WILMINGTON CONFERENCE.

To Meet Next Year at Chestertown—List of the Appointments.

The Wilmington Annual Conference adjourned shortly before noon Tuesday, after completing all business and after the appointment of preachers for the year had been read. The Conference will meet next year at Chestertown.

Bishop Warren gave a little surprise to the members by reappointing all the presiding elders.

Rev. W. L. S. Murray, the pastor of Wesley Church, where the conference has been in session for a week, was advanced to St. Paul's, Wilmington. He is succeeded by Rev. W. E. Avery, who is succeeded at Easton, Md., by Rev. C. A. Hill.

Cambridge gets Rev. W. J. DuHadaway, succeeding Rev. F. C. McSorely, who goes to Newark and Wesley, Del.

Rev. J. P. Otis goes to Crisfield in place of Rev. R. K. Stephenson, who goes to Seaford and Bladesvile, Del. Rev. G. W. Burke goes to St. Michaels in place of Rev. Mr. Otis.

From St. Paul's, Wilmington, Rev. T. E. Terry goes to Harrington, Del. Cookman gets Rev. John France. Rev. L. W. Layfield is returned to Epworth. Rev. J. E. Amos goes to Kingwood and Edgemoor. Rev. G. F. Hopkins goes to Madeley, whose pastor, Rev. John D. Lecates died last year. Scott Church gets Rev. S. Pilchard, and Rev. E. E. White goes to Silverbrook, the ether appointments being unchanged.

What Caylor Tays.

Zearfoss has drawn to himself the eyes of the baseball magnates and today occupies a high position in sporting circles. The World says he will be placed on the regular team, while Caylor, the noted writer has this to say:

When the Giants come to Baltimore I want your collegians, Hughey and Mugsey, to meet our collegian, Zearfoss. We manage to have a college man on our team every year as a balance for Dad Clarke. Last season we had the lamented and lamentable Boswell, who could eat pie in seven languages, but couldn't pitch in ordinary New Jersey English. Mr. Boswell's Greek roots were all right, but his Italian curves and his Dutch drops were of off color. Mr. Zearfoss, I think, will serve the club better. He seems to be a scholar, a gentleman and a catcher. Mr. Clarke, who at all times is somewhat of a cynic, declares that "The blokie," meaning Zearfoss, "can't give nobody no fall with them there three baggers of words, wh ch he bats out with his mouth every time he uses his tongue for a bat." But Dad is not a believer in college education for the ball field. I am! It will be worth the price of admission this year to hear Hughey and Mugsey conversing in Latin with Jack Doyle during the progress of a game. They can call Tim Hurst a horse-thief, a highwayman and a dog fennel bouquet in a dead language and Tim won't know a word about it. Whereas, if Dad Clarke or Patsy Tebeau attempted in their East Troy American alive language Mr. Hurst would be on in a minute.

Corrections.—In the well-written piece of poetry in the NEWS last week by Miss Mamie Strong the following corrections should be made. The word "Shadows" in the title of the poem should be "shadow". The word "comparisons" in the last lines of the first and last verses should be "companions." The word "learns" in the fourth line of the fourth verse should be "leaves", and the word "thundering" in the third line of the fifth verse should be "threatening."

The Weather.—The thermometer on Tuesday morning registered 17°, while three inches of snow covered the ground. About a half dozen sleighs were out on our streets and enjoyed the snow while it remained.

BLACK DRESS GOODS

Black is the feature of the year in Dress Stuffs, and when we gathered more than three hundred styles in black mohairs alone it was because you wanted them. And that is but a hint of the stocks.

NOVELTY WEAVES—

The loom tricks used to produce color studies are no more varied than those resorted to in producing rich effects in plain blacks. Silk and wool, through many a twist, formed these—

46-in. Mozaic Black Novelties, $3, $3.50.
46-in. Etamine Black Fancies, $3 and $3.50.
46-in. Black Mohair Crepons, $1.50 and $4.
44-in. Beaded Black Etamines, $2.50.
44-in. Silk-striped Etamine, $2.50.
44-in. Lace Silk-striped Etamine, $2 and $3.
45-in. Waffle-stripe All-silk Grenadine, $1.75.

GRENADINES—

Give yourself a pleasant twenty minutes' look at the new Grenadines. Spider webs are seemingly little finer than these silken threads thrown into films of loveliness. Then polka dots, big and little, and ribbon-stripes and brocades and midnight shadows of flowers are held on these filmy grounds. A price hint—

24-in. Twisted silk and sewing-silk plain Grenadines, 50c to $1.50.
44-in. Twisted silk Grenadine, $1.25 to $3.
44-in. All-silk Brocaded Grenadine, small figures and all-over designs, $1.25 to $3.
44-in. Big and little Polka Dots, $1.50 to $2.50.
22-in. All-silk Ribbon-stripe Grenadine, ½ in. to 1½ in. stripe, $1.

MOHAIR SICILIANS—

Sturdy stuffs; shimmeringly pretty. They must be color perfect to show advantageously in the strong light shed on these counters.

42-in. at 50c and 65c.
Various other grades up to $2.50.

BLACK SERGES—

Just how this 44-inch Serge can be sold at 37½c we'd rather not tell. There's no reason why you should know, for the stuff is perfect.

Other Serges at 30c to $1.25—the highest priced is 54 inches wide.

DEPENDABLE DRESS STUFFS

There is a liberal section of the dress goods store, east of Main Aisle, filled to overflowing with the new arrivals of stuffs so dependably good that every woman needs one or more dresses from them. The serge family finds a home there—every sort of serge, including the water-proofed and the charmingest of all serges—Etamine Homespuns haunt this corner—more elegant and more enduring homespuns than you've known. But take a quiet half hour's look. That's best.

At 65c a yard—50-in. navy blue Serge, American made; in three weaves; small, medium and wide wale twills. Strictly all-wool, and the color has stood a hard test.

At 75c a yard—50-in. navy blue, brown and green fine twill and wide wale Serges and smart Granite Weaves. Good weight for the seashore or mountain dress.

At $1 a yard—54-in. Serge Cheviot and 46-in. Hopsacks. Style and service combined.

At $1 a yard—54-in. Etamine Serge, imported; wiry and crispy to the touch, but finished equal to a fine cloth. Will stand the severest test in hard wearing. Two navys, green, brown, gray, tan and cardinal.

At $1 a yard—46-in. Homespun. A distinct weave from any other class of dress stuffs. Wiry rough threads of different colors mingled together forming pretty mixtures and a stylish fabric.

At $1—50-in. shower-proof Serge. A very fine twill and smooth surface, but stormy weather doesn't affect it. Always bright and fresh looking. Two navys, brown, green, tan and black.
