SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1908.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has reappointed Mr. Hall Harris postmaster of Baltimore city.

THE director of the Paris institute says that if you eat sauerkraut for breakfast, dinner and supper, you will live to be as old as Methusalah. Rather die sooner.

BY the time Congress gets through with "Teddy" he won't know whether he is going or coming. It is surely laughable the way he is showing his teeth and bad temper. Pretty spectacle for the greatest country on earth to view.

SENATOR FRANK HARPER, of Queen Annes, has prepared a statement for Gov. Crothers showing how easily $50,000 may be saved from the biennial expenses of the Maryland Legislature. It is said Gov. Crothers will use his greatest influence to secure the passage of a bill providing for a curtailment of the legislative expenses. If such a thing can be done, the Governor or any one else who does it will make himself "solid" with the tax-payers. The cost of running a Legislature in Maryland in recent years has been nothing short of an outrage, and former Gov. Warfield deserves the thanks of the people of the State for having first called attention to the absolute waste of the people's money.

GOV. CROTHERS struck the keynote of success for the Democratic party in an interview published in the Baltimore Sun on Thursday. Reform is needed for the Democratic party in the counties as well as in the cities, and the sooner the Governor can establish these reforms the better it will be for the party and people. The TRANSCRIPT advocated a special road law for Kent county during the last Legislature, such as Governor Crothers proposes for each county, and this law, had it been enacted, would have saved the county this year thousands of dollars that have been wasted on the county roads. But, oh! No, the TRANSCRIPT was visionary and the law proposed was impractical, according to our critics, and we presume that so far as Kent is concerned Gov. Crothers' suggestion is impractical. But lets see what the people will have to say about this.

WE DEPLORE the intention of Mr. Frank A. Munsey to issue a Sunday afternoon edition of the Baltimore City News, beginning with next Sunday. There is absolutely no demand in Baltimore city or in the State of Maryland for a Sunday afternoon paper, and we consider that the proprietor of the Baltimore City News is overstepping the bounds of propriety. A Sunday afternoon paper furnishes but another temptation to keep people from church, and from giving necessary attention to things religious. It is a direct thurst at the church because of the temptation it offers, and anything that hinders the progress of the church, is a thrust at the morals of our government and the perpetuity of our institutions. The Sabbath day is the Lord's, and it should be His people's business to further the interests of His church, and no one should offer any temptation to hinder the work of the church. There is no room in Maryland morals for a Sunday afternoon paper gotten out on Sunday.

WE NOTE elsewhere the record breaking price for which land sold in Talbot county last week. It is no uncommon thing for Talbot county land to bring fancy prices. This is not due so much to the intrinsic value of the soil as it is to the wide circulation given to the location of the homesteads along the many beautiful sheets of water that skirt or run into the county, by the real estate brokers, whose business it is to sell the land. These Talbot county land brokers have sung the praises of Miles river and Peach Blossom Creek from Maine to Florida, in paper, magazine and pamphlet form, and now they are reaping the reward of their investments in printers' ink in the fine prices which they receive for well located land. Kent county presents the same opportunity. It's soil is as productive acre for acre as is that of Talbot, and the Queenly Chester, the majestic Chesapeake, or the placid Sassafras afford scenery and beauty of location second to no county on the Eastern Shore, and the resources of its land and water, as well as the conveniences for reaching the large cities are such as to attract people of wealth in search of healthy country locations. There is no doubt that the high price of Talbot county land is due principally to the methods employed by the land brokers to boom its interests and advantages, and we believe that the same wealth can be attrated to Kent county if the crusade is begun and pushed such as it is in Talbot. Let our real estate brokers try it for next year and see what happens. There is no more reason why land in Talbot should bring $267.85 an acre in Talbot than in Kent.

Incorporates His Business.

The incorporation papers of the Peerless Fertilizer Co. were filed last week by Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard who has been prosecuting the fertilizer business at Chestertown for over thirty years.

The new company is capitalized at $40,000.00, which is fully paid in and has a surplus of $10,000.00, all stock has been subscribed and there seems to be none on the market for sale.

The incorporators for the first year are Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard, who will be president, D. B. Ford, who will be secretary and Jesse Medders, who will be treasurer of the new company; the other directors of the concern are Wm. B. Copper, J. D. Bacchus, Wm. B. Usilton, Jr., and Henry H. Klinefelter, all of Chestertown, Md., and E. G. Packard, of Dover, Del., James T. Wilson, of Delmar, Del., John E. George, of Queen Annes county, Md., and Thomas W. Jones, of Ridgely, Md.

Mr. George T. Peacock who has been the superintendent of the works, will still remain in the employ of the new company.

Doubtless a little history of the organization will be of interest to our readers. In 1875 Thomas R. Hubbard, together with his two brothers, John E. and Wm. L. Hubbard came to Chestertown and purchased a location on Chester river of George B. Westcott and there erected a fertilizer plant, the other factory was at Wyoming, Del. Thomas R. Hubbard remained here and prosecuted this business and his two brothers ran the Delaware factory and the original name of the firm was Hubbard Bros.

In the course of a few years, Thos. R. Hubbard bought his brother's Chestertown interests and gave his son, Wilbur W. Hubbard, an interest with him and the business was prosecuted for a number of years, in fact until December 1896, when Wilbur W. Hubbard purchased his father's entire interest in the business, factory, machinery, wharves, warehouses, office and everything appertaining, including good will and brands and continued the business as sole proprietor until now, when he sold out to the Peerless Fertilizer Co.

We wish the new enterprise the best of success, because it has been of great advantage to our community, having paid out annually a good many thousand dollars in the way of labor by employment of its help and other expenses, and we are glad to know that the said business will be better equipped than ever to supply the farmers with fertilizers of all kinds.

BEGS TO ANNOUNCE THAT

beginning Monday, December 14th, the Latest Designs and Models of

will be ready for inspection in the store of H. F. JEFFERSON, Chestertown, and the people of Chestertown and vicinity are cordially invited to visit the display, whether they are interested in buying or not. Our sale will last ten days.

A PIANO WOULD MAKE AN

and a selection made at our exhibit would never be regretted. These Pianos are direct from the factory, and unsurpassed in tone quality, and all other characteristics that go to make up a thoroughly high-grade Piano; and while we appreciate the fact that the Stieff Piano has been known on the Peninsula for more than a half century, we are anxious to show the people of this town the latest production of our factory, and give them the same advantage in buying that they could get if they were to purchase of us in Baltimore, and we hope they will appreciate our interest by visiting our display during this special sale.

With the view of meeting the purses of everyone in Chestertown, we have several other makes of Pianos on exhibit, a little less expensive than the Stieff, but usually good values for the money. Mr. Jessup will also have access to a number of slightly used Pianos of various makes, which have been taken in exchange on new Pianos and rebuilt in our factory. We can offer some extraordinary bargains in these rebuilt Pianos.

Remember, that all the Pianos we sell are guaranteed by us, and one reason for our success is that we live up to our guarantee. Our representatives are reliable and will tell you exactly what you are getting in an instrument.
