BOND ISSUE WILL BE VOTED UPON

Senator Beck agreed to present a Bill with refrendum to the Legislature for $100,000 bond for High School addition at Chestertown provided it had the sanctum of the school Board and County Commissioners in addition to the Committee named at a public meeting.

Although personally and officially opposing the bond issue for $100,000 to relieve congested conditions at the Chestertown High School the Board of Couny Commissioners for Kent County went on record Tuesday as favoring the passage of a bill through the current session of the Legislature giving the voters of Kent the right to decide the issue at the next gneneral election.

The proposed $100,000 Bond issue and Bill names a commission consisting of L. C. Robinson, Thos. W. Eliason, Allan A. Harris, W. B. Copper and William F. Russell to carry out its provisions.

The County Commissioners and the committee of patrons, composed of J. S. Kreeger, Thomas W. Eliason, Mrs. W. T. Brice Jr., Mrs. Rebecca Speicher and Mrs. Harry T. Williams with Supeintendent of schools, Louis C. Robinson, inspected the Chestertown high school building Tuesday afternoon, looking to placing fire escapes thereon. The Board, however, claimed the lack of funds would prevent this work done at this time.

KENT NEWS $1.50 PER YEAR

BIG DAY FOR FARMERS

People of Kent and Queen Anne's counties were in Chestertown Saturday last to visit the big show of Jones and Satterfield. It was the closing day of their Farm Equipment Week. Much interest was shown in the duplicate of the first reaper invented by Cyrus Hall McCormick which was on exhibition.

Moving pictures entitled "The Romance of the Reaper," showing the development of the reaper and of agriculture for the last 100 years was very interesting and held the attention of an audience that filled the room to capacity.

Representatives of the Harvester Company were on hand to show the various machines and to call attention to the improvements that have been in labor saving agriculture machinery.

More interest was shown in Farm Equipment Week this year than has yet been shown, and the largest crowd ever present at an annual display was present Saturday.

Much interest was shown by the visitors in the newest McCormick-Deering product, the milking machine.

It is the anniversary machine, being put on the market in commemoration of one hundred years of progress in building labor saving machinery for farm use and cultivation.

Interest in power farming equipment continues to grow as evidenced by the way the men and boys stood with rapt attention while experts explained the details of construction and the possibilities of performance of McCormick - Deering tractors and their labor saving companions. Much interest was shown in the cost of production of farm crops, and how it is possible to meet declining prices of farm products and make money growing them by using power farming tools which greatly reduce the cost of production.

Jones and Satterfield served lunch to all their guests. It was a day devoted to the entertainment of their customers and friends. Greater efficiency in soil cultivation means a happier and more prosperous citizenship.

SNOW STORM WELCOME HERE

A snow storm which is believed will mean thousands of dollars to farmers and other Kent countians, in saving the wheat crop which was planted last Fall, and in replenishing the wells of the county, began Monday, about daybreak and continued throughout the day, with about a four inch snow fall on the ground. The snow storm followed a rain of several hours.

The storm has been welcomed with rejoicing by practically every county farmer, owing to the damage that had been done to the wheat crop by the drought and also to the wells. The wheat crop seeded in October has been almost without moisture with the exception of a few slight rains. In every section of the county wells have gone dry, and farmers have been compelled to haul water from nearby towns for their stock, and in many cases for household purposes.

SUFFER $1,000,000 LOSS

The worst breakdown in telephone communication and electric light service in the history of lower Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland was the chief toll of the storm that descended on the Delmarva peninsula Monday night. Telegraph wires were also down. The storm, the first big one of the winer, came less than five days before the begining of Spring, which will arrive officially at 9.07 o'clock Saturday morning.

More than 500 telephone poles were known to be down throughout the State, and on the Eastern Shore it was reported that hundreds of poles were down and wires tangled badly. To give the reader a sample, there were 60 poles broken off and blown down between Galena and Kennedyville, while between Chestertown and Rock Hall there were 57 poles down.

