The Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN:

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 15, 1865.

DENTON.

The inhabitants of Denton have suffered very severely from an extensive fire which occurred on the 4th. The business part of the town, with the only hotel, have been destroyed, and a number are houseless and almost penniless. Their condition appeals to our best and most generous sympathies. Let our people, who are more favored, and have been kindly protected from a similar calamity, extend all the aid in their power to the sufferers at Denton. Subscription papers will be found at the Clerk's office and at Mr. John L. Stam's drug store, where our readers are invited to call and contribute.

THE LATE SENATOR HICKS.—The Legislature at its recent session passed an act appropriating $5,000 to be expended by a committee to be appointed by the Governor, for the purpose of procuring a full length portrait of the late Senator Thomas Holiday Hicks, to be placed in the Executive Chamber at Annapolis, and also for the erection of a suitable monument over his remains. Governor Bradford has appointed Hon. John M. Frazier, Speaker of the House of Delegates, Hon. Grayson Eichelberger, of Frederick county, and Hon. Thomas King Carroll, of Dorchester county, all personal friends of the deceased, as the committee.

FLAG PRESENTATION.—Capt. J. F. Taylor, steamer Isadore, was on Thursday last the recipient of a new and beautiful national flag, from a number of his friends in Queen Anne's county. The presentation was made on board the steamer, accompanied with a short address by Mr. John Harman, and a letter, in which it was stated that the flag was "designed as a slight token of the appreciation of that courtesy and urbanity that has ever characterized the Captain's deportment since he first assumed command of the 'People's Line' on the Chester and its tributaries." The sentiment was appropriately responded to by Captain Taylor, and the whole affair passed off very pleasantly.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of Mr. Chas. Tilden, at Still Pond Cross Roads, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning last, together with a considerable portion of his furniture. On awaking about five o'clock Mr. T. found the house on fire, and but little opportunity was afforded for saving the contents. The loss is estimated at about $1,800,—on which there was a policy of insurance on the house for $900 in the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Kent county. The origin of the fire is unknown.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—James Satterfield, employed at Sharp's steam saw mill, at Rock Hall, in this county, had a leg cut off above the knee by falling against one of the saws, on Monday morning last.—After dressing the limb by Dr. Fisher, who was soon in attendance, the unfortunate man was put on board a sail vessel and taken to Baltimore, in hope that superior surgical skill might save his life, but he died soon after reaching the city on Tuesday morning. The deceased was about 25 years of age, married, and leaves one child.

HITCHING.—The frequent hitching of horses in Court street, inclosing the Court House square, has so much injured the fence that the County Commissioners have been under the necessity of having it repaired. A new rack has also been erected, and there are now two racks for public use, besides numerous others before stores in Chestertown. All persons are notified not to hitch horses to any part of the fence around the public grounds, and the bailiffs, constables, and officers about the Court House are requested to report all who may do so, to the Clerk of the County Commissioners.

CHESTER CEMETERY.—We have heard that some persons have removed or destroyed flowers and bushes placed near the graves in the Cemetery near this town.—Such conduct is indictable as a criminal offence, and punishable by fine and imprisonment. Any information on this subject left with the Secretary, John L. Stam, Esq., will be brought to the notice of the Directors, and steps be taken to have proper arrests made and parties bound over. The law applies to boys as well as other persons.

COUNTY BOUNTY BONDS.—The attention of gentlemen who disposed of these bonds is invited to the notice of the County Commissioners, requesting them to make a return, on Monday next, of the number sold.

CAMP MEETING.—We are requested to state that there will be a meeting of the managers and committees on the old camp ground (Baker's woods) on the 19th inst., the object of which will be to locate and prepare the ground, and make all arrangements necessary to holding the camp-meeting. Those persons desiring to tent, and all others interested, should be present at 8 o'clock A. M.

LOST AN ARM.—Peter Tilghman, a colored man, employed on the farm of Mr. William Lamb, in Quaker Neck, had his left arm so much injured by being caught in a threshing machine, on Monday last, as to render amputation necessary. He was brought to town, and the operation skilfully performed by Drs. Houston and Meeteer, at Mr. Stam's drug store.

Persons engaged in threshing should use every precaution against accident.—Scarcely a season passes without the loss of life or limb, resulting in most instances from carelessness.

EXCURSION TO RICHMOND.—The steamer George Law has been chartered for an Excursion from Chester River to Richmond, on Tuesday next, leaving Crumpton at 11 o'clock, A. M., and touching at the wharves below at the hours named in the advertisement.

THE FIRE AT DENTON.

