LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

—There is some talk of starting a weekly newspaper in Rock Hall.

—Improvements are made at the office of the County Commissioners of Kent County.

—Cantaloupes,peaches, tomatoes and several kinds of berries are now in the local market.

—The $13,000 of bonds for Rock Hall Electric Light Plant were bought by Smith Bros. at par.

—The State Roads Commission has been oiling the macadam roads of the county during the past week.

—Chestertown's hard streets have been given a good dressing of stone and tar and are in fine condition.

—Miss Jeannette Gooding wishes to express her gratitude for the many evidences of kindness extended during her illness.

—Corn is looking good in Kent. The hot weather, with continued showers, has caused the corn to grow nicely in the last few weeks.

—Mr. Townsend Anthony had tomatoes from his truck farm, in Queen Anne's county, on sale in the local market this week.

—Mr. C. L. Dodd is one of best and earliest gardeners and is eating fine ripe tomatoes from his big garden in the rear of High street home.

—The E. S. Adkins Lumber Co., of Chestertown, has a special advertisement in this issue of a folding iron board. Read the adv. for particulars.

—Capt. Jack Nickerson has purchased of Mr. T. G. Wroth the house on Cannon and Water streets now occupied by Mr. James P. Parrott and family.

—Major Hartman, brother-in-law of Mr. Herbert T. Hartman, has purchased from Mrs. Susan B. Kingsland her forty-acre farm on Lankford Bay. Price $12,000.

—Officer Samuel E. Cooper has a force of men laying a sewer down Water street, from High to Maple ave. These houses have heretofore used a private sewer.

—The cannery at Stevensville, with some of the old contents, was destroyed by fire recently. The track of the M. D. & Va. Ry. was also damaged by the fire.

—Through the efforts of Mr. Elsworth Bowers, three carloads of slag are being put on the road through the town of Lynch, which will greatly improve the same.

—Residents of Aberdeen and vicinity gathered in large numbers recently and witnessed the open air organizing of a branch of the Ku Klux Klan. The ceremony lasted about an hour.

—Insect pests, such as grasshoppers, wire worms and cut worms, can be controlled to quite an extent by clearing up the old grass and weeds on the unused land along fence lines and on waste land.

—For the benefit of the building fund of Chestertown M. E. Church, "Smilin' Through," a moving picture of considerable popularity, will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre next Friday and Saturday evenings.

—Capt. Wash Woodall has succeeded the late Capt. W. J. Taylor in command of the steamer B. S. Ford. Capt. Woodall makes a splendid successor to the well-liked and time-honored former captain.

—Mr. Romie Patrick, who recently purchased three houses on College ave, near High street, has greatly improved the same by painting them on the exterior and plastering and painting them on the interior.

—Next Tuesday is July 4th, the annual birthday of the nation. The day previous has been designated by Governor Ritchie as a holiday also. This holiday is one of most unusual interest and is more popular every year.

—The J. W. Russell Realty Co. has sold to John White, of Philadelphia, the Shallcross wharf property for $1500. Mr. White and family will occupy the house for the summer after remodeling it into a modern bungalow.

—Queen Anne's county has declared a tax rate for 1922 of $1.42 on the $100, 75 cents being for county uses and the other 67 cents for the schools. The county tax rate is, then, one cent higher than last year.

—Chestertown will have a big tent show next week. This show will be located on the Vannort lot on Maple avenue. The first performance will be on Monday night when "The Country Boy" wil be played. See advertisement in this paper for particulars.

—A tree that produced apples last year is filled with cherries this year, says an exchange from Onancock, Va., where this unusual thing happened. In every appearance it is an apple tree. No one has yet been able to explain its strange production.

—At a meeting held in Easton the Threshermen's Association of Queen Anne's, Talbot and Caroline counties set the price for wheat threshing this year as follows: Fully equipped machine, 8 cents per bushel; not fully equipped, 7 cents per bushel; gasoline rig, 10 cents per bushel.

