THE paper mil shut down last night for want of straw it being impossible to haul over the bad roads.

THE contract for furnishing the I. O. O. F. with supper at the big celebration in next month has been awarded to A. H. Hurd of the Voshell House.

MEDAL CONTEST.—A silver medal contest will be held by United Y next Monday evening in Fairlee Hall. The contestants are to be Misses Mary Knight, Annie Coper, Clara Biddle, Mary Hurlock, Blanche Smyth, Emma Knight, Della Lee Minnie Hudson and Carrie Smyth.

WE hear of quite a number of geese being seen in the wheat fields in Kent but very few have been killed. Mr. Jos. W. Usilton, of Worton, shot at two, so close to them that he could see their eyes, but not a feather fell. Rev. W. F. Compton says he saw six or eight ducks fly over Chester bridge Monday, and feels confident that if he had a gun he could have killed several.

Mr. Robert M. Dawson, of Whittman, Talbot county, reports that there is a flock of at least fifty wild geese frozen to death near the mouth of Eastern bay.

CUTTING AND THIEVING.—Justice McFeely sentenced Matthew Williams to house of Correction for 15 months Monday night for stealing a watch from Caroline Richardson. Williams in turn tore out a writ against Tobe Mitchell for stealing the watch, swearing that he was innocent. Tobe was given a hearing and found not guilty.

Justice Johnson held Asbury Fletcher for court on a charge of assault with intent to kill Louise Brown. The same party was held for court by Justice McFeely on a similar charge, brought by Alfred Chase.

POULTRY FANCIERS.— Dr. Jarman received last week a pretty pen of chickens from Clyde, Ohio. They are known as "Buff—Plymouth Rock" and are perfect beauties, including four hens and a rooster.

Mr. E. E. Hudson received three first premiums, two second premiums and a special prize of $5 on his poultry exhibits at the Baltimore Poultry Show last week.

R. D. Hynson, Esq., has some of the finest Pit game chickens in the county and takes great pleasure in rearing them. Last year he raised some June pullets that were laying before Christmas.

Mr. John S. Vandegrift received a Leghorn rooster and ten hens from New York a few days ago for which he paid $73. Mr. Hudson says Mr. V. has four of the prettiest hens in the county.

HORSE NOTES.—Mr. John Brice has commenced breaking his two year old filly by Alcantell. He makes a fine appearance. Mr. W. C. A. Thompson has another filly by this same horse and a prettier colt would be difficult to find. He has been training him this week along side of "Lady M."

A form of influenza is killing horses in this county. The dun mare Sweet Alice with a pacing record of 2.26, owned by George S. Wooley, president of the Cecil County Agricultural Society, died on Thursday, and the same day the promising colt Briscoe died on Mr. Hedley's farm, "Linewood," near Chesapeake City. Sweet Alice was valued at $360. W. B. Biggs, who resides near Middletown, lost his mare Flirt. She had a record of 2.30 and was valued at $1,000.

Mr. John Clendaniel reports his horses well and no signs of sickness.

Centreville Postoffice.

The President has appointed Mr. Blanchard Emory, Jr., to be postmaster at Centreville. This appointment was made by the President in direct conflict with the wishes and recommendations of the Postmaster General. This feeling of glory was due to Mr. Emory's opposition to Mr. Gibson in which Gibson had endorsed Mr. Emory very anxious to see him at the Postmaster General's. The remembrance of his defeat of some of his endeavored to get even with Mr. Gibson and Mr. Emory called on Mr. Cleveland for the purpose of influencing him in favor. Some time ago ex-Senator B. Brown and General Wallace of Maryland, called on the President and urged him to appoint Mr. Emory. This had its effect, and he received the appointment. He is one of the bitter enemies with Mr. Bissell's department.

The appointment of the third class, and postmaster at Denum. Mr. Emory and Mr. Woodford, who was appointed President, but whose nomination was rejected by the Senate at the request of Mr. Gibson. After a fight for the office was made for a long time petitions from the Eastern shore to the department. Mr. Emory was backed, but for a time it was almost certain that the appointment of Dr. Bissell and so stated to a Maryland delegation.