We find in the Denton Journal the following particulars of the disastrous fire which occurred in that town on the night of the 4th instant:

The fire originated in the attic of a house owned by Mrs. Evitts and kept as a restaurant by an agent of T. T. Martin, Esq. Every exertion was put forth to extinguish the fire, but without success, and the fierce destroyer soon spread with unrestrained haste. On the east side of the restaurant was a frame dwelling house, owned also by Mrs. Evitts. This was the only house burned on the east side of the house in which the fire originated. On the west side of the burning house, and separated from it by a space of only eight or ten inches, was a frame store-house belonging to John R. Fountain; next to this store was the dwelling-house belonging to Thos F. Geary, Esq., attached to which was a store-house, neither of these were occupied. Next was the dwelling-house of Mr. H. Blackiston, attached to which was a store-house, jointly occupied by Mr. Blackiston and Jas. K. Saulsbury, Esq. Next was the dwelling-house of Alex. Stewart, Esq., and in close proximity was the drug store of Mr. Stewart; next the shoe shop of Mr. Lednum; next the millinery shop of the Misses Fountain & Raynor, and next the drug store of Dr. H. C. Kemp, which was the last house burned on the south side of the street. A granary belonging to the Messrs. Fisher, in the rear of Dr. Kemp's store, was also burned. The store of the Messrs. Fisher, which was only separated from the store of Dr. Kemp by a twelve foot alley, was saved by knocking out the end and keeping the roof covered with blankets saturated with water. On this, the south side of the street, were burned four dwelling-houses and eight places of business. At the time the fire broke out there was very little wind; what there was was from the south, blowing directly across the street. As the fire progressed, the wind rose, and driving the flames and heat from the burning houses on the south side of the street straight across, soon ignited the hotel, the store of Messrs. Chilton & Liden, the postoffice, the barber shop, the millinery shop of Mrs. Alex. Glanden, and the shoe shop of Mr. Roshy.

Much of the property in all the burnt buildings was saved in a damaged condition, and a considerable portion of the loss was covered by insurance.

RADICAL ADDRESS ON NEGRO SUFFRAGE.—An address has been issued from Boston to the people of the United States taking ground against the policy of President Johnson in regard to the reconstruction of the States of the South, and especially in that particular which accords to the people of the South the Constitutional right to establish rules to regulate the question of suffrage. The address was drawn up by a committee at the head of which were Richard H. Dana, Jr., Theophilus Parsons and Chas. G. Loring.

CLAIM AGENCY.—The United States Sanitary Commission, desiring to relieve soldiers, sailors, and their families from the heavy expenses usually paid for the prosecution of such claims, have established an Agency in this city to collect pensions, bounties and other claims against the Government, without charge. Levi C. Bird, Esq., has been appointed agent for this city.—His office is at the N. E. corner of Sixth and King streets. This will be a great accommodation to the soldiers and their families.—Wash. Rep.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAH.—The process of laying the cable for the Atlantic Telegraph, which is to connect the old world with the new, commenced on Monday last, the 10th instant, as we learn by the latest foreign advices. The cable was already stowed away on board the Great Eastern on the 24th of June. It is to be laid from Valentia, on the West coast of Ireland, to Heart's Content, Trinity Bay, New Foundland, so that the ends on both sides of the ocean will rest on British soil. So sanguine are the projectors of the line, and such have been the care and pains taken in making the arrangements, that the whole work is expected to be finished, ready for the transmission of messages, by the 24th of the present month. From the terminal points on either side, telegraphic communication is already provided to the populous districts of the world.

The health of Jeff. Davis is represented as better now than at any time during his incarceration.

THE NEWS.

General Wallace has issued an order removing the restrictions upon the purchase and sale of gunpowder in the Middle Department.

A Washington despatch says that now that the conspiracy trials are over there will be some definite action concerning Jeff. Davis. If it shall be determined to try him for treason, it will be done by a civil tribunal, but from the present indication he will be tried before a military court as the leader or instigator of the conspiracy, it being asserted that additional evidence has been found against him in that connection.

Hon. Montgomery Blair delivered an address before the returned soldiers and citizens of Western Maryland at Hagerstown on Wednesday. After adverting to the close of the Rebellion and the heroism and fortitude exhibited by our soldiers, Mr. Blair directed the principal portion of his remarks to the Mexican question, forcibly and earnestly urging the assertion of the Monroe doctrine, and criticising very freely the course of the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War in relation to the subject.

Ex-Governor Letcher, of Virginia, was on Monday released from the Old Capitol on condition that he should go immediately to his home, and give his parole to remain there subject to the order of President Johnson.

