ROCK HALL REPORTER

Special Service Planned At Wesley Chapel

Wesley Chapel has about completed preparations for the reopening and Memorial Day service next Sunday. The interior is very pretty with the walls newly done in pale green and the woodwork in mahogany. A memorial window "In memory of Samuel Burgess, 1841-1929," presented by Mrs. Burgess, and a white marble slab, "In memoriam,

Methodist Protestant Ministers:

Resting at Wesley Chapel:

Charles Rigby 1782-1830;
William Kesley, died 1841;
Daniel W. Bates, 1815-1895;
Jesse Shreeve, 1824-1902;
James L. Elderdice, 1858-1934;

Presented by Young Men's Bible Class 1935," will be unveiled and dedicated at the afternoon service beginning at 2 o'clock. There will be services from 9:30 in the morning and at night. All are invited.

The 220 who were present last Sunday at church school in Wesley Chapel Hall will have the additional space of the church again next Sunday. The sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Donoway, appealed greatly to those present. In the evening Mrs. Elwood Burgess lead the Christian Endeavor meeting. The theme was "The Life That Counts" and the topic "The Invincible Good Will of Jesus." After an instrumental selection "I Would Be True" was sung. This was followed by prayer and a duet "Have Thine Own Way" sung by Jesse Downey and Thomas Warner. Song "Back of the Clouds"; then a scripture reading by Miss Louise Coleman; a cornet solo by Jesse Downey; reading by Mrs. Burgess; a vocal trio "Speak to My Heart" by the Messrs. Thomas Warner, Jesse Downey and Emory Hogans, Jr.; a talk by Mrs. Wiley and closing song, "Let the Beauty of Jesus."

Raum Chapel had 86 at Sunday School last Sunday afternoon. Next Sunday the school will begin at 9 A. M. At night Christian Endeavor was lead by Miss Edna Dierker. Opening with the hymn "Be Like Jesus," prayer followed led by James Boulter; "His Wonderful Love" was the next song, then the topic, "The Invincible Good Will of God," was explained by the leader. There were several readings and the service closed with hymn "Into My Heart." The Harmony Club is planning a treat, a hot dog roast on the hall lawn next Friday night.

The series of meetings at the Adventist Church is being well attended. Monday night the subject was "Christ's Incarnation Upon Earth" and it was completed Tuesday night. The services are conducted by Evangelist G. W. Lawrence, a missionary retired from the West Indies of which he talks entertainingly. His topics for the next ten days are as follows:

Wednesday—Subject, "The return of Christ back to his earth. What will it mean to you?"

Sunday—"The signs of Christ's coming. In the Political, Religious and Social world."

Tuesday, May 28—"What is the soul? Is it something separate from the body? Where does it go at death?"

Wednesday, May 29—"Punishment of the wicked—how long do they burn?"

Thursday, May 30 — "Heaven, where is it? What is it? Will we be real beings in a real world or spiritual beings in a spiritual world "

Sunday, June 2—Where will the righteous and the wicked spend the thousand years of the Millennium "

The Sabbath spirit and lovely weather drew large congregations to the Rock Hall Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday. After beautiful lessons—"The Meaning of Baptism" in the adult department—there was a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Conrad Hamer, from Genesis 28:16, 17. At night Miss Beatrice Berger lead Epworth League. Besides songs and prayer there was a duet, "Whispering Hope," by Mrs. Lillian Crouch and Mrs. Frances Taylor; a solo, "Some Day I'll Understand," by Rev. Hamer; readings by Miss Berger, Miss Mildred Warner, Mrs. Hamer, Carl Orr and Mc[illegible] Call Ayres. The sermon text was Romans 6:6 and the subject "Old Man Sin." Announcements were Class and prayer Monday night; League meeting Tuesday night; a minstrel show by talent from Union Chapel on Crumpton charge on Wednesday night at the church house; choir practice at which a full attendance is asked Friday night; attendance at the "Evening of Music" next Monday in Chestertown is requested; an invitation to attend Memorial Day services next Sunday afternoon at Wesley Chapel.

Mrs. Elizabeth Casey is visiting with relatives in Baltimore.

Mrs. Margaret Ellmer and two grandchildren, Emerald and James Lowry were week end guests from Baltimore of the former's sister, Mrs. George Ayres and Capt. Ayres.