Telephone and electric repair men were put to work at an early hour Tuesday A. M. in all sections. Working steadily throughout the day, it is hoped to establish better service quickly and within a short time have it back to normal. There were 50 men started to work in Kent from Pennsylvania Wednesday and a truck load of new wire supplied them to replace old lines.

It is estimated that the damage on the Eastern Shore will amount to $1,000,000.

ALMSHOUSE BILLS ARE INTRODUCED

Administration bills providing for the establishment of two centrally located State almshouses, at a total cost of $1,049,000, were filed Tuesday in the House by Miss Lavinia Engle, member of the Montgomery delegation

The institutions would be known as the Eastern Shore Infirmary and the Western Maryland Infirmary, the former capable of accommodating 150 inmates and the latter 500. The two infirmaries will replace the present system of individual county almshouses.

The cost of construction of the Eastern Shore unit is estimated at $301,000 and that of the building for the Western Shore at $748,000.

Each would be administered by a board of managers, to whom would be entrusted the responsibility of issuing bonds to cover the cost of construction and euipmen, and the retirement of the debt. The boards also would select sites for the institutions and engage superintendents, physicians, matrons, nurses and necessary employes.

They would establish salaries of employes and have absolute jurisdiction over conduct of the institutions along this line. The commissions would be unpaid and members would serve six-year terms.

The board of the Western Shore institution would comprise fourteen members, one from each of the counties on the west side of the Chesapeake Bay and one at large to be selected by the Governor. One member from each of the nine Eastern Shore counties would constitute the board for the Eastern Shore Infirmary.

The institutions would be open to the infirm, indigent and those afflicted with chronic and incurable non-contagious diseases, who would be admitted as State charges on recommendation by County Commissioners.

The quota for inmates from the counties would be established by the boards and each county would be required to pay to the institution $250 annually for every reservation. Private case would be admitted when the institutions capacities are no taxed, at a rate of $1 per day.

Counties would be charged with the responsibility for the construction and equipment debts as follows:

Western Maryland Infirmary
Allegany	$84,000
Anne Arundel	$49,000
Baltimore	$169,000
Calvert	$6,000
Carroll	$87,000
Charles	$10,000
Frederick	$67,000
Garrett	$22,000
Harford	$25,000
Howard	$19,000
Montgomery	$85,000
Prince Georges	$63,000
St. Mary's	$9,000
Washington	$77,000
Eastern Shore Infirmary
Caroline	$24,000
Cecil	$58,000
Dorchester	$36,000
Kent	$26,000
Queen Anne's	$28,000
Somerset	$20,000
Talbot	$33,000
Wicomico	$42,000
Worcester	$35,000

The County Commissioners are directed under the proposed legislation, to make quarterly returns to the boards of the institutions of amounts sufficient to meet the interest charges and requirement of principal of each of the loans.

RIDGELY BANK BLOWN OPEN AND ROBBED

Blowing open the inner vault door of the Bank of Ridgely at 3:35 A. M. Monday with a nitroglycerine charge bank robbers escaped with $1,000 in currency with nearly every resident of that town aroused on their heels.

Irving Saulsbury, who lives across the street from the bank, was awakened by the sound of falling glass. He immediately called a telephone operator who sounded the siren. As startled residents ran from their homes, several of them said they saw three men rushing from the bank to a waiting automobile which had been parked three blocks away. In their haste the yeggs dropped valuable papers and a coal bucket full of wrapped silver coins amounting to $846 most of which was recovered. Among the papers dropped was the last will and testament of C. Haack which was picked up in front of his own house. The approximate loss, fully covered by insurance, is estimated by Cashier G. L Wilson to be about $1,200 in currency.

The force of the explosion was so great that it blew off the main door of the valut in addition to the inner door. This despite the fact that the yeggs had burned open the outer door.

