COMMENCEMENT AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Exercises Commemorating One Hundred And Fortieth Year Held Last And This Week—Big Crowds Were Present

The one hundred and fortieth commencement of Washington College was held at the old institution on Monday, which marked the closing of a most successful year at the institution that bears the name of the immortal Washington. The excises began on last Thursday evening.

On the above-mentioned evening the W. C. Dramatic Association, under the direction of Dr. C. P. Gould and Mrs. J. S. W. Jones, presented the commencement play, "Betty's Last Bet," in William Smith Hall. The plot winds around the nucleus of Betty Darling's bet with her beau that he can't marry one of her three sisters. Of course she lost. The humorous and ingenious methods of Betty's beau, Jack Van Loon, form the most interesting parts of the play. The following were in the cast: Mrs. Darling, Helen B. Jones; Catherine, called Kitty, Dorothy Shriver; Margaret, called Peggy, Ermyn Jewell; Dorothy, called Dolly, Rebecca Brown; Elizabeth, caled Betty, Virginia Parks; Hannah, Helen Simpers; Richard Wentworth, Conrad M. Wingate; Percy Wentworth, Townsend Howes; Jack Van Loon, E. Russell; Hamilton Moriarty, Preston P. Heck; Edgar Darling, Owen Knight.

The declamation contest for the Simpers' Medals was held Friday, June 16, at 2.30 p. m., in William Smith Hall. There were nine contestants. The first prize was won by Miss Marian Ermyn Jewell, whose declamation was "Renaissance," written by Edna St. Vincent Millay. The second page was won by Mr. William H. Ruark, whose declamation was "Ode in Memory of the American Volunteers Fallen For France," written by Alan Seeger. The judges were Dr. James Roy Micou, Mr. Thomas D. Bowers and Mr. W. Bradford Copper. Mr. Lewis Sasse II acted as chairman of the contest. There were recesses during which music was furnished by the Chestertown Five.

At 8 p. m., of the same day, the debate for the Samuel Towner Rogers' prize was held in the same building between the Adelphia Literary Society and the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, the question being, "Resolved, That the U. S. government should own and operate in exclusive control all public utilities." The Mt. Vernon took the affirmative and was represented by Gilbert V. Byron and T. H. Owen Knight. The Adelphia presented the negative side of the issue and was represented by Morris Z. Levy and A. E. Goodrich. The debate was won by the Adelphia. A. E. Goordich and T. H. Owen Knight won first and second prizes respectively as the best two debaters. Music was furnished at intervals by the Chestertown Five. After the debate a dance was held in the gymnasium.

On Saturday afternoon the annual baseball game between the Alumni and the Washington College team was contested. Prof. Roy Woodland organized a pretty strong team and succeeded in wresting the laurels from the disorganized collegians, who were without the services of their stars, Wright, Flowers, Johnson and Duffy. The score was 4 to 2. Hickman was on the mound for W. C., while J. Wilmer was on the hill for the alumni.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held Saturday night to hear reports on raising a relief fund, H. Staunton Brown, of New York, presiding. The college owed about $75,000, which represents a deficit incurred during the past 10 years. The Legislature appropriated $30,000 at its last session. The alumni raised $32,000, it was announced, and one former student contributed $5000 to be applied as the last $5,000 of the debt. M. Bates Stevens, treasurer, and the group chairman, promise to raise the $8000 balance. State Senator W. H. Russell, of Chestertown, who solicited the largest contributions, collected a goodly sum on Saturday, and others hope to complete the quota this week. A campaign to raise $200,000 will then be begun.

The alumni elected these officers: D. G. Roe, Sudlersville, Pres.; Senator W. F. Russell, V. P.; Dr. J. S. William Jones, Sec.-Treas. A beautiful testimonial was presented to Dr. Jones, the dean of the college, by Judge L. W. Wickes for his loyal efforts in behalf of the institution. Announcement was made of the new members of the Board of Visitors and Governors. Half of the number were appointed by Gov. Ritchie and the others elected by the alumni. The new members follow, the first-named in each case being the Governor's appointee, the second named the choice of the alumni: Cecil County, L. W. Davis, A. D. Mackey; Kent Co., W. W. Beck and Judge L. W. Wickes; Queen Anne's County, T. J. Keating and D. G. Roe; Caroline County, E. M. Noble and Rep. T. A. Goldsborough; Talbot County, C. E. Humphreys and W. Earle Withgott; Dorchester County, Miles Woolford and Dr. John Mace; Wicomico County, Walter B. Miller and J. E. Ellegood; Somerset County, E. B. Davis and R. F. Duer; Worcester Co., Senator Orlando Harrison and W. D. Corddry. At large, C. E. Harley, Mrs. T. F. Cullen and Clarence Hodgson, named by Governor; C. W. Perkins, J. I. Coulbourne and H. S. Brown by the alumni.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the baccalaureate service was held in Wm. Smith Hall, an extraordinary large attendance being present, the three Protestant Churches of the town being largely represented through their pastors and congregations. Rev. R. W. Sockman, pastor of Madison Avenue M. E. Church, New York, delivered the baccalaureate sermon, which was universally proclaimed one of the best sermons of the kind ever delivered at the institution. Dr. Sockman, while a young man, possesses remarkable powers of logic and oratory and pleased his hearers immensely, at the same time giving them some food for thought. One of the features of the service was the splendid music, rendered by the combined choirs of the town, under the able direction of Mr. William Walter Chapman. Mr. Chapman is a thorough leader and he had drilled his singers most efficiently for the effort, which has been the subject of most favorable comment by all who heard it.

