Kennedyville Items.

On Wednesday afternoon we had a heavy downpour of rain which did considerable damage to the roads, washing out bridges. The Urieville mill dam was again washed out. Mr. Wm. Kendall attended the sale of W. S. Hurlock, the storm came before he left, and during the storm his horse was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

One of the best yields of wheat we have heard of this season was on the Haman farm, tenanted by W. T. Jones; two thousand bushels on eighty acres, an average of twenty-five bushels to the acre.

The Pomona Grange held its meeting on the shady and refreshing lawn of Mr. E. T. Ohtoson on Thursday of last week. There was a good attendance from the different granges, and when they all met together, there was a large and happy attendance. The speakers were very interesting, the reciters were equally so, and the musical programme—well, well, we thought of course it was good, but sometimes we are poor judges and we leave it to the audience which we hope enjoyed it. But we have not forgot that dinner. My, but it was good times with everybody just a sitting there eating good grub in the cool breeze of those shady trees. We don't know as much about farming as we would like to know, but the Pomona Grange certainly can give a meal that is a meal; and we believe his excellency, the governor, when he attends the picnic next week would perfer to be one of the picnicers rather than have an extra table for him and his company.
