The Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN:

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21, 1865.

THE NEWS.

Lieut. General Grant has issued an important order, which will very speedily muster out of service nearly all the volunteer army. He has assigned the artillery for the most part to the forts of the Northern States; the forts of the Southern seaboard, with a few exceptions, are to be in charge of colored troops. All the volunteer cavalry east of the Mississippi goes out of service forthwith. Other reductions are in progress, and it will not be many weeks before we shall be reduced almost entirely down to the regular army.

A delegation of the South Carolina Convention had an audience with President Johnson on Friday of last week. They presented a memorial, adopted by the Convention, asking for the pardon of Jeff. Davis, and Governor Magrath, of S. C., or that the latter be released on parole.—During the course of the interview the President said that all could not be pardoned at once, and that he wanted to do what was best and just, and to show a proper degree of humanity on the part of the Government. The delegation replied that they did not design to say anything with reference to Governor Magrath, farther than that they believed much good would result from his release, and thanked the President for the release of Messrs. Stephens and Trenholm. The President further said that if treason had been committed, there ought to be some test to determine the power of the Government to punish the crime. As the laws had been violated, there should be a vindication of the Government and the Constitution, even if the pardoning power were exercised thereafter. "If treason has been committed," said he, "it ought to be determined by the highest tribunal, even if clemency should come afterwards." He also said that "while there was a public sympathy, there was a public judgment, which must be met; but I assure you, gentlemen, no disposition exists for persecution or a thirst for blood." The committee expressed the confidence of their people in the President, stating that they believed he had stood between them and a harsh use of the powers of the Government. President Johnson said that whenever mutual confidence existed, there would, he thought, be restoration of harmony and good feeling, and was glad to hear their expressions looking to that end. He had himself no personal ambition to gratify, and if he could be instrumental in restoring the Government to its former relations, and see the people once more united and happy, he should feel that he had more than filled the measure of his ambition.

The English Government seems to become more and more frightened in regard to the supposed movements of the Fenians. A number of detectives, from London arrived in the last steamer at New York, with special instructions, it is understood, to keep an eye on the Feuians, and inform the English Government from time to time of whatever facts may come to their knowledge in regard to them.

Alexander H. Stephens was entertained at a private dinner in Boston on Monday. Mr. Stephens expressed his purpose to support the policy of President Johnson for the reconstruction of the Union to the full extent of his ability and influence.

It is said that the Rebel officers from this country now in Mexico have refused to comply with a request of Maximilian's Secretary of War that they should join his army, adding that hereafter they could fight under no flag but that of the United States.

Gayle, the author of the advertisement soliciting contributions, with which to procure the assassination of President Lincoln, and whose arrest was noticed some time since, has been turned over to a civil court for trial.

In all cases where parties receive pardon they have "restoration of all rights of property, except as to slaves, and except in cases where legal proceedings, under the laws of the United States providing for the confiscation of property of persons engaged in rebellion, have been instituted," according to the terms of the proclamation of the 29th May last.

Alex. H. Stephens and John H. Reagan were in New York on Tuesday. The papers of that city say that Mr. Stephens was to start for Georgia yesterday, and that in a few days Mr. Reagan would visit Washington.

The Fenian Congress assembled at Philadelphia on Monday. Six hundred delegates were present. The sessions are held in secret.

The radical wing of the Republican party in New York have issned a manifesto against the President and the Republican State ticket.

Civil law is expected to be re-established in Richmond in a few days. Swedes and Danes are rapidly arriving in Virginia and find employment as farm laborers.

In a few days General Grant will issue an order mustering out 100 general officers and their staffs.

The tomb of Daniel Webster has lately been opened and the remains found in perfect preservation.

Efforts are b ing made to have John Mitchell released from Fortress Monroe.

PARTRIDGE SHOOTING.—The prohibitory period for shooting partridges in this State expired by law yesterday, the 20th. We hear that some persons, not having the fear of the law before their eyes, have been killing these birds for several weeks past; to all such we wish poor luck during the gunning season. Judging from the number of "notices to gunners," we should infer that the field of sportsmen this year would be rather circumscribed. Some, however, extend an invitation to gunners, and one gentleman, residing near Massey's Cross Roads, is quite extensive in this line—his card "covering the whole ground!"

RAILROAD MEETING.—The railroad meeting at the Court House on Wednesday afternoon was very respectably attended. Some nineteen thousand dollars of subscriptions to stock were reported as having been obtained since the meeting at Kennedyville a few weeks since, leaving about twenty-three thousand dollars yet to be secured. Another meeting will be held at Galena on the 11th of November, when it is hoped the amount still needed will be taken.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The October term of the Circuit Court for Kent county began on Monday last. Present: Hon. John M. Robinson, Judge; Wm. S. Lassell, Esq., State's Attorney; Jesse K. Hines, Esq., Clerk; Samuel W. Caleb, Esq., Sheriff.

