Is Your Purse Full?

YOUR farm is the purse from which you take the necessities and luxuries of life. What provision are you making to keep your purse full—to insure a constant supply of food, clothing, heat, light, and protection?

No soil can produce constant yearly crops without an adequate supply of plant food. It is easier, and far cheaper, to maintain a fertile condition of the soil than it is to build it up after it is once exhausted. Be wise—begin now to use faithfully an

IHC Manure Spreader

MARYLAND'S CHANCE

To Win Another World's Prize for the Best Exhibit of Farm Products at the New York Show.

The Sunday Sun contained a protrait of the late William F. Gale, of Kent county, winner of the Paris medals in 1900 for the best exhibit of Indian corn, also cuts of the medals, the corn, a wheat field on the 400-acre farm of J. H. Gale, of this county, and a portrait of Miss Elma Gale. The following interesting bit of Kent county farm history is contained in the article:

A Maryland man conferred distinction upon American agriculture by winning the gold medal for the finest exhibit of corn at the Paris Exposition of 1900. Why should not this State capture the first prize for corn at the coming New York Land Show? Why should not Maryland carry off the $750 solid silver loving cup awarded by the Coe-Mortimer Company for the best apples grown in the Eastern and Atlantic Seaboard States, the $1,000 in prizes offered for the best potatoes and a magnificent silver cup for the best sweet potatoes, the $100 silver cnp for the best dozen white eggs and a similar prize for the best dozen buff eggs and the solid silver cup the New York Land Show offers for the best commercial exhibit of Havana seed tobacco grown in the open and cured on the stalk in the season of 1912?

At any rate, Governor Goldsborough wants Marylanders to try, and he has already appointed on the commission to arrange a creditable exhibition for this State the followiag: George Blackiston, of Baltimore; Dr. R. S. Hill, of Prince George's county; Frederick Mertens, of Alleghaney county; William Rennahan, of St. Mary's county, and ex-Senator T. C. Gary, of Charles. Other appointments are to be made.

WHEN A MARYLANDER TOOK THE PRIZE

Since Maryland won the first prize for corn, the gold medal at the Paris Exposition in 1900, it is hoped that Maryland may also win the prize for corn at the Land Show. It may not be generally known at the various expositions that the corn gold medal was awarded to Mr. James H. Gale, of Kent county, Maryland. This medal now is in possession of his nephew, Mr. William T. Gale, given him by Miss Elma Gale, daughter of the winner, and the medal is naturally very highly prized. The same field that produced the prize-winning corn in Kent county is planted with corn again this year, and it may become a competitor for the magnificent sweepstake corn prize at the exposition. All of the corn from which the prize corn was selected in 1900 was sold at $5 a bushel for seed.

The $1,000 prize awarded by the New York Land Show last year for the best corn grown in America was won by Virginia, and the prize-winning corn was sold at $10 an ear. The $1,000 in gold awarded by the show last year for the best wheat grown in America was won by Canada, and all of the wheat in that field sold at $8 per bushel for seed.

Maryland's exhibit should plant seed in fertile soil, for New York directs the immigrant farmers from Europe and provides millions of dollars to develop various sections of the country. Four hundred thousand farmers, among its million immigrants, annualy enter the port of New York and furnish labor and farmers for the entire nation.

It is declared by those interested that there has never been a time in the history of America when Maryland could so advantageously, easily and economically make an ocular demonstration of her soil products, newer and richer opportunities, as this fall at the exposition. There are hundreds of thousands more peasant farmers from the Old World, as well as Eastern farmers, all seeking new locations and opportunities for their sons. Nowhere else could more farmers, laborers or capital be secured and nowhere else would our publicity and promotion work reach more people who are all unadvised, uninformed and awaiting direction.

It is estimated that a creditable exhibit could be made for $5,000. Half that amount has been secured, leaving only a balance of $2,500 to be provided for by private subscriptions throughout the State and contributions are being received by F. De Sales Mudd, chairman, Hoffman Building, 11 East Lexington street, Baltimore.

DEFINITION OF A BOSS.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson in addressing a number of Princetonians the other day gave the following significant definition of a political Boss. He said:

"The boss merely as a political organizer is not dangerous; merely as a manager who commands the organization and gets out the vote on polling day he is not to be feared, and he is an almost necessary instrument of politics, but the man we call boss is the agent of those who wish to control poilitics as their own interest.

"I have known some of these gentlemen personally and I know exactly how they work. They haven't any politics at all. That is the point, and there is no difference between a Democratic boss and a Republican boss, because neither of them is working for his party. They are both working for their clients. And their clients wish to see that men do not get into office who thwart them and that laws are not passed that embarrass their business."