Officials of the Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylbania State police were notified at once. In a short time Officer Gales of the Maryland State Police, Sheriff Tarbutton of Caroline county and Sheriff Andrews of Queen Annes were on the scene. The bank was open for business at the usual hour Tuesday.

Bank officials explained that the cash supply was low due to the fact that many checks had been cashed.

W. M. Short, of Hillsboro, is president of the bank.

With the finding of $50,000 worth of securities near a culvert in the woods on the outskirts of Oxford, Pa., 20 miles from Elkton, and the arrest on suspicion of a man who was seen loitering near the place where they were found, the investigation of the safe blowing and robbery of the Bank of Ridgely shifted to that section.

The man arrested in Daniel Wallace, who lives in that section. No charge has been preferred against him but he is to be grilled by detectives and officers of that county.

The package of bonds and securities, some of them negotiable and others non-negotiable, was found by an employe of a road contractor who happened to spy them on the edge of the woods near the end of the culvert. He examined them and finding that they were valuable, turned them over to the section boss, who in turn gave them to Chief of Police Samuel Lee.

MINSTRELS WILL BE HERE

Leslie Duyer

The local chapter Daughters of America will sponsor a minstrel show to be staged in the old Lyceum Theatre March 24 by The Dixie Fashion Plate Ministrels of Havre de Grace, an amateur organization led by Leslie F. Duyer, newspaperman of that town and native of Chestertown. A dinner will be tendered the performers by Chestertown Council No. 58.

Galena took the lead among the county high schools with an attendance average of 94.7, two-tenths of a point ahead of Millington, with an average of 94.5. Miss Lelia N. Ware is principal of the Galena High School while Harry R. Rasin heads the Millington group.

ALUMNI PLAY FINE BALL

The Alumni of Washington College gave the regular team of basket ball players a hustle for their crown Saturday night. The score was 36 to 31.

With the local gymnasium well filled with students and graduates assembled for home-coming week festivities.

Though the students ran away with the game in the first period the one-time stellar Maroon and Black players came back in the final session to run within five points of the leaders.

Stan Giraitis, last year's forward, opposed his brother Al, playing the same position. With the score 11 to 0 in favor of the varsity Stan Giraitis flipped the first basket for the Alumni with ten minutes to go in the first period. Jimmy Chaphan, substituting for George Carrington at guard swished a goal through the ropes after making a successful foul shot a minute after taking the floor.

With the tally 21 to 19 in the second frame Stan Giraitis started the scoring spree for the Alumni with two foul shots and Carrington, Cavanaugh Jacobs and Giraitis ran the regulars ragged with goals from many angles.

The "old timers" played fine ball individually, but lacked team work. If they had 10 days to play together Tom Kibler's colts would have been defeated.

Crisfield High Wins

In the preliminary Crisfield High won from Chestertown High, 24 to 23.

FARMING OPERATIONS SHOWN ON SCREEN

H. D. Orem and Son's newly improved and up-to-date show room was the scene of quite an innovation in attracting farmers. The show room was transformed into a moving picture parlor with music and opera chairs. Moving pictures of farm machinery at work in the fields were demonstrated to a large audience. Miss Lucy Gardiner the efficient secretary, had charge of the arrangements.

Deputy Game Warden Edgar J. Watson is expecting to receive this week Kent County's allotment of 10,000 cotton tail rabbits which were recently purchased by the State Game Department from Western States for stock purposes. Upon their arrivel here the rabbits will be liberated in sections of the county where the stock has become seriously depleted.

Motorists entering Maryland towns and villages will be able to tell what place they are entering when the State Roads body completes the placing of signs where the main highways enter these incorporated limits.

Seven men who drank denatured alcohol at a stag party in Raton, New Mexico are dead. Another member of the party, Reuben Padilla, was in a critical condition.

Before his death, Montoya told authorities the alcohol intended for automobile radiators was obtained from a filling station.

The Board of County Commissioners of this county has offered the present almshouse property in Kent county consisting of a large farm and necessary buildings as a location for the new institution.