The following gentlemen compose the juries:

[The docket is heavier than at any session for many years past. The Judge, in referring to the large number of cases of assault and battery appearing thereon, expressed his determination to put a stop to the "indiscriminate cutting and slashing" which had been so much in vogue in this community for some time past, and said if fines would not accomplish the object, he should certainly resport to imprisonment of the guilty parties. It is to be hoped that fines may have the desired effect, but we fear that in some instances harsher measures will be necessary before our county can boast, as it could a few years ago, of being the most orderly and law-abiding in the whole State.]

The following cases have been disposed of:

State vs. James Pratt. Presentment for assault and battery. Fined $1 and costs.

State vs. J. W. Carroll. Presentment for neglect of roads and bridge. Fined $5 and costs.

State vs. Thos. Simpson. Presentment for assault and battery. Fined $20 and costs.

State vs. Washington Hudgins. Presentment for assault and battery. Acquitted.

State vs. Washington Hudgins. Presentment for throwing stones at and assaulting band of musicians. Fined $20 and costs.

State vs. Thomas Duyer. Presentment for assault and battery. Acquitted.

State vs. Jos. O. Rasin. Presentment for an assault and battery. Fined $20 and costs.

State vs. C. H. Deford. Presentment for assault and battery. Fined $20 and costs.

State vs. Jos. O. Rasin. Presentment for assault and battery. Fine $5 and costs.

State vs. Thomas Duyer. Presentment for assault and battery. Acquitted.

State vs. John Brown, alias Theodore Morris, negro. Indicted for the larceny of a dearborn; also, for stealing a mare; also, for larceny of a sett of harness; jury trials. Guilty of two first charges—acquitted of the last. Sentenced to be sold in the county for two years. Hynson for defence.

State vs. William Preston, negro. Indicted for stealing a pair of shoes. Jury trial. Acquitted. Hynson for defence.

The case of Lucas for the homicide of Irons, removed hither from Queen Anne's, was called for trial on Friday morning, when a letter from his physician was read, stating that he was too unwell to be present, and the case was postponed till Wednesday next.

The Grand Jury was discharged on Friday morning.

A large number of cases yet remain to be disposed, and it is likely that Court will last all next week.

VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTY AT PUBLIC SALE.—Attention is called to the sale of town property, consisting of a store house and a vacant lot, adjoining the Bank, to take place at the Voshell House on Wednesday next at three o'clock.

Hon. Alex. Evans declines running as an independent candidate for Judge in Cecil and Harford. He says he finds that he is not to receive in Harford county the support he had reason to expect.

SPIRIT OF THE SOUTH.

A special correspondent of the New York Times, who has recently made a tour through the most populous portions of the State of Georgia, and talked freely with men of all classes and opinions, remarks in a late letter from Augusta, as follows:

Whatever may be said or written to the contrary, it is positively true that an overwhelming majority of the people of Georgia have honestly, and in perfect good faith, renewed their fidelity to the Constitution of the United States; and that with equal sincerity they will keep their pledges in regard to the emancipation of negroes.

All the planters with whom I have any acquaintance, or of whom I have heard, have made fair, and in many instances, liberal contracts with their former slaves, in some cases paying monthly wages with clothes, medical attendance and the usual rations, but generally paying in produce, or rather a share of the crop gathered.—There is a general disposition also to pass such laws as will fully protect the freedmen in their persons and property, removing all the disabilities under which they labored as slaves, and granting them all the privileges enjoyed by the white man, except the suffrage. The opposition to giving the right to vote is universal. I do not know of one man in favor of it.—Considerable apprehension is felt on this subject. It is feared that Congress will make this a sine qua non to the restoration of the State to her place in the Union, and that the progress of reconstruction, and removal of harmonious relations may be thus impeded. At present there is a widely diffused impression among the freedmen that at Christmas the Government will divide the plantations among them, and that every negro will receive forty acres of land, a home, stock and farming implements, to be taken from the properties of their late masters. No assurance to the contrary by the military authorities in the State seems able to dissipate this belief. Hundreds of them have told me as a reason why they will not make any contract beyond Christmas, that they expect to "get a house and lot of their own" at that time. When they find that this is not so, they will become more settled, and much of the vagrancy and crime which are now to be found in and about the towns and cities will, I think, be done away with, and the prospects of the future of labor brighten considerably.

Confidence is especially felt in the wisdom, generosity and fairness of President Johnson. Everywhere is heard the exclamation, "Everything depends upon the life of Andrew Johnson." Thus far his policy has certainly tended to the restoration of harmony and hopeful effort, and a general disposition is manifested to give his administration a cordial and earnest support.

