ITEMS FROM SOUTHERN PAPERS.

We give below some extracts from Richmond papers of the 6th, and other Southern journals:

SHERMAN'S NEW PLAN AND POLICY.

[From the Richmond Dispatch.]

We have no later advices from Sherman than the despatch published yesterday.—It is not yet known whether he designs moving upon Charleston or Branchville, but we incline to the belief that the latter is his objective point. His plans will be developed in the next few days. Since he left Milledgeville Sherman seems to have changed his policy. In that town, as before at Atlanta, he was all harshness and brutality. At Savannah he has been all conciliation.

UNION PRISONERS IN RICHMOND.

[From the Richmond Examiner, Jan. 6.]

Twenty-five hundred blankets arrived here yesterday and the day before, from Gen. Grant's lines at Varina, for distribution among the Federal prisoners in Richmond. Of the fifty odd thousand Yankee prisoners held in the South, not over two thousand are confined in Richmond, and more than half of these are in hospital. For a year past the great body of them have been shifting South. Richmond is hard pressed to feed its superabundant population, and the large army defending its gates is relieved from the incubus of an overstocked prison post in its midst.

THE CITY OF WILMINGTON SAFE.

From the Wilmington Journal.

In a letter from Gen. Bragg to a friend in this city, he says there is no cause for alarm. The enemy have left our front. There are none now between Wilmington and Fort Fisher. He says that with the force now at his command he thinks he will be able to resist any further attempts upon the city of Wilmington, and closes by asking the prayers of all Christians for himself and the army.

A WAIL ABOUT TAXATION.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Sentinel.]

Will you publish through your columns the wail of the widow and orphan? Surely when their cry comes up before our countrymen their grievances will be redressed. I belong to the class of widows who had invested their little property in stocks before the war. My income is one thousand two hundred and sixty-four dollars. I am old. To dig, I cannot; to beg, I am ashamed; yet I must live out my allotted days. I have to board at an enormous price; I must be clothed, and with what? Will our legislators, who make our laws, depriving us of every means of subsistence, yet sit and vote themselves additional pay, enlighten us upon this vital subject?

A WIDOW.

HIGH PRICE FOR SLAVES.

[From the Richmond Enquirer, Jan. 5.]

Either the owners or their hiring agents are acting very much against common sense in the exhorbitant hires demanded for negroes this year. One thousand dollars and board and clothing are asked by some for negro men. These men surely forget the state of the country, and do not consider the fact that an earnest people are now deliberately weighing the bearings and influences of negro slavery upon the prospects of liberty and independence.

* * * We hope that Congress will now act promptly, and conscribe every negro for whom one thousand dollars is demanded; for the price makes him the very kind of negro wanted in the army—an A No. 1 negro soldier—and renders him too high and costly for the farm or any other kind of labor.

SEMMES IN MOBILE

The Mobile News says that Commodore Semmes, of the Alabama, has arrived there, having made his way into the Confederacy, as we learn, through Mexico.—His arrival was so unexpected that few of our citizens were aware of it in time to welcome him. He was met, however, at the depot, by a large number of officials, and escorted by the splendid command of University Cadets to the residence of his family.

IMPORTANT RUMOR FROM GEORGIA.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says:

It is rumored that Gen. Sherman has communicated to the President that the Georgia State authorities have applied to come back into the Union, and that Secretary Stanton's visit to Savannah has some connection with this subject. It is also believed that Secretary Santon's visit to Sherman will result in the inauguration of a new policy in Sherman's command in reference to treatment of negroes who may come into his lines hereafter. Such negroes will be armed and allowed to do effective service in the Union ranks.

A PARROT aged 33 years recently died in Cincinnati. It was a wonderful specimen of the feathered imitators of the human voice, and knew every member of its owner's family by name, and in one instance, so great was its memory, immediately called the name of a son on his return home, after an absence of fourteen years.

MRS. ROOSA, one of the victims in the Deerfield, Ohio, tragedy is improving, and it is now thought she will recover. The little girl who still lingers is not yet in so hopeful a condition.

Governor Fenton, of New York, voted for his predecessor, Seymour, three times for the same office of Governor.

Ex-Gov. Wise's Virginia property is now used for contraband schools.

The Prince of Wales finds $200,000 per annum too little to maintain his dignity. He means to ask Parliament for more.

EMANCIPATION IN KENTUCKY.

Gov. Bramlette, of Kentucky, in his recent message, thus speaks of the question of emancipation in that State:

Although the people of Kentucky, in this great national struggle against rebellion, have ever opposed making the status of the negro an object of struggle in this trial to preserve our national life, yet they are not so blinded in perception as not to see, nor so irrational as not to accept the fact as an existing fact, that rebellion has destroyed property in slaves. It exists in name to a limited extent, but not in interest. Under the stroke of rebellion, the roof-tree which sheltered it has been shivered to the roots. What remains of it to us is, and must continue to be, not only effete, but burdensome. If left to our people to dispose of it, I have no doubt they will digest the wisest and best means of relieving themselves of it. Under our Constitution emancipation can only be voluntary, or with compensation, reserving the right of creditors, and providing for the removal of the emancipated slaves.—Emancipation, with compensation from the State, is impracticable. The destruction of the value of that property alone creates the present necessity for increased taxation on other property. An amendment to the Constitution cannot be effected before the year 1870.

In the meantime, if our laws were so amended as to give slave-owners the power to emancipate their slaves, and the right to retain them upon fair wages, say for ten years, securing the hire as a fund to colonize and settle the emancipated slaves, voluntary emancipation would become so general that, at the end of ten years, but little would be left of slavery to be adjusted by further action. This would avoid the injurious effects of a sudden breaking up and disruption of this entire labor system, and would give our people an opportunity to perfect, by constitutional amendment or otherwise, such plan of emancipation as would conserve the interests of the country and humanity.

As the time of removal is within the control of the Legislature, limited only by a reasonable regard to the constitutional purpose of removal within a reasonable time, there is every assurance that, with proper facilities, as suggested in the present state of feeling among the slave-owners, voluntary emancipation would become general, and thus relieve the overtaxed mind and patience of our people from the outside pressure on account of the negro.

THE VACCINATION LAW.—We call the attention of teachers to the official notification of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in reference to their duties under the State Vaccination law. The impression is general that the enactment applies only to the city and county public schools. It is of binding force upon every teacher in the State of private schools and academies, as well as public schools:

Office of Sup't of Public Instruction.—The attention of teachers of private schools and academies, is directed to an Act passed by the General Assembly of 1864, entitled "An Act for the better protection of the people of the State against the ravages of the small-pox."

An erroneous impression prevails that the injunction is binding only upon the public schools of Baltimore city and the several counties. It applies to every school within the limits of the State. The law expressly declares "That no teacher in any school shall, after the 1st day of January, 1865, received into such school any person as a scholar until such person shall produce the certificate of some regular practicing physician that such applicant has been duly vaccinated."

All teachers, therefore, who do not require each pupil to produce the certificate are liable to the fine of ten dollars for each offence. The same law requires all parents to have their children vaccinated, under a penalty of ten dollars.

L. VAN BOKKELEN,
State Superintendent Public Iustruction.

DEPLORABLE STATE OF THINGS IN KENTUCKY.—The Louisville papers are full of accounts of guerilla outrages in various sections of that State. Stores are pillaged, horses taken, and citizens conscripted.—The Democrat says that the whole region of country on the Kentucky side from Green river to Louisville has apparently been abandoned to the undisputed control of marauders and thieves.

THE big hotel in London has paid 30 per cent. profit. It expended $5,000 in advertising.
