THE Democrats will have a majority of 63 in the next House, and Champ Clark will be elected Speaker.

GOVERNOR CROTHERS on Monday appointed Hope H. Barroll, Esq., one of the delegates to the International Peace Congress which meets in Washington, D. C., shortly. Cardinal Gibbons is also a member of the delegation.

THE suggestion of the Baltimore Sun of a conference of the leading Democrats of the country to agree upon a national policy is a good one, and there is no better city in the Union to hold such a conference than Baltimore. The Democrats must sacrifice personal preferment now to party loyalty, if they would win the presidential campaign of 1912.

AN interesting correspondence between Chief Judge Pearce and the Board of County Commissioners relative to suggested improvements to the court house is published in another column. This correspondence grew out of the charge of the court to the grand jury at the recent term of court. Judge Pearce's reply to the letter of the commissioners is extremely interesting.

THE Board of Public Works on Tuesday unanimously appointed Mr. Emerson C. Harrington, of Dorchester county, State Insurance Commissioner to succeed the late Benjamin F. Crouse. There were eight applicants for the job, including one from Kent county, but Mr. Harrington was the only one seriously considered. He will make a good man for the place.

A PROMINENT business man who has occasion to transact considerable business in the commissioners' office, paid Mr. Samuel Hicks, the clerk, a great compliment the other day. He stated that so far as his experience goes, the affairs of the commissioners' officer are in better condition to-day than they have been for years. This gentleman is a Republican, but a business man of good judgment, and his opinion simply confirms the confidence which the commissioners had in Mr. Hicks' ability when they appointed him their clerk.

THE auditing committee finished its labors on Tuesday of last week after the commissioners adjourned, consequently their report could not be acted upon by the commissioners until Tuesday last. The committee was in session thirteen days, the shortest time since the institution of the committee. They have not only done their work quickly and well, but they have saved the county money, for which they are to be highly commended. At the same time the quickness with which the work was done is due in a very large measure to the excellent shape in which Mr. Samuel Hicks, clerk to the Board of Commissioners, is keeping the accounts of that office. The report of the committee will be found on page 2.

THERE is no better location or a more suitable building for an Emergency Hospital in Chestertown than the old Custom House, now in course of improvement by its owner, Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard. Mr. Hubbard is one of the most public spirited men in Chestertown and we feel quite sure that he would gladly aid any movement that would secure such an urgent need for our town and county. Why should Chestertown be behind Centreville or any other town in such a benevolent and beneficial movement! Every town of large population on the Eastern Shore except Chestertown has an Emergency Hospital, and are we to be behind the times always? Three cases were taken to Baltimore for treatment this week, that could have been treated at much less expense and inconvenience to the families, if there had been a hospital at Chestertown. Think on these things.

Big Corn Yields.

Judging from reports which have reached our office during the week, the corn crop in this section will be a fine one. Here are two yields that are corkers for this season: Mr. William A. Bell has sold 300 bushels of good corn which he husked from four acres. The entire yield from these acres was 330 bushels. One acre grew him 110 bushels. Who can beat that?

Mr. Edward Robinson got a yield of 1100 bushels from 20 acres, an average of 55 bushels per acre. Those who saw Mr. Robinson's crop when growing predicted a fine yield.

The corn crop throughout the United States this year is estimated at three billion bushels. This means cheaper pork and meat.

—The eclipse of the moon on Wednesday evening was obscured from view by clouds. It began at 5.55 and continued until 8.30 o'clock.

JUDGE PEARCE AND THE CO. COMMISSIONERS

In Interesting Correspondence Relative to Improvements to the Court House.

In his charge to the grand jury at the recent October term of court Chief Judge James Alfred Pearce strongly recommended to the jury certain improvements to the court house. In delivering his charge, the judge made the following statement in substantiation of the extra expense to be incurred in the improvement:

"I am not unmindful of the heavy tax rate now laid upon the people, and I regret the necessity for this as sincerely and as deeply as any one can. But the extraordinary rate for the present year, we are assured by the commissioners, will not be required next year, and should not much, if any, exceed one-half the county rate for this year. No parsimony, and no mere consideration of economy should stand in the way of remedying the conditions to which I have referred."

