LETTER OF GEN. JOHN A. DIX:

This distinguished gentleman addressed an admirable letter to the chairman of the great meeting recently held at Brooklyn, New York, in endorsement of President Johnson's patriotic policy. It is marked with the acknowledged ability of the writer, and states the case clearly and vigorously. We commend the following extracts to careful perusal:

From an early period after the close of the war, it was understood that when the Southern States should have given their assent to the amendment of the Constitution abolishing slavery, and repudiated the debts contracted to overthrow the Government, they should be permitted to resume their places in the Union, and to be represented in both Houses of Congress. The exaction of new conditions is a violation of that understanding, and it is calculated to prolong the separation of the States, against which we carried on, for four years, a sanguinary war, and to widen a breach which it is our duty, by all just and practicable measures, to repair and heal.

That there will be, for a long time to come, much hostile feeling at the South, must be expected as a necessary consequence of the war. But it is in the power of each House of Congress to refuse to receive as representatives persons who are not loyal to the Union, and thus to exclude from all participation in the enactment of laws those who would be disposed to pervert the legislation of the country to its injury. The right course is very clear to my own judgment. It seems to me to be utterly incompatible with the principles of our political organization to exercise in peace a control over the affairs of any State which is not represented in the legislative body. The existing condition of things is anomalous, and should for the general good be terminated as speedily as possible. Whatever inconveniences may result from the prompt admission of the Southern representatives, I can find none so prejudicial in their influence as the example, under a representative system like ours, of denying to one-fourth of the people of the country a voice in their own government.

In view of the great public interest involved in a speedy restoration of the States, quo ante bellum, and laying aside, as every patriotic citizen should, all personal and party considerations, I deeply deplore the differences of opinion which exist between the Executive and Legislative branches of the Government, and continue to prevent a concurrence in some common plan of adjustment which will re-establish the former relations of the States to each other, and leave the talent and industry of the country free to work out the prosperity it is destined to attain.

Believing the policy of the President best calculated to serve this result, it is my earnest desire that it may be carried out. * * * * JOHN A. DIX.

THE INTERVIEW OF MRS. DAVIS WITH HER HUSBAND.—A letter from Fortress Monroe, speaking of the interview of Mrs. Jefferson Davis with her husband, on the 3d inst., says:

Mr. Davis had been apprised of her coming. Within fifteen minutes from the time of her admission to the fort she was with him in Carroll Hall. Lieutenant Fessenden bore her company. She has remained with Mr. Davis all day, and took dinner with him. An officer has been constantly in the same room. Their meeting was a tender and affecting one, as such a meeting must naturally be after such a protracted separation, and particularly under the circumstances attending their separation. She confesses finding Mr. Davis in better health than she had expected, but still avers that he is much feebler than when brought here. She is every way satisfied with the treatment he has received, and acknowledges that everything, saving his restoration to liberty, has been done for him that could be. To Dr. Cooper, his medical attendant and adviser, she is especially thankful, and gives him the unqualified credit of keeping him as well and cheerful as he is. Mrs. Davis is accompanied by her youngest child, a sprightly girl, twenty months old.

REMEDY FOR CHOLERA.—The following extract from the letter of a clergyman to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland presents a very simple, and, he says, effectual preventive of cholera, as well as a remedy of great power:

The preventive is simple—a teaspoonful of powdered charcoal taken three or four times a week, in a cup of coffee or other liquid in the morning. When attacked with cholera, a mixture of an ounce of charcoal, an ounce of laudanum and an ounce of brandy or other spirits may be given, as follows, after being well shaken: A teaspoonful every five minutes. In half an hour I have known this effectually to relieve and stay the disease. As tha patient becomes better, the mixture may be given at longer intervals. I have known a patient in the blue stage, and collapsed, perfectly recovered in a few hours.

The charcoal was tried as a preventive on a large plantation in the Mauritius, and but a single individual out of eight hundred was lost.

THE MISSOURI TEST OATH.—Hon. John Hogan, member of Congress from St. Louis, asserts that the Supreme Court of the United States decided against the constitutionality of the Missouri test-oath, and that when the decisions of the last term are published, it will so appear. This, he says, he has been told by the judges themselves.

SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.

200 LBS. SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO contains 70 lbs. animal matter, yielding 7 to 8 lbs. ammonia.

Also 80 to 90 lbs. earthy bone Phosphate of Lime, 30 lbs. of which are soluble Phosphate.

It combines all the advantages of the best brands of Super Phosphate, with those of Peruvian Guano.

By reason of its greater concentration, we recommend 20 per ct. less by weight to be used per acre, than of any fertilizer costing the same per ton; and no more per acre than of those selling at 20 per ct. more per ton. Hence its economy.

This Guano weighs 65 lbs. per bushel, hence in applying it farmers must be governed by weight and not by bulk, for it is much lighter than the Super Phosphates. Every cargo duly inspected.

"FLOUR OF BONE."

WE will give a money guarantee of the purity of this article. It is pure unsteamed, unburnt bone, reduced to the fineness of flour, which adds 100 per cent. to its value. It is as quick and active, as acid dissolved bone, hence its value is vastly greater, because it contains neither acid nor water, which necessarily add weight, and reduce the quantity of valuable elements. We recommend 250 lbs. to be used in place of 300 lbs. Super Phosphate or dissolved bone.
