OLD TRANSCRIPT BUILDING

Rock Hall Items.

Mrs. S. B. Maslin entertained on the night of the 20th Mrs. Blanstein, Misses Edna, Ruth and Etta Durding and Helen Kerr at an old hen party. A very enjoyable evening was spent. The only thing that was missing were the stags to make the party complete.

The great Dixie Minstrels showed to a packed house last Wednesday night in the Junior's new hall. This is the best minstrel that has been in town, and we have had three. The boys should have credit for the interest shown and the selection of parts, which cannot be beaten. They expect to show in Chestertown in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Northrope, of the M. E. Church, will go to St. Micheal's, Talbot county, for the coming conference year. The M. E church property in St. Micheal's is among the most valuable in the Wilmington district, being valued at $26,500—church valued at $24,000 and parsonage at $2,500. It also has one of the largest Sunday Schools in the district. The people here regret very much that Mr. and Mrs. Northrup are to leave and wish him many successful years like the past one he spent as pastor of this the Rock Hall church.

Mr. Joseph Kendall, who has been sick for several weeks past, died at his home last Tuesday night

Last Wednesday a very painful if not serious accident occurred at the shop of Thos. E. Joiner when Capt. Frank Marine was soldering a nipple on a gasoline tank. It exploded, cutting his wrist and hitting Elmer Jones on the leg, inflicting a very bad bruise. There must have been some gasoline vapor in the tank which caused the explosion.

Clarence Thompson, the popular shoe man, has had a show window built on to his store, and has also put in an extensive line of spring goods.

Mr. Bond, a lawyer from Baltimore, who has been boarding at the Chesapeake house for several months, has rented the house lately sold by Mr. Downey to a party in Baltimore and will move his family over for the summer.

A little reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander at the home of the groom's parents on Main street last Thursday. They returned that day from their honeymoon.

Millington Items.

Miss Vic Power, who has been with her niece, Mrs. Edw. Gillespie, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Edw. Gillespie is quite ill at her home near Sudlersville.

We regret that Rev. and Mrs. Jaggard are to be sent elsewhere.

Mrs. Chas. Hurtt spent part of last week at conference.

Mrs. Taylor is with her mother, who is ill.

Mr. Chas. Bradley's condition is much improved.

All the talk is the new school house we are to have and the new road:

The new "Hub" building is nearly completed.

Miss Eva Comegys is home on a visit.

Mrs. Geo. Jones is still ill at her home near town.

Mr. Edward Hurlock is improving his property on Cypress street.
