THE NEW CIVIL RIGHTS LAW.

We give below a full abstract of the bill "to protect all persons in the United States in their civil rights, and furnish the means for their vindication." This bill having passed both branches of Congress ever the veto of the President, is now a law:

Section 1. That all persons born in the United States, and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed, are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States; and such citizens of every race and color, without regard to any previous condition of slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall have the same right in every State and Territory to make and enforce contracts, to sue, to be sued, be parties and give evidence, to inhert, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property, and to be entitled to full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the security of person and property, as is enjoyed by white citizens, and shall be subject to like punishment, pains and penalties, and to none other; any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall deprive any inhabitant of any State or Territory of any rights secured by this act, under color of law, regulation or custom, is declared guilty of misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 3. The United States district courts shall have exclusive cognizance of all offences against this act, and also, concurrently with the United States circuit courts, of all civil and criminal causes affecting persons whose rights are secured by section 1. Any suit against such persons, begun in any State court, may be removed for trial to the proper district or circuit court. In exceptional cases the common law, as modified and changed by the constitution and statutes of the State wherein the court having jurisdiction of the cause, civil or criminal, is held, so far as the same is not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States, shall be extended, and govern said courts in the trial and disposition of such cause, and if of a criminal nature, in the infliction of punishment on the party found guilty.

Sec. 4. The district attorneys, marshals and deputy marshals of the United States, the commissioners appointed by the circuit and territorial courts of the United States, with powers of arresting, imprisoning or bailing offenders against the laws of the United States, the officers and agents of the freedmen's bureau, and every other officer who may be specially empowered by the President of the United States, are specially authorized and required, at the expense of the United States, to institute proceedings against every person who shall violate the provisions of this act, and it is made the duty of the circuit courts of the United States, and the superior courts of the Territories, from time to time to increase the number of commissioners, so as to afford a speedy and convenient means for the arrest and examination of persons charged with a violation of this act.

Sec. 5. The commissioners are empowered to have concurrent jurisdiction with United States circuit and district judges, and territorial judges, both in term time and vacation.

Sec. 6. United States marshals and their deputies are required to obey all warrants issued under this act. In case of refusal, they may be fined one thousand dollars each, for the use of the person upon whom the accused is alleged to have committed the offense. The commissioners are empowered to appoint county assistants to execute warrants, and the latter may call for assistance upon bystanders, or summon a posse comitatus, or the military and naval forces.

Sec. 7. Any person who shall knowingly and wrongfully obstruct, hinder or prevent any officer or other person charged with the execution of any warrant or process issued under this act, or any person or persons lawfully assisting, or attempt to rescue prisoners from custody, is subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and imprisonment not exceeding six months, by indictment before the United States district court or the proper court of criminal jurisdiction, if committed within any one of the organized Territories of the United States.

Sec. 8. The district attorneys, marshals, and their deputies, and clerks of district and territorial courts, shall be paid for their services the fees allowed for similar services in other cases; and in all cases where the proceedings are before a commissioner, he shall be entitled to a fee of ten dollars in full for his services in each case, inclusive of all services incident to such arrest and examination. The person or persons authorized to execute the process issued by commissioners for the arrest of offenders shall be entitled to a fee of five dollars for each person arrested, with such other fees as may be deemed reasonable by the commissioner—to be paid out of the treasury of the United States, on the certificate of the district within which the arrest is made, and recoverable from the defendant as part of the judgment in case of conviction.

Sec. 9. Whenever the President of the United States shall have reason to believe that offences have been or are likely to be committed against the provisions of this act, it shall be lawful for him, in his discretion, to direct the judge, marshal and district attorney of the district to attend at such place within the district, and at such time as he may designate, for the purpose of the more speedy arrest and trial of persons charged with a violation of this act; and it shall be the duty of every judge or other officer, when any such requisition shall be received by him, to attend at the place and for the time therein designated.

Sec. 10. That it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, or such persons as he may empower for that purpose, to employ such part of the land or naval forces of the United States, or of the militia, as shall be necessary to prevent the violation and enforce the due execution of this act.

Sec. 11. That upon all questions of law arising in any cause under the provisions of this act, a final appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

THE DRY TORTUGAS PRISONERS.—The government transport Eliza Hancox, from Galveston on the 22d ult., touching the Florida coast, brings to Fortress Monroe several discharged prisoners and news of Dr. Mudd, Arnold, Spangler and Col. Marmaduke.

Dr. Mudd, who at one time attempted to escape, is still kept under close guard, and compelled to clean out the bastions in the casemates of the fort, and do some of the most menial and degrading work required to be done. Never very robust, he is now but little more than a skeleton, and his growing emanciation shows how bitterly his spirit chafes under his imprisonment. His constant prayer is for death.

Arnold is employed as clerk of Captain Van Reade, post adjutant. He is an uncommonly fine penman and accurate accountant, and wellbehaved and modest and yielding in his demeaner. He grows in usefulness and popularity each day. A guard attends him to his meals, which are the same as the other prisoners', and at night he is kept in close custody.

Spangler is at work in the quartermaster's carpenter shop. Already he begins to count the years, months and days remaining to complete his term of imprisonment. He is robust and jolly—a physical condition he attributes, however, solely to his being innocent of any participancy in the dreadful crime charged against him.

Colonel Marmaduke, found guilty of the noted conspiracy to free the prisoners at Camp Douglas and burn Chicago, has charge of the post garden. In respect to manual labor he has an easy time.

THE VETO POWER.—In connection with the passage of the civil rights bill by a two-thirds vote of Congress over the head of the President, it has been stated that this is the second instance of the kind in the history of the country, the first occurring during the administration of Mr. Tyler. The veto power has not been exercised much of late years, though the predecessors of President Johnson have frequently exercised the prerogative.—President Washington issued two vetoes during the terms of his administration, Madison 6, Monroe 1, Andrew Jackson 9, John Tyler 4, Polk 3, Buchanan, 1 and Andrew Johnson 2—total 26.

A NATIONAL JOHNSON CLUB has been formed in Washington, of which the Hon. Montgomery Blair is President, and a Vice President for each State. C. J. M. Gwinn, E-q., is the Vice President for Maryland.

"The National Intelligencer" says, "the gentlemen whose names are presented exhibit the fact that former party ties are merged in this effort to aid in the support of the policy of the President."

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—The vote of the entire State for Governor shows the following result: Hawley, rep, 43,847; English, dem., 43,248—republican majority 590.

TAX COLLECTORS.—The Commissioners of Queen Anne's have appointed the following tax collectors: First district, Jas. B. Roe; second, Wm. C. Dudley; third, John Palmer; fourth, Wm. S. Price; fifth, Thomas E. Bailey.