The commencement proper was held on Monday morning and was attended by a large number of alumni and the friends of students and graduates. Rev. Eugene A. Robinson gave the invocation and the benediction was by Rev. Geo. C. Graham, both alumni. Miss Helen Beck Rasin, of Chestertown, delivered the second honors and Clayton Spence Purnell, Frostburg, the first honors.

William L. Marbury was unable to be present because of an operation being performed on his son. Dr. R. W. Cook, of the Citizens' Service League, Delaware, delivered the address to the graduates. His theme was "Education." These degrees were conferred:

Bachelor of Arts—Howard Melvin, Denton; Helen Beck Rasin, Chestertown; Carlton Adams Walls, Easton. Bachelor of Science—Wade G. Bounds, Allen; Samuel M. Jenness, Colora; Clayton Spence Purnell, Frostburg; Merrill C. Smoot, Onancock; Irwin T. Sparklin, Hillsboro; Lake R. Vane, Vienna; August R. Werner, Baltimore; Austin P. Wheeler, Belair. Doctor of Divinity—Rev. William Dunbar Gould, Cambridge, Md.; Rev. George C. Graham, Messena, N. Y.; Rev. Luther E. Poole, New Castle, Del.; Rev. Eugene A. Robinson, Palmyra, N. Y. Doctor of Laws—Col. Clarence Hodson, East Orange, N. J.; Dr. Ralph D. Magoffin, Baltimore. Master of Arts—Kanei Sunagawa, Kobe, Japan.

The following prizes were given:

Philadelphia Alumni Medal, for best all-around athletic record, Wade G. Bounds; Visitors and Governors' Medal, for highest average in the junior class, Mary Eugenia Simpers; Alumni Medal, for highest average in the sophomore class, Albert Edwin Goodrich, Jr.; Simmons Medal, for highest average in the freshman class, Helen Vansant Simpers; Simpers' Medal, for declamation, M. Erwyn Jewel (first honor), William H. Ruark, Samuel Towner Rogers (second honors); prizes for debating Albert E. Goodrich, Jr. (first honor), Thomas H. Owen Knight (second honor).

Honorable mention (the following students having attained an average of over 90 in all studies for the year are distinguished in scholarship): A. E. Hickman, Helen V. Simpers, Kanei Sunagawa, William H. Wheeler.

The following, having attained an average between 80 and 90 in all the studies of the year, are meritorious in scholarship:

Anthony Bischopf, Gilbert V. Byron, John J. Carroll, Albert E. Goodrich, Jr., Leonard L. Howeth, Elmer L. Kaiser, T. H. Owen Knight, Miriam L. Leaverton, David McMenamin, Joseph M. Messick, Clarence G. Peregoy, Robert C. Pippin, Clayton Spence Purnell, Helen B. Rasin, Dorothy Shriver, Mary E. Simpers, Thmas G. Thawley, Conrad M. Wingate and Dorothy E. Woodall.

An interesting feature of the exercises was the unveiling of a portrait of Charles Wesley Reid, Ph. D., president of Washington College 1889 to 1903. H. Staunton Brown, on behalf of the alumni, made the presentation.

A most interesting baseball game was held on Monday afternoon between Washington College's somewhat dismembered team and the St. Paul's team of Wilmington. The game, form many standpoints, was well worth seeing, while a comedy of errors was pulled off, which at times, turned the contest into one of farcial proportions. Hickman took the mound for Washington College and was hammered to all parts of the field, six hits being made in succession in the first inning, which netted four runs. Washington, however, came back strong in the second stanza and, aided by numberless misplays by the visitors, tallied five times. St. Paul's took the lead again in the fifth, when a home run brought a man in ahead, and increased this lead to five runs in the seventh inning. W. C. cut down the lead to four runs in the seventh inning, tied the score in the ninth by a batting rally and won out in the twelfth inning, the game being the longest played on the local field this year. While the game was marked by a great number of misplays, there was enough batting in it to make the contest interesting.

The closing event of the commencement season took place on Monday evening when the annual commencement ball was held. This proved a most brilliant event, and one of the largest crowds that ever attended a dance at W. C. was present.

Your building material dealer can give you useful information and advice. On building materials it is safe to follow his judgment. He will recommend Atlas Portland Cement, "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