The recommendation of the court was indorsed by the grand jury, and the matter in type-written form was passed up to the Board of Commissioners for action. Three members of the board took exception to the judge's reference to the tax rate for next year, and addressed him the following letter:

HON. JAMES A. PEARCE, CHESTERTOWN, MD., DEAR SIR:—A copy of your charge to the Grand Jury has been handed to the commissioners of Kent county and in it is the following statement:—

"But the extraordinary rate for the present year, we are assured by the commissioners, will not be required next year and should not much, if any, exceed one-half the county rate this year."

The undersigned commissioners have never made the statement to any one that the tax rate for the ensuing year "should not much, if any, exceed one-half the county rate for this year." We are satisfied that the county tax rate for next year will be considerably more than half the county tax rate of this year, which is $1.85. It will be impossible to run the county with the large fixed charges against it for anything like a tax rate of 92½ cents.

While we do not think that next year there will be anything like the large expenditures made in years past, and while we are determined in every possible way by a conservative and proper management to reduce the rate to the lowest possible sum, it is easy for us to see that the expense of the present assessment, the large sums not included in the present unprecedented levy, for which the preceding Board issued certificates, the existence of which were unknown to us when we struck the levy for the present year, the additional cost of proper and necessary repairs to the Court House would make the rate largely exceed $1.15.

We deem it proper to place these facts before you, since we feel that if we have been quoted as expressing the opinion stated by you in your charge, we have been misrepresented, and should be placed in a proper light.

We shall give the subject our earnest and careful consideration and we hope the condition of the county's finances will enable us to make such repairs as will meet with the hearty approval and endorsement of the tax-payers.

Very respectfully yours,
HARRY DAVIS,
CHAS. D. WOOD,
T. BENJ. CREW,
Commissioners.

Judge Pearce replied to this letter of the commissioners in the following interesting and convincing manner:

TO THE HONORABLE, THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF KENT COUNTY.

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of Oct. 26, postmarked Nov. 2, was received on Saturday on my return from Annapolis. In stating in my charge to the grand jury that we were assured by the Commissioners that the extraordinary rate for the present year would not be required for the next year, I did not mean to speak of any personal assurance for I had none—but I referred to what I think was the universal understanding when the rate was fixed, viz:—that the Board had determined (wisely, as I thought, and still think) to levy at once a sufficient rate to pay all outstanding indebtedness, exclusive of bonded indebtedness, instead of distributing that rate through several years. The other part of the passage which you quote from my charge was merely a general expression of my own rough estimate as to the necessary rate for another year, based upon the supposition that the present levy as generally understood covered all floating indebtedness as indicated above. I now understand from your letter that your purpose at the time of laying the levy, was as stated above, but that there have since been discovered other large sums for which the preceding Board had issued certificates, the existence of which was unknown to you and which must be provided for in the next levy. I was not aware of this further indebtedness and do not know when it was discovered, but it will be a matter of general regret that such is the situation.

My only purpose in my communication to you was to convey to you in your official capacity my opinion of the importance of prompt steps for the preservation of the records in the clerk's office, as I had expressed it to the citizens of the county through the usual medium of the grand, jury invoking their examination and recommendation to your body. You are the judges of what should be done in that direction and I do not doubt that your action will be such as you deem under all circumstances to be proper. I felt in view of my connection with the court, that it was my duty to express to you the opinion I entertain, but your judgment is controlling. I recognize the responsibilities placed upon you in a most important office and I have no wish or purpose to criticise because of difference of opinion.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES A. PEARCE.