—The beautiful hydarangeas have begun to bloom in Chestertown and many yards have been made more beautiful by them. This is one of the most beautiful flowers that is grown in this section and Chestertown has the most beautiful ones that we have seen anywhere.

—Mr. Jack Hughes, of Baltimore, who has been visiting in this section, caught one of the finest lots of fish caught off Chester River bridge in recent years on Saturday evening. Mr. Hughes' catch consisted of about fifteen of the biggest hard heads that we have ever seen caught in the Chester.

—No sooner had the farmers finished cutting wheat than they talked of beginning the threshing of the same, the result being that by the time the fourth of July holiday is over the sound of the thresher will be heard throughout the length and beradth of Kent Mr. J. Thomas Smith says his wheat is almost ready and that he will begin right after the holiday. The crop is, generally speaking, a good one.

—Mr. George Titter, agent for the Katz Jewelry Co., of Baltimore, has a handsome silver cup on exhibition at the furniture store of Mr. John Bartley which he will present to the leading batter on the Chestertown Baseball team who takes part in fifteen or more contests. This is a good move on the part of Mr. Titter and will, no doubt, stimulate interest in the Chestertown team.

—Swimmers of all ages are using Chester river bridge as a swimming place these hot days. While this place makes an ideal one for this splendid recreation the youthful swimmers should have a care about swimming in a place like this, unless older people are on hand, and then it is dangerous. The water is deep at this place, the current is swift. A moment's loss of strength or nerve and the end is a disaster.

—Mr. Edward Wallis has purchased a Durant car from Mr. John E. Speicher. Mr. Speicher has his show room in the big garage of Mr. W. C. Sutton on Cannon street, which has recently been made very attractive.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Massey have purchased the dwelling on High street, ajoining the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Ayres, from Mr. J. W. Russell, and occupied by Capt. Jack Nickerson and family.

—There is a movement on foot to do away with the two-dollar bills. Petitions are being prepared for the gov- department distributed 60,063 licenses those bills and public opinion seems to be supporting the move.

—Ex-Sheriff Wm. C. Townsend has purchased a substantial and speedy 100 ton power boat from parties in New Jersey and has recently had her thoroughly overhauled in a Baltimore shipyard. Captain Townsend has a fine gasoline engine of 60 horsepower and is ready to do freighting between this point and Baltimore and other points along the Chester.

—Mr. Jacob Zeisal, of Philadelphia, brother of Mr. Ramie Zeisal, of Queen Anne's, near Chestertown, who some time ago purchased the Zeisal property, near Chester River bridge, has moved into the same. We welcome Mr. Zeisal and family back to this section, where they formerly resided. Mr. Zeisal has begun the erection of a bungalow to replace the old Gladhill house, which has stood upon this property for many years.

—Millington is making preparations for a big fourth of July celebration, consisting of parade, music, etc. The principal speech of the occasion will be delivered by Wm. Frazier Russell, Esq., of Chestertown, who will tell his throng of hearers how thirteen weak colonies, situated along the Atlantic Seaboard, threw off the yoke of a tyrant king and established the greatest republic since the dawn of history. Mr. Russell is an eloquent and forceful speaker, and the many who will, doubtless, attend from the two counties will be pleasantly entertained.

—The Chestertown Electric Light Co. is placing a private pump at their plant, in order that they may have a supply of water at all times and not have to depend entirely on the water supply from the Chestertown pumps. When the water supply of the town is temporarily cut off, the Chestertown Electric Light Co. has been compelled to close for the same length of time which the water has been cut off, thus causing quite an inconvenience to the local users of current. By installing this extra supply of water Mr. Hope Hudson, the local manager, hopes to be able to give uninterrupted electric current.

—Chestertown is certainly one of the best places in creation, and one of the prettiest places also! But there are some unsightly places that could be improved with vines and hidden by flowers at a small cost. Flower seeds can be purchased at small cost and the children can help in planting and caring for the flowers. A few flowers will transform a most unsightly yard into a perfect little paradise, which is a credit to the neighborhood and the town. If each family will improve their own back yard and surroundings the town will take care of itself.