The Easton Gazette, has been appointed assistant at the Easton High School. He can attend to the duties.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Avis Elizabeth Graves reached Chestertown Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was a daughter of Mrs. Avis E. Vannort, wife of Col. Wm. J. Vannort, and lived in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Vannort received a telegram early Monday morning apprising her of Mrs. Graves' illness, and she was present at the bedside of her daughter when she died. The deceased spent her early years in Chestertown, and was a general favorite in the large circle of friends in which she moved. She was in her 37th year. Her husband, Edward Graves, is the wealthy proprietor of a wholesale and retail steam bread and cracker bakery in Washington. She leaves two boys and one girl. The funeral was held in Washington on Thursday afternoon, and the large attendance and numerous floral offerings attested in some degree the esteem in which she was held. Messrs. Wm. J. Vannort, John N. Dodd and Charles L. Dodd attended the funeral from Chestertown.

Mr. Charles Estes, notary public, of Chestertown, received a telegram Sunday notifying him of the death of his sister, Mrs. Emma E. Giles, in Elkton. Mrs. Giles was sick but one week. She was in her 59th year, and leaves three sons and three daughters, all grown. The funeral was held Wednesday and was one of the largest ever held in that town.

Saturday evening Thomas Wright, a well known citizen of Smyrna, died at his residence on Delaware street, after a lingering illness. Mr. Wright was 77 years of age, having been born on Christmas day, 1817, in New Castle county. He grew up in that county, and at different times in his life was a miller, hotelman and farmer. He had filled various political offices in Delaware, but lately, owing to bad health, has not been active in politics. He was a man of plain and simple habits, and a kind and gentle disposition. Mr. Wright formerly lived at Harmony, this county. His widow was a sister of the late James M. Vandyke. He leaves seven grown children. He was a member of the M. E. Church.

Religious News.

The church services at Masseys, where the faithful rector, have been sadly interferred with in consequence of a dual famine and the blizzard. Regular services will be held hereafter as stated elsewhere.

The revival at Betterton resulted in 35 conversions, including both young and old, many being heads of families.

Rev. W. K. Galloway has been at Still Pond this week holding meetings every night. Three conversions followed Monday night, not any Tuesday night, 8 Wednesday night, and several the last two nights.

St. Paul's official board held a meeting Monday night and insisted on Bro. Terry staying a full term of five years. He accepted the invitation and thus leaves Middletown unsettled.

St. James M. P. Church elected Mr. Samuel Vannort as delegate to conference and Mr. Robert G. Nicolson, alternate. The congregation desire the return of Dr. Mills for next year but if he is elected president, they hope to get a supply equally as good.

Over 170 persons have been converted at the big Milford revival and all the work goes on.

A delegation waited on Revd. S. S. York, pastor of Zion M. E. Church, a few days ago, requesting him to return to that charge for next year. He has served this people faithfully and they appreciate his services.

The Standing Committee of the Diocese of Easton had a meeting last Thursday. All the members were present except the Rev. Mr. Perry, of Chestertown, who was detained by illness. The committee assented to the election of the Rev. Dr. White as Bishop of Indiana, to succeed Bishop Knicherbocker, deceased.

The big revival at East M. P. Church resulted in 50 conversions, Rev. J. M. Sheridan is pastor.

At a members meeting held at Christ Church Thursday night the following trustees were elected: S. Smith, W. B. Usilton, J. K. Aldridge, W. Lambert, W. W. Hubbard, J. Chapman, Charles L. Dodd, Lewin Fowler, J. D. Bacchus, Fred. G. Usilton, Charles S. Smith, T. Waters Ross, Willard Melvin, P. T. McFeely, S. R. Jones and Mr. Wm. B. Usilton was elected delegate to conference and Mr. Chas. L. Dodd, alternate.