The Washington Republican pronounces the story that Payne before his execution exonerated Mrs. Surratt from all knowledge of or complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln, to be "without the slightest foundation in truth."

Over one hundred and fifty Brigadier and Major Generals who have occupied easy positions in Northern cities will shortly be mustered out, and officers who have distinguished themselves in active service be substituted.

The Democratic Central Committee of Brooklyn and the Republican Central Committee of New York have both indorsed President Johnson's policy of reconstruction.

Secretary Seward is quite restored to health, the splint having by order of his surgeons been removed from his face, leaving very sligh traces of the original accident and the subsequent assault.

Geo. F. Robinson, the Maine soldier, who saved the life of Secretary Seward, has been given a clerkship worth $1,200 a year.

General Hooker will assume command at New York on Monday next.

VIEWS OF GEN. SICKLES.

On the 4th of July, Major General Daniel E. Sickles, who served with distinction during the late civil war, made a speech, in which he remarked:

Those of us who were in the army, who have met our enemies in the field, can respect them, because we know them to be brave. [Applause and cheers. 'That's so,' and cries of 'good.'] False to their flag? Yes. Disloyal to their country? Yes. Betrayed into those dark crimes by base politicians? Yes. But brave and generous foes we have ever found them. We have confronted them in the field. Then let us imitate this bright example and accord mercy to those who have been so lately our adversaries, following the example of the lamented Lincoln, and the example still more recently of our General-in-Chief Grant—[applause]—who, in his conquest of Virginia and in his defeat of Lee, added yet a brighter chaplet to his crown of honor, by proving himself to be a knight of the olden days and of the best school in generosity, proffering to the conquered terms which could be promptly met by a gentleman and Christian.

If those who have served their country in the field can sincerely look with these sentiments upon those with whom they have been so lately engaged in battle, then, I think that the civilians throughout the land—especially the politicians, who have done so much to get us into this war—can do so. [Applause.] If they will lay aside something of their radicalism, something of their extravagant pretensions, and after four years and a-half of discord and a nation's conflict, permit the return of our erring brethren once more, upon terms of concord and affectionate amity, no more political differences need keep us asunder. The South accepts her fate. She acknowledges the abolition of slavery. She accepts future loyalty to the Union. She abandons the dogma of separate State sovereignty and the right of secession. She acknowledges and recognizes that this land and this Union is ours, through all time, is and must ever be united. In that faith let us receive the South. Let bygones be bygones; and while we pronounce the doom of an unforgiven traitor upon him who breaks the peace, let us pass over the errors and even the crimes of those who have paid dearly for the terrible wrongs and sufferings which they have brought upon their own section of country. [Applause.]

MARYLAND DEAD AT DANVILLE.—A letter from Danville, Va., gives the names of the Marylanders who died in the rebel prison at that place: J. Maloney, K, 1st Maryland, Nov. 27; J. Fiery, E, 2d Maryland, Nov. 16; C. Bronswell, B, 2d Maryland, Nov. 17; F. Strand, E, 2d Maryland, Nov. 11; C. Attick, K, 1st Maryland, Oct. 27; J. Hulett, C, 2d Maryland, Sept. 29; G. Creek, K, 1st Maryland, Dec. 2; J. Davis, G, 1st Maryland, Dec. 2; D. Jenkins, G, 1st Maryland, Dec. 4; R. Inger (or —— Ringer), K, 3d Maryland, Dec. 4; A. Lecompt, F, 2d Maryland, Dec. 11; C. Henson, A, 2d Maryland, Dec. 19; S. D. Thomas, H, 1st Maryland, Dec. 24.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA.—It is stated that Judge Marvin, of Florida, has been appointed Provisional Governor of that State. Judge Marvin was a Union refugee from Florida, and has been spending some time in the city of New York.

☞ As the season for fall seeding approaches, Farmers will naturally turn their attention to the subject of Fertilizers. At present, the market is largely stocked with Super Phosphates and Guanos of various kinds, and it is of vital importance to the agricultural community to select such Fertilizers as will increase the fertility of their farms, while they secure the largest present growth of crops. One of the most popular of these in this State is "BAUGH'S RAW-BONE PHOSPHATE," a manure which has been thoroughly tested for several years past, and can be safely recommended to all who desire a reliable Fertilizer.

We call special attention to the advertisement in another column, of Mr. Dugdale, the agent in Baltimore, upon whom our agricultural friends should call.

LARGE SALE OF HORSES.—Messrs. Leary & Thomas will sell (to close a partnership,) at Benjamin's stables in Chestertown, on Saturday next, some thirty head of Horses, Mares and Colts.

All the Rebel prisoners except the sick have now been discharged.
