Got Five Million Stamps.

Edna R. Brown Garman, of Kaneville, originator of the famous letter chain system, started by her for the purpose of collecting cancelled postage stamps, still receives several hundred letters per day, although the end of the chain was supposed to have been reached several months ago. Saturday among the letters received was one from Henry Clancy, of San Diego, Cal., inclosing a check for $500. Mrs. Brown Garman's letter chain was started about a year ago, her unique scheme being to secure one million cancelled postage stamps, which she hoped to sell for enough to pay the expense of hospital treatment for the crippled sister-in-law, Mattie Garman. She wrote letters to three friends, who in turn were to write to three more, and so on untill the number of fifty was reached. The chain was then requested to stop. Each person receiving a letter was to send ten cancelled stamps