The M. E. Conference will meet in Smyrna, Monday, March 4. The stations have been given out, among which are the following:

Thos. W. Ellison at Mrs. Mary A. Walker's.
Thomas Mallalieu at W. Rees.
T. J. Shallcross at Mrs. H. Dingle's.
J. F. Anderson at H. O. Bull.
G. W. Burke at Thomas Jones.
W. P. Compton at W. H. Begs.
Edward Davis at W. D. Heath.
J. W. Easley at Dr. D. T. Slather.
J. D. Kilman at Mrs. I. H. Lance.
E. H. Nelson at Mrs. H. Sparrow.
Alfred Smith at L. M. Fries.
E. E. White at Mrs. E. R. Jones.
John Boehm at L. H. Peggy.
L. E. Poole at G. W. Turr.
C. S. York at L. H. Peck.
J. B. Merritt at Delaware House.

Mr. Robinson, tenant on Mr. Barroll's farm, started from near Kennedyville Thursday morning with a load of hay, but before going very far the four horses were unable to pull the load, and it had to be left in the road. Teams were unable to pass, and considerable inconvenience resulted.

MILLINGTON LOCALS.

The election of three town commissioners will be held at the office of T. J. Porter Saturday afternoon March 9. The general paving of the principal streets is being discussed, as they have been in a terrible condition dring the winter since the blizzard.

On account of the roads being in such a terrible condition, Messrs. Britton & Mallett were compelled to give four horses to their hearse Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. John Pierce, Townsend, Del. Large drifts of snow can still be seen.

Memorial services were held in the M. E. Church Sunday of last week in memory of Mr. James A. Edwards, an account of which will be found in another column of the NEWS.

Mr. Thomas Mallalieu attended the service in memory of the Rev. Enoch Stubbs, in the Thirteenth Street M. E. Church, Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Joseph Mallalieu received a telegram from his brother, Prof. J. T. Mallalieu, of Kearney, Neb., telling of the death of his wife from the grip. Mr. Mallalieu is superintendent of the State Boys' Industrial School of that city. He and his family paid a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mallalieu, about three years ago. The Buffalo County Journal of Wednesday, printed in Kearney, paid a beautiful tribute to the noble Christian who has gone from their midst. The Journal said: "We speak of her as illustrious, because her life work, both public and private, is adorned with a galaxy of good deeds, cheering words and noble examples, that stand for her the admiration, gratitude and love of the people of the whole State. The children who were members of the school and did not know the value of a mother's love and advice, found in Mrs. Mallalieu a mother—one who shared their unhappy condition and taught them how to live so that they might grow to become useful men. It is no wonder that sadness deep and profound has settled upon the hearts of hundreds of boys in the school who realize the irreparable loss they have sustained."

On Tuesday Mr. J. E. Spear hired a team from Mr. R. W. Comegys livery to go over to Clayton, and reaching there fastened the horse in the hotel yard. When ready to start home he went for his team and found that it was gone. Thinking it had broken away and returned home, Mr. Spear came home by train, and not finding the team here he returned to Clayton next morning to renew his search. Thursday morning Mr. Comegys learned of its location and telegraphed Mr. Spear, but later learned that it had been returned to Clayton. Mr. Spear came home Thursday night, and up to that time Mr. Comegys had not recovered his team.

Mr. John Mallalieu, who for three years has been connected with the Centreville Record, has severed his connection with that paper, having served out his time, and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mallalieu, near town, preparatory to accepting another position.

Revival services are still being held with much success in the M. E. Church. Rev. G. W. Burke is being ably assisted by his members. Ten were at the altar Monday night.

Lenten services are being held at the Episcopal chapel.

Miss Hattie Reed has returned to her home, Chestertown, from visiting Miss Nellie Burke, at the parsonage.

Miss Cynthia Nelson, of Church Hill, spent a few days this week with Miss Lou Moffett.

Gus. Vansant, the efficient clerk of Mr. H. S. Cook, has been sick at his home near Galena. His brother Andrew has been filling his position.

Mr. C. M. Hurtt spent a few days this week in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Garrison Boyles, an aged lady living about two miles east of Millington, had a stroke of paralysis one day last week, causing her to lose the use of one side.