The commissioners replied to Judge Pearce's letter on Tuesday as follows:

HON. JAMES A. PEARCE, CHESTERTOWN, MD., DEAR SIR:—Your letter of Nov. 7th is received. We felt satisfied when the situation was explained to you that you would understand the difficulty which confronts this Board. We are glad that you approve of our conduct in the disposition of the indebtedness which we found against the county at the time we struck the levy.

In taking up the repairs to the Court House and vaults, we sincerely hope that the repairs can be arranged for, so that the rate of taxation may not be too greatly increased. We shall be glad to have and request your criticism and approval of the changes before any definite plan is determined upon.

Yours respectfully,
HARRY DAVIS,
CHAS. D. WOOD,
T. BENJ. CREW.

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

DRAYTON—ELIASON.

The wedding of Miss Irma Briscoe Eliason to Mr. Charles de Vere Drayton, of Washington, D. C., was solemnized in the Chestertown M. E. Church on Saturday last at noon. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Rebecca Brown Eliason, of Chestertown, and Miss Kate Weaver, of Philadelphia. The groom was attended by Mr. Ashby Wallace, of Wayne, Pa., and the following ushers: Mr. Wilbur Eliason, Jr., of Chestertown, Dr. E. L. Eliason, of Philadeiphia, Mr. Hudson Salle, of Newport News, Va., and Mr. Robert Hudson, of Washington, D. C. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Thomas W. Eliason, Jr. Prof. Wallace, a friend of the groom, sang an impressive solo during the ceremony, and Miss Mabel Toulson rendered the wedding march. The church was beautifully trimmed and lighted by electric lights and numerous candles in the chancel and pulpit.

The bride wore an Empire gown, with court train, of chiffon satin, trimmed with rose point and embroidered with pearls, with tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley. The bridesmaids were gowned in white messaline, with chiffon tunic edged with gold lace, wore black velvet Gainsborough hats and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. The groom and attending gentlemen were attired in the conventional frock suits.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the brides parents, to the families and a few friends, in charge of a caterer. They left by special pullman car attached to the afternoon train for an extended wedding tour after which they will reside at the Apartment Mendota, Washington. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Wallace, of Wayne, Pa.; Mrs. Robert Howard, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bodine, Germantown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Hillier, Miss Hillier and Mrs. Hillier, of Washington, D. C.; Judge Thomas Ireland Eliott and wife, of Baltimore; Mr. Blair, of Baltimore; Dr. Roy Adams, of Philadelphia.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many handsome and valuable presents including a handsome silver service, rare silver, fine cut glass and china, brass ornaments and fancy embroidery.

Mr. Perry Price Wins His Suit

The case of Jesse H. Usilton against J. Perry Price and Mrs. Elmina Price, his wife, was tried in Centreville on Tuesday and Wednesday last. Mr. Usilton sued Mr. and Mrs. Price for pond or water rent, claiming that his grandfather, the late Richard Smyth, in 1845 gave William Bacchus a license to back water on the Smyth land upon the payment of $14.00 or $16.00 annually. Mr. Price claimed that this, if it ever existed, was a rent charge which had been created by some deed which had not been recorded and the original had been lost. That as the suit was one of trespass Mr. Usilton could not maintain it upon the theory that trespass could only be brought by one who had actual possession of the land. That Mr. Usilton did not have the actual possession, he being the landlord and the defendants were his tenants, admitting his claim to be correct. After evidence was all in, a prayer was offered to take the case from the jury. This prayer was granted, and Mr. Usilton took a non pros, which entitles him to bring a new suit. The court announced that Mr. Usilton, under the evidence as presented in the case, would be entitled to an annual rent, but could not collect it in such action as he had brought. The case occupied two days and two nights and a large number of witnesses were present from Kent county. This is the second time non pros has been taken in the case by Mr. Usilton, a previous one having been taken in Kent county when the action was against Mr. Price alone. Lewin W. Wickes, R. Groome Parks and Frank H. Harper, Esqs., represented Mr. Usilton and Hope H. Barroll and Thomas J. Keating, Esqs., Mr. and Mrs. Price.