A birthday dinner was given Sunday to Miss Clara Hill on her 17th anniversary. Her guests were Miss Edna Dierker and Miss Girlie LeCompte of Rock Hall, Miss Charlotte Dennis of Sparrow's Point, Raymond LeCompte, Stanley and Melvin Boulter. After dinner the young people motored to Sparrow's Point where they were guests of Miss Dennis for the remainder of the day, returning at night.

The yacht Edris, E. P. duPont owner, has been completely outfitted by a construction company of Wilmington, Del., and left Georgetown Saturday for a ten days cruise to North Carolina with Capt. Hillry B. Akers in command. Recent Sunday guests of Capt. and Mrs. Akers were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hamer and sons, Benjamin and Earl, of Chesapeake City.

Clyde Adkins has rented a dwelling, Maple Croft, on the Crosby Brothers farm and will bring an interesting family from Cecilton for residence.

Mrs. Annie Taylor, Mrs. Bessie Cornelius and little Hilda, spent over night Monday in Wilmington with Walter Taylor and family, Mrs. John Jones accompanied them as far as Chesapeake City where she visited her sister, Mrs. Luthringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Taylor had as recent week end guests from Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Harris and Mrs. May Stinchcomb and two children. Mrs. Taylor was so unfortunate as to injure a foot Monday by stepping on a nail.

Oswald Jones was badly hurt Monday morning at a saw mill at Kent Point. the same one where James Coleman was so badly injured a couple of weeks ago. After shutting the power off and before the saw lost all motion it slashed him in the side, cutting through a leather belt. He was attended by a doctor who sewed up the wound and administered serum to prevent tetanus. He is now at the home of Albert Chaires. James Coleman spent overnight in Washington Monday and must return there again Friday. He is attended by a special surgeon and every effort is made to cause the crushed bones of the face to knit without changing his physiognormy. Mrs. Coleman accompanies her husband on his trips and the time is spent with his sister, Mrs. Daniel Fisher. Marion Coleman finds that his treatments consist mostly of a special diet.

Newton Downey received a couple of broken ribs when cranking a truck several days ago.

George N. Coleman, Jr., is a guest from Philadelphia with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Coleman in their Sharp street home.

Mrs. Charles Kemp, Baltimore, was a guest last week of her mother, Mrs. Charles H. Jones, and other relatives.

People are preparing for clean homes or an influx of visitors or something else that calls for paperhangers—anyway, they are the busy people just now.

There will be a dance tomorrow night at Junior Order hall, the last of the season with Basil Sadler and his orchestra. The next offering at the picture parlor is "Princess O'Hara."

People were saddened when word was received Sunday that Miss Madge Crawford was dead at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mildred Bowersock, in Baltimore. The interment took place at St. Paul's cemetery at 1 P. M. Sunday. Miss Crawford was universally loved and admired for her cheerful, friendly disposition and will linger long in the memory of Kent people.

Prof. William Stange makes frequent visits to his summer bungalow and appears to be preparing for the season in the country.

Boys at the High School are very pleased that they won 90 points at the field and track meet in Chestertown Monday. Here are some of their successes: 95 lb. class—Edward Hudson, third place in baseball throw for distance; 440 yards—Relay team, second place; 115 lb. class—Speedball team, light weight championship; P. Riehl, third place in baseball throw for accuracy; Charles Jacquette, second place in 70 yard dash; Junior unlimited class—Arthur Urie, won 80 yard dash and Harold Jones won second place; John Jacquette won the high jump in this class with Arthur Urie second. Senior unlimited class—Leonard Leary, won 100 yard dash and Randolph Jacquette was third. Running broad jump—Edgar Strong first, Thomas Warner third; Leonard Leary won the soccer kick for distance, Charles Joyner second, Randolph Jacquette third. The soccer team was coached both last year and this by Sam Holmes. The boys lost last year but Monday proved that his coaching has not been in vain. The 1640 yard relay won second place. The heavy weight speedball team won the championship. Rock Hall first defeated Chestertown then played Millington ten innings. Spectacular catches were made by E. Strong and some very good hits by T. Warner and W. Orr. The girls won second place in run and catch relay. Rock Hall teams did very well when the size of the school is compared with the other schools of the county and the number of students entered in events.

People of the poorer classes in Jamaica use table salt and twigs of a bush known as chew stick for cleaning teeth.

The decreasing number of whales in Japanese waters has forced Japanese whalers to take long voyages into the artic and antarctic to seek supplies for industry.