Mrs. J. T. Powers spent last week with relatives in Sudlersville.

Miss Willie Moffett has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in Cecil co.

Miss Ida Reese is visiting friends in town. Z

A BIG CAPTURE!

Dredging in Chester River—Captured and Heavily Fined.

The police steamer Governor McLane, Capt. James A. Turner, made a trip up Chester river last week and while on her way out Sunday made the largest capture ever known in the history of the State fishery force. The raid was made at mid-day Sunday, and by half-past four all the captains of the twenty-one boats were under arrest.

The captured vessels and their captains are as follows:

Alfred S. Day, Capt. Geo. H. Hitchens; Carrie Moore, J. H. Rodgers; Joseph T. Falkner, Joseph Falkner; Ella and Carrie, Martin O'Malley; Mary L. McGee, Martin McDonald; Exchange, Wm. J. Thomas; A. Weiskettle, Thos. F. Lewis; Thos. E. Belle, Wilbur F. White; James H. Lewis, William D. Windsor; John H. Davis, John W. Gibson; Cadet, Frank H. Powell; Moore & Brady, Wm. Bramble; Julia A. Jones, A. Prendergast; Martha E. Moore, Arthur M. Wroten; Edgar M. Schall, G. D. Webster; Sudie Wagman, James Patience; Wm. H. McNamara, R. P. Andrews; Albert Nichols, Frederick Smith; B. A. Wagner, T. W. Dyes; Ella Y. Daniel, John A. Burns; W. C. Kirwan, George W. Hitchens. Each of the captains was held for Court.

Two oyster schooners which had been working in Chester river anchored along side the police schooner May Brown in Worton creek at an early hour Tuesday morning. It was a good opportunity for school officials, who found unculled oysters on the vessels. They were the Pet, Capt. Herman Jarzen, and Sarah Ann, Capt. Geo. Jenkins, both of Baltimore. The accused pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs, remarking that the next time they will not go near a police boat to cull their oysters. The May Brown had been mistaken for a dredger.

Capt. Fisher captured nine vessels Wednesday night in Chester river, all charged with having unculled oysters on board. Judge John O. Philips, of Kent Island, imposed a fine of $50 and costs, each of the accused having pleaded guilty. They were the Ella Lawson, Julia & Angelara Garrett, Lot. Nash, Lucy Vera, Gen. Taylor, John Nelson, Annie Dukes, Angle McNamara.

SPORTING COLUMN.

Base Ball at Washington College and in Town.

Base ball is beginning to absorb the attention of the sportive student, and along with his other studies goes a thorough knowledge of all that pertains to the great national game. This year points to a most successful ball season at the college. Plenty of material is at hand to form a strong team, and the enthusiasm of the town and college combined will go far towards making this a memorable year. For two years now the Washington College ball team has posed as the champion college team in the State, and she will do her utmost to hold on to the title during the coming months. The composition of the team will be somewhat different this year, and probably only three of last year's regulars will be seen on the team again. These three are Messrs. Burris, Zearfoss and Holloway. The new men will be Messrs. Boston, Cameron, Davis, Stidham, Deakyne and Faithful. Messrs. Boston, Cameron and Faithful are known to many on account of their work as "subs" and on the second team. Messrs. Davis, Stidham and Deakyne are all new men and all from Delaware. This little commonwealth seems to be full of base ball material, and W. C. has profited on that account. Davis is an all-round player. He is a fine pitcher, and, with a good command of the ball secured Burris thinks that he is the equal of any college pitcher in the State. Davis is also a catch, third baseman and a fine outfielder. He is a valuable man, and the public can look to see him give a good account of himself. Deakyne will play at second base and Stidham probably at third. Both these men are born ball players.

One need only see them on the field to stamp them at once as artists in their line. Deakyne has had some seasons of experience, and his second-base play is equal to any ever seen on the home grounds. Stidham will take care of himself, and with Davis on first and Cameron at short, the infield should be invincible.

Boston will probably play left field, Holloway in centre and Faithful in right, or on first base, with Davis at right. This aggregation will prove a strong representation, and will be hard to down when the two cracks and stand-by, Burris and Zearfoss, are in the points.