—The Texas Oil Co., of which Mr. Dumont Lambert is manager here, is doing an exceptionally large business and have recently put on a larger and more convenient truck to take care of their business. This company has been awarded the contract for furnishing motor and aviation gasoline to the United States Navy for all naval vessels and navy yards at all points along the Atlantic and Gulf Coast Seaboard, from Maine to Texas. The contract is such that intricate and varied deliveries are required, including harbor, barge, tank, car, tank wagon, drums, cans and cases.

—Mr. R. Hynson Rogers and Mrs. Guy Henry purchased the Carville or Denny Farm of 628 acres offered at public sale in front of the Court House at Chestertown on Tuesday and advertised in the Transcript. Price $25,000.

—Mr. Wm. G. Lamb, a young farmer residing in Morgnec, was taken ill on Tuesday afternoon with acute appendicitis. He was rushed to Easton hospital where an operation was performed and reports state that the operation was entirely successful.

—Mr. Robert K. Nobel, who left Federalsburg, Md., May 10, for the Pacific Coast, arrived in Los Angeles, Cal., June 20. Mr. Noble, who made the entire distance on a Columbia bicycle in one day less than six weeks, reports that he is feeling fine.

—Some inferior boards are being removed from Chester river bridge this week. Beneath the top board it has been found that there is considerable dampness, the result being the decaying of the underneath board to a considerable extent.

—The W. C. T. U. of Kent County will hold a business meeting on Thursday, July 13, at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. Robert Huey. It is desired that each union be as fully represented as possible as plans for the coming convention at Bond Chapel are to be completed at this time. The Maria Corey "Y." will be hostess to this convention.

—One hundred thousand dollars revenue is the goal which the State Game Warden hopes to reach in the collection of hunters licenses this year. The State Game Department is sending out 68,525 licenses, which are being distributed to the clerks of the courts in the counties. Last year the edpartment distributed 60,063 licenses and received from the hunters $96,330.

—At the last session of the Maryland Legislature a bill was passed to give those of the state who had taken part in the great war a bonus. The amount involved was about nine million dollars and is to be raised by a bond issue. Before raising the money the bill is to be submitted to the voters of the state. The validity of the bill has been attacked by Harry O. Brawner, who had asked for a writ of mandamus forbidding the supervisors of election from submitting to the voters at the general election on Nov. 7, next, the question whether the act shall become effective. Judge C. F. Stein, of Baltimore, in a decision, has dismissed the peition.

Had Narrow Escape On The Chester

Mr. Raymond Tucker and a party of young folks from Chestertown, consisting of two of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor's children and Miss Dorothy Spielberger, had a narrow escape on the Chester River one day last week, while down the river in a row boat. It seems that one of the big power and sail boats happened along about the time the party started for home and offered them a tow. A rope was thrown them to secure to their boat. Mr. Tucker grabbed the rope, while the rowboat was sideways to the course of the larger craft. The rowboat upset in mid-stream, the youthful party being thrown into the river. Several of the children could swim, but one of the smaller ones went under several times, and probably would have drowned had not Mr. Tucker gone to his assistance.

Boating on the Chester is dangerous, unless someone is on board who understands the water and keeps the others out of danger, and parties of children should beware of the river unless chaperoned by older folks.

DEATHS

After an illness of several months, Dr. J. W. Crossan, for more than 25 years a practicing physician of Centreville, died at his home in that town on Monday morning. He had been in failing health since the first of the year, but did not give up his practice until March.

John A. Crane, son of the late Dr. Thomas H. Crane, of Millington, died suddenly in Philadelphia on June 23 and was interred in the cemetery of Christ Church, I. U. parish. Rev. S. S. Hepburn officiated. The pall bearers were W. S. Collins, P. G. Wilmer, Wm. Janvier, E. T. Massey, Mr. Lockwood and Mr. Miller. He leaves a wife and one brother and sister.
