A GOOD TIME TO FIX UP

Continued business depression has exerted with many citizens the psychological effect of depressing them unduly in spirit and making them resolve not to spend — even when spending means saving and they really are able to spend conservatively.

At this time of the year as Spring opens up it is a fitting time to do the many things which conserve and beautify our property. Paint is lowered in price and painters anxious for work, so that the opportunity in this line of improvement is excellent and nothing adds more to the appearance of a place. If painting represents too much outlay how about the little odds and ends that go for neatness, such as fences tightened up, trees pruned, trash gathered up. Shrubbery does wonders to ornament a lot and can be purchased from reliable local nurseries at small expense.

If you can't do the big improvements at least don't overlook the little ones you can afford. It is a good time to fix up and a little activity this way will make us all feel better.

A RECORD WINTER

Winter made his final bow at nine o'clock Saturday morning, and many critics agree that he has given us many freak performances.

It has been the warmest weather on record over most of the United States cold in the usually "Sunny South" and drier even than the drought-stricken summer of 1930. This is the verdict of the United States Weather Gureau

Precipitation of moisture, which includes both rain and snow, was only 73 per cent of normal last summer, but fell to 69 per cent during the winter months.

It was the driest winter in weather bureau records in Alabama. Illionis, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan,, Minesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon Wisconsin and Wyoming.

It was the driest for 30 pears in Kentucky Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania. South Dakota and West Virginia.

Only Arizona, Florida, New Mexico Oklahoma and Texas had normal winter rainfall. Washington, D. C., had the least winter rain since 1836.

Cold waves were mostly just cool zephyrs except in the northeast. Northfield Vermont was officially the coldest spot in the United States with 24 degrees below zero, but temperatures there in other yeas have gone as low as 41 below.

Only points north of a line from New York through Chicago and Des Moines had zero weather this winter except for Southern Utah. Usually the line of zero temperatures extends almost to the gulf of Mexico at least once during a winter.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

The person who, through carelessness, causes a fire is in exactly the same class as the motorists whose carlessness results in damage to the property or lives of others.

There is no such thing as an "individual fire." The deficit it creates must be paid for, in one way or another, by the entire community. When John Jones' factory burns it is not only John Jones who suffers—but all his employes, and all other property owners who must make up the taxes lost through the fire. No company has yet written an insurance policy which in the broader sense compensates for lost time, lives, opportu nity, livelihood.

The citizen who allows fire hazards to go unattended in his home or place of business, who fails to take every measure that makes for fire prevention, is not only derelict in his duty to the community — he is a direct menace to the lives and property of all other citizens.

During 1930, 32,500 people were killed in automobile accidents, as compared with 31,215 in 1929, according to the Travelers Insurance Company.

During 1930, 12,600,000 gallons of gasoline were consumed, as compared with almost 14,000,000 in 1929.

In other words, automobile fatalities increased over four per cent. while use of gasoline—an accurate barometer of mileage — decreased about ten per cent. The only possible conclusion is that each year the highways grow more dangerous.

This may be laid to a multitude of reasons. Car speeds are increasing, and in many instances highways are inadequate for modern, congested fast-moving traffic. Of greater importance, there are unquestionably thousands of people now operating cars who are temperamentally or physically unfit.

In states which have adopted strict examination laws for drivers, licenses have been refused to an appreciable percentage of applicants. As a result, the accident rate in those states where licenses are issued to all who wish them. The overwhelming percentage of drivers are reasonably careful and competent. The percentage who are congenitally careless and incompetent cause our gigantic death record, and are a constant menace to lives and property of all who drive. Every State should take steps to make certain that every possessor of a driving license is reasonably fit to use public highways.

139 HOUSE AND 23 SENATE BILLS SIGNED BY RITCHIE

Governor Ritchie Monday completed the outlawing of the informer's fee system in Maryland by placing his signature on the Laynor measure, carrying with it repeal of all State laws allowing informers in criminal cases to collect part of fines imposed in such cases.

The Governor also signed the bill for a pay increase to members of the General Assembly. It provided for a raise from $5 to $10 for members with an additional $5 for the presiding officers. The measure, in the form of a constitutional amendment, will have to be submitted to voters of the State in a refrendum at the next general election before taking effect.

Another of the bills, 139 House and 23 Senate, which received his approval was the one providing that persons from outside the State who use Maryland highways by such action appoint the Secretary of State as their attorney on whom service in accident damage suits may be served.