Manager Perkins has scheduled eight games, with more to hear from. The public can rest assured of some fine sport ahead, and the college boys respectfully ask their patronage. The schedule up to date is as follows:

April 17—John Hopkins University, at Chestertown.
April 20—Baltimore City College, at Chestertown.
April 27—Deichman School, at Chestertown.
May 8—St. John's College, Annapolis.
May 11—Maryland Agricultural College, at Chestertown.
May 18—John Hopkins University, at Balto.
May 25—Western Md. College, at Westminster.
June 15—Western Md. College, Chestertown.

The Chestertown base ball club has organized and elected the following officers: President, R. F. Barnett; captain, C. F. Howard; secretary, John Cannan; treasurer, Mill Day. The members of the team will include the above and Hary and Foster Cannan, Jas. Thompson, Verne Barnes and Earle Usilton.

This spring society ladies will bring the bicycle into general use, and the bicycle dealers are in great glee on account of the business.

No doubt they will be taken up in Chestertown, and during the pretty days this spring and summer we expect to see numbers of pretty girls spinning over the smooth roads. Bicycling is a healthy exercise and there is no reason why the ladies should not enjoy it as well as the men.

PRACTICAL KNOWLEDGE.

Communicated

It is an easy matter for farmers to talk and theorize and even to arrive at practical conclusions on questions regarding their business, but it seems much more difficult for them to put their knowledge into practice for instance. President Jim Bell of the Chester Alliance at their first meeting of the current year gives the members some very good advice. He begins by saying that we must try to make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before and then sow with their wheat, corn, potatoes and all the other crops we undertake to grow. He also advises them to improve the quality of their fruit, to raise less glass stock; and intimates that there is profit in even medium grades of either now. If the members of the Chester Alliance could just jump in and follow his advice they would no doubt make little money before the balance of the country would be able to catch up with them, but there is a general movement of the farmers in that direction, and the result is disastrous to all. This has been proven time and again; the market for the best is a very limited one and will not bear pushing in this line any further, than in clothing, or any other manufactured article, for if every farmer in the land were able to raise a grade of his products, the great majority would have to take just the dairy price, although the grade of the goods were higher than they are now. He further says that in carrying out these ideas, we should buy as little as possible and grow many things that we now buy such as orchard grass, timothy and clover seed, broom corn, and if we had added fertilizers and hulless oats, we would be just as able to compete. No economy is absolutely necessary to the farmer and he is likely to practice it whether he believes in it or not; not simply because it is fashionable either, but just follow this non buying principle to its logical conclusion, and what improvement in the farmers, condition is here in it; evidently all that friend Bell sees in it is the wish he expresses that these hard times may pass away. We have only one suggestion to make—is the only change that holds out any hope of betterment, it is co-operation; in almost all trades, good or bad, except farming is under the dominion of co-operation. The committee of the Delaware State Grange on co-operation say: Do we as farmers have cause of complaint, if so, we believe we may generally trace on the part of our hardship co-operation on the part of those who wrong us, and while men of other callings can unite solidly and secure what they seek, farmers, destitute of confidence in each other and themselves, and peers with some jealousy and prejudice be added, prefer to share the reward their toil with those who seek to profit from the sweat of other peoples face. I think that is about the size of it.

OBSERVER

MESSRS EDITORS.—As the discussion of candidates for county commissioners is becoming active, I would ask to suggest as commissioner for the fourth district, Mr. James M. J. Byron.

Those who know him as the writer does, know that he is a man of sound, strong and clear judgement, thoroughly practical, and of strict integrity with abundant firmness to resist any policy he cannot approve, but sufficiently liberal to meet all just demands of the times.

A VOTER.

THE bicycle fever has struck our town and the outlook is for a very active year. The C. C. C. now numbers 37 members, with several other applicants for membership.

This promises to be a great year in sports, but men—especially young men—should not allow their zeal to run away with their business. Too much sport will ruin the most promising career.
