RECONSTRUCTION.

The bill introduced into the House on Tuesday by Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, to reconstruct the Southern States, is more stringent in its provisions than any for a similar object heretofore presented. It provides, among other things, for the appointment of provisional governors, with marshals and district attorneys, for the temporary discharge of civil duties.

The inhabitants of each State, irrespective of race or color, are to be enrolled, and if a majority take the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, the Governor shall by proclamation invite the loyal people to elect delegates to a convention to re-establish a State government.

The delegates are required to take and subscribe the oath of allegiance, and no person can thus serve or vote who has held or exercised any civil or military office under the rebel usurpation, or voluntarily borne arms against the United States.—Both the oath to support the Constitution of the United States and the oath of allegiance are to be administered to voters.

The Constitution formed must be republican, and not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence, and it must provide that involuntary servitude is forever prohibited; that no Confederate State or municipal debt shall ever be recognized or paid; that perfect toleration of religion shall be secured, and that no inhabitant shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his or her mode of religious worship, and that no person shall enter upon any office within the gift of the people until he shall have first taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, and an oath to maintain the perpetual Union of the States. This covenant is to be perpetual.

If the constitution shall come up to these, and other requirements, a copy shall be sent to the President of the United States, who, after obtaining the consent of Congress, shall by proclamation, recognize the government so established.

This act is not to operate as a recognition of a State Government in the State of Tennessee till the conditions aforesaid are complied with; and till that time Tennessee and all the States recently in rebellion shall be subjected to this laws.

DEATH OF THE HON. THOMAS CORWIN.—The Hon. Thomas Corwin, of Ohio, who for so many years has occupied a distinguished position in State and national politics, died in Washington on Monday last. He was stricken down by an attack of paralysis on the previous Friday, whilst attending a social reunion of his personal friends from Ohio, and remained unconscious up to the hour of his decease. He was chosen to represent his district in Congress in 1831, and served until 1840, when he was elected Governor of Ohio. In 1845 he was chosen United States Senator, and became Secretary of the Treasury under President Fillmore. In 1858 he was again elected to Congress, and re-elected in 1860, but was appointed by President Lincoln as Minister to Mexico, from which he returned a little over a year ago, averring that he was too old to keep up with the Republic. Mr. Corwin was a conservative republican in our modern politics, and a most genial, kindly soul, with a rare fund of wit and humor, and an intimate knowledge of the public men and public events of the last forty years.

THE CASE OF HON. BENJ. G. HARRIS.—Mr. Harris took his seat in the House of Representatives on Monday last, for the first time this session, and on the next day Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois, introduced a preamble and resolutions to the effect that he (Harris) having been tried and convicted by court-martial in May last of giving aid and comfort to the public enemy, &c., that therefore the oath taken by him before the House was an inconsistency, the court-marjial before which he was tried having sentenced him from forever holding any office of trust under the jurisdiction of the United States. The resolutions were referred to the committee on elections, with power to send for any persons or papers connected with the case. The design is of course the ejectment of Mr. Harris from his seat. No allusion was made to the fact that the President, after hearing additional evidence, set aside all the proceedings of the court-martial in the case, shielding him, as was supposed, from the disqualifications sought to be placed upon him.

THE DELAWARE RAILROAD has extended its line to within two miles of Princess Anne, Somerset county, Md. It is expected that the trains can run to that town by New Year's. A meeting of the stockholders of the Company was held at Easton on Wednesday of last week for the election of officers, at which the Directors on the part of the State were excluded from voting the State's interest, and the late officers were all re-elected. The matter is to be brought before the courts.

UTAH.—Captain Hooper, delegate to Congress from Utah, reports the crops in Utah large, and all carefully gathered.—Everything is decidedly prosperous. The demand for produce and goods from Idaho and Montano is active. The general improvement of the central territories of the continent is progressing finely, and all that is needed now is the Pacific Railway to develop their gold and silver districts.

A very exciting scene, involving a heavy loss of property, occurred at St. Louis on Friday last. The ice which had been dammed up just below the city, and accumulated in large masses along the docks, suddenly gave way, and with so much force as to break loose vessels of every size, crushing and sinking many, and otherwise causing immense damage. The dispatch gives a rough estimate of the losses as amounting to $300,000.