STANDING BY THE GOVERNMENT.—The New York Observer (a religious newspaper,) remarks:

"It is painful to observe what papers now ridicule, oppose, and seek to defeat the measures of the Government; they are the papers that were loudest in making a support of the administration a test of loyalty—papers that denounced every man as a traitor who opposed the measures that Government wished to carry through. We have a right to ask such papers to be consistent; to unite now with the great masses of the American people in sustaining the Government in its patriotic and noble efforts to bring about the reign of peace, union and fraternal love. We hold that man to be a selfish seeker of his own gain, and not a warm, large-hearted patriot, who throws cold water on the President's plans of reconciliation."

THE TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.—A despatch from Washington says:

It is understood that the delay in the proposed trial of Jeff. Davis is not the fault of the Administration. It is the business of the judiciary and not of the Executive to initiate proceedings in the premises; but there is a difference of views among jurists, and the opinion has been advanced that in the present unsettled condition of the Southern States, which are still under martial law, (in one of which the trial would have to take place,) and no general peace having been proclaimed, further legislation by Congress may become necessary; and, further, there would not be time enough between now and the first Monday of December to try the case, for at that period the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States will commence their regular term at the Capital. Whatever may be the ultimate disposition of Jefferson Davis and others, this appears to be the present condition of the important subject.

DEATH OF THE HON. EDWARD LONG.—The Somerset (Md.) Herald records the death of the Hon. Edward Long, in the 57th year of his age. The deceased was a graduate of Yale College, and a lawyer of fine talents; was several times a member of the Legislature, and in 1845 was elected a member of Congress. In 1860 he was a prominent candidate for United States Senator, but was defeated by the Hon. James A. Pearce.

THE PACA HOMICIDE.—This well-known homicide case, removed from Talbot, was called for trial on the second Tuesday of this month at Denton, before the Circuit Court for Caroline county, Hon. Judge Goldsborough presiding, but owing to the illness of a material witness, was postponed till the ensuing March term of the court.

EX-GOVERNOR LOWE.—The Annapolis Republican of Saturday says it has information that an order has been passed for the full pardon of ex-Governor E Louis Lowe, notwithstanding the refusal of Governor Bradford to endorse his application.

A VIRTUOUS LEGISLATURE.—A New York paper says, "a person high in authority" asserts that it is "all nonsense to elect members to the Legislature at Albany; for it is much cheaper to buy them after the election is over."

PREDICTION OF DAVIS' RELEASE.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes:

Let me repeat a prediction I gave you a month or so ago, that the release of Davis is only a "question of time." From sources of information which I cannot dispute I learn that the President has no idea of bringing him to trial, but as soon as all the States are in harmonious working order with the Government the prison doors of Davis will fly open, and he will be a free man.

This, I am assured, was the intention of His Excellency long before the petitions from the respective States were poured in for his release, and these, with the action of the Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina Conventions, looking to the same end, have more than confirmed the President in his belief that the trial or further disgrace of the Rebel leader is not demanded either for the country's good or the vindication of its honor.

☞ We are pleased to learn that our former townsman, Mr. A. M. RUSSELL, who has been engaged in the Commission business in the city of Baltimore for some months past, has been largely patronized by the people of this County, and has given much satisfaction to those who have favored him with their consignments. He has now taken the large Warehouse 170 Light St. Wharf, where he has the advantage of stowing Produce, when there is a prospect of better prices being obtained. We wish our old friend abundant success.

DEATHS.

On the 10th inst., GEORGE, son of Edwin P. and Maggie S. Janvier, aged 2 years and 7 months.

On the 19th inst., at Still Pond, BENJAMIN F., son of George O. and Mary B. Roeder, aged five months.

I take these little lambs said he,
And lay them in my breast,
Protection they shall find in me,
In me be ever blest.

On the 13th instant, after a lingering illness, SARAH REBECCA, daughter of Abraham and Rebecca Taylor, aged twenty months. "From affliction she is free."

Past her suffering; past her pain—
Cease to weep, for tears are vain;
Calm the tumult of your breast,
She that suffered is at rest.

Departed this life, on Sunday, Oct. 8th, near Belle Air, of Pulmonary Consumption, Mrs. ELIZABETH G. WILMER, consort of Wm. R. Wilmer, in the 40th year of her age.

The subject of the above notice was the victim of a long and painful illness, which she bore with uncommon patience, fortitude and resignation. Few were the murmurs or complaints that escaped her lips, and, as the destroyer gradually undermined and weakened her vitals, she became more resigned to the will of Him, who, she said "had not forsaken her." Sincere in friendship, a devoted wife and a kind and indulgent mother, her loss will be most keenly felt by her numerous friends, and mourning family—the father and husband on bended knees will remember her, the elder children will drop a tear over her grave, and the little prattler that said as it stood by its mother's coffin, "Ma is asleep in her pretty cradle," will be taught to lisp its mother's name, and to love and cherish her memory.—May she rest in peace! A FRIEND.
