M. E. CONFERENCE IN SESSION

Members Of Great Religious Body At Cambridge For Annual Session Of Wilmington M. E. Conference

The Wilmington M. E. Conference, one of the largest conferences of the great Methodist Episcopal Church, which numbers, all told, nearly 8,000,000 members, is in annual session at Cambridge, Maryland, this week, with Bishop W. F. McDowell presiding.

Examination for undergraduates in the conference courses of study of the M. E. Church were held on Tuesday.

These examinations are under the direction of the Board of Examiners of the Wilmington Conference. The course of study formerly was merely a system of examinations. It has now been transformed into a real school—a course of training. The change has made it a real correspondence course with written work, culminating in examinations at Conference time. The conference course of study is the result of the deliberations of the Commission on Conference Courses of Study, but in accordance with the law of the Church, has been approved by the Bishops of the M. E. Church. Under the new plan the Bishops have given far more attention to the constitution of the course and to its teachings than ever before. The students have had the guidance in their work of Directions and Helps. There are five of these volumes, one for each year of the course, and one for the examinations for admissions. What a skillful teacher does for his classes these volumes seek to do for the student in the course.

In over forty-five annual conferences of the M. E. Church, summer schools have been established. By vote of the conference the undergraduates studying the Course of Study are required to be present at the conference school.

The school is held at the seat of an educational institution, with a term of not less than ten days. Here the examiners become a teaching faculty. The prime advantage of this conference school is that it brings the examiners and students intimately together. The man who has been working by himself gains stimulus from classroom discussion and public addresses. The school also provides for supplementary lectures and courses of instruction by men of pre-eminent ability. There has been a general demand in the church for graduate courses of study for men who have completed the Conference Course. This work is taken by correspondence and each student has the individual attention of an instructor from one of the theological seminaries. Rev. Omar E. Jones, pastor of Chestertown M. E. Church, and Rev. T. F. Beauchamp, a former pastor of this church, are on the Board of Examiners of this conference.

Many important questions will come up for settlement at this conference. The appointments will be read out on Tuesday next.

The celebration of the anniversary of the Board of Hospitals and Homes was held on Tuesday night. Rev. L. E. Poole presided. Miss McCormick, a missionary from the Far East spoke.

Most of the members were present on Wednesday morning when the conference convened with Bishop W. F. McDowell, of Washington, presiding.

One hundred and thirty-five members responded to the Roll Call.

Announcement was made that J. L. Johnson had been detained at home by an infected foot. The conference stood when the names of the members who died during the past year were called and sang "Sweet Bye and Bye."

Dist. Supts. Watt, Wise, Mowbray and Collins assisted Bishop McDowell in administering the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Conference officers as follows were elected:

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The "pep" meeting held by the Adelphia Literary Society, on the night of March 17, was a great success. Nearly every member was present. The majority brought friends along. A very attractive program was provided.

Mr. Pippin played a piano solo. Miss Connelly gave a vocal solo. The song took a great deal of favor, if we are to judge by the applause she received. Miss Connelly, in answer to the continuous applause, sang one more solo. Speeches were delivered by Drs. Gould and Howell. Then several more songs were sung by the Adelphia duet and quartet. Mr. Lewis Sasse II delivered a short speech on fraternalism. The "Moonbeam" was read by Mr. C. W. Bankard.

Then refreshments were served and dancing followed.

—Eleven suits for formal claims of more than $120,000 on alleged promissory notes for $61,209, growing out of the failure of the Second National Bank of Elkton, Md., were filed Tuesday in the United States Court by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond and Thomas W. Perkins, receiver for the Elkton institution. One of these actions is brought against former Senator O. D. Crothers on an alleged note for $6000, and another against Charles E. Warburton, who was president of the bank at the time it was placed in the hands of receivers, for $5984.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

. . . I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

At all druggists.
