadelphia. The dealers refused to accept them in this condition and they were shipped to Baltimore. Monday another big catch was made amounting to 15,000 pounds. These were freighted direct to Baltimore by boat and sold for $4 per barrel.

The fishermen interested in these large hauls were Otto and Arthur Capel, Elmer Bachelor, James Everett, George Blackiston, George Taylor, Warren Brown, Andrew Perry and Charles Capel.

It cost these men about $15 to ice the fish and $30 to freight them to Philadelphia.

VELMA BROOKS SUNK IN BAY

The motor boat Velma Brooks of Chestertown was rammed and sunk in a collision with the steamer Mundolphin as the latter came up the Chesapeake Bay Sunday. Capt. A. W. Gavin, of the Mundolphin, reported to harbor authorities Monday.

Wm. C. Townsend, master and owner af the Brooks; Will Townsend, a youth, and M. Stebbins, engineer, were picked up by the Mundolphin's life-boat and brought to Baltimore port.

Noticing that the Brooks was steering toward his bow. Captain Gavin said a warning whistle was sounded by the Mundolphin and the engines were reversed, but too late to avoid striking the smaller vessel.

As the motor boat sank, a metal oil can was attached to her with a hawser to mark the position of the wreck —160 degrees true from Smith Point, and 288 degrees from Point Lookout.

The motor boat was a 33-ton craft, 76 feet 5 inches long, 19 feet 8 inches beam, and 5 feet 3 inches molded depth. She was built at Madison, Md.. in 1900, and was uninsured, it was said.

The steamer, owned by the Munson Line, brought a cargo of sugar from Cardenas. The Brooks was bound for the Rappanhanock river with a cargo of cans and cases.

JAIL AND HOSPITAL

Lester Martin, aged 22, is in Eastern Emergency Hospital in a serious condition, and Oliver Givens, aged 23, is in Kent county jail here as the result of a shooting affray near the village of Still Pond early Sunday.

Givens, according to Sheriff John T. Vickers, shot Martin in the forehead with a 22-caliber pistol during a quarrel. Citizens of the town called the sheriff.
