The Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN:

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 23, 1866.

THE NEWS.

General Lewis Cass died at his home in Detroit on Sunday evening last, in the 83d year of his age. General Cass entered public life as a member of the Ohio Legislature in 1806, and was subsequently a Representative in Congress, Senator, and subsequently Secretary of State under Mr. Buchanan. He was the Democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1848, but was defeated by General Tyler, the Whig candidate.

Colonel W. W. Seaton, so long connected with the National Intelliyencer, died at Washington on Saturday of cancer in the face, in the 82d year of his age.

Mr. Joseph N. Goldsborough, of Queen Anne's county, says the use of his name as a member of the State Central Committee of the Unconditional Union party is unauthorized by him, and he declines to serve on such Committee.

Santa Anna is trying to buy the equestrian portrait of Gen. Scott, now in the capitol at Washington. It is suggested that he ought to be able to remember Gen. Scott without his portrait to look at.

Gen. Rousseau, Congressman from Ky., last week caned Mr. Grinnell, Representative from Iowa, for offensive language used in debate. The Philadelphia Inquirer regards it as another "Brooks and Sumner affair."

THE RISE IN GOLD.—The enormous rise in gold seems only a matter of course, after the unprecedentedly heavy shipments to Europe—some forty millions within the past few weeks; and although the Tribune considered it, a few days ago, as rather a sign of health, financially, than otherwise, it now cries out vehemently for a more stringent tariff to keep the nation from bankrupting itself with the purchase abroad of "knick-knacks and gewgaws."

Whether the squally look matters are assuming financially will induce the "reconstruction" members at Washington to think that there are still a few white people left to legislate for, is questionable; but it is evident that the Tribune has at last awakened to the fact that Congress had better have done something in accordance with the wishes of the Secretary of the Treasury, backed by those of the people. We quote the concluding paragraph of the article dealing with the recent rise in gold:

"Gentlemen in Congress! most of you will ere long meet the laborers for wages at the polls. If you think 60 or 70 per cent. premium on gold, with inevitably corresponding prices for food and clothing, will commend you to their favor, you are wofully in error. We entreat you not to leave Washington without giving the Secretary of the Treasury all the power to contract and to fund that he will accept. You cannot afford to leave matters as they are; and—what is of far more consequence—the country cannot afford it. Be wise in time!"

BREAKERS AHEAD.

We have heretofore undertaken to present in our own way, the political difficulty threatening to grow out of the persistent refusal of a majority in Congress to receive members from the Southern States. The following clear and pointed view of the case is from the New York Times a Republican paper:

Suppose matters to stand in 1866 substantially as they stand to-day—none of the Southern States represented in Congress. Is it not reasonably certain that they will all be represented in the Democratic nominees?—Now suppose their votes, together with those of Northern States that may vote the Democratic ticket, constitute a majority of the electoral college—what will be the result? It may be said their votes will not be counted.—Congress containing only Northern members—the South not being represented in it—will reject them. Will that rejection be accepted by the country? Will the mass of the Southern people, or the mass of the Democratic party in the North, acquiesce in it? And would not such resistance be most menacing to the peace of the country? That would not be an attempt at secession; it would be in no sense a sectional conflict; it would present to the country and the world the aspect of a majority of the people insisting upon their right to control the Government, as against the unconstitutional usurpation of the minority.

SALE OF TOWN PROPERTY.—Attention is called to the sale of valuable town property at the Voshell House, in Chestertown, on Tuesday next, by J. A. Wickes, Esq., Trustee.

We have understood that the M. E. Sabbath School have decided to have an Excursion to Annapolis in the course of two or three weeks. Tuesday, July 10th, has been suggested, but the time will be definitely announced in advertisements and handbills.

THE M. E. Sabbath School of Church Hill will have an excursion to Annapolis, on the steamer Chester, on Tuesday afternoon next, leaving Chestertown at 1½ o'clk.

LARGE SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

The sales of Kent county lands in Chestertown on Tuesday and Wednesday last, by Richard Hynson, Esq., as Executor of Edward Comegys, dec'd, and Attorney for other parties, was by far the largest that has taken place in our county for many years, and notwithstanding the presence here of capitalists from other States, not a single tract was purchased by parties outside of the county. The sales in the aggregate embraced four thousand, one and three-quarter acres, and brought an average of fifty-three dollars, sixty-seven and a-half cents per acre, making a total of two hundred and fourteen thousand, seven hundred and ninety-four dollars, and seven and a-half cents. The following are the tracts disposed of, with the names of the parties purchasing:

DR. MURRAY'S LECTURE ON "SUNSHINE" was delivered at Wesley Chapel to a highly appreciative audience on Monday evening last, and gave unalloyed satisfaction. Leaving to astronomers and chemists the more scientific discussion of the relation of sunshine, and activeism, he gave the matter-of-fact view of its constant, visible and material effects, and applied it figuratively to sunshine in the family, produced by the true wife, the kind husband, and the baby. Then in the street and workshop, and to all secular concerns, showing how valuable and yet how cheap civility and courtesy are. Next, its effect in the Church, and then in political life, and lastly the effect of sunshine in the heart, dispelling the clouds of discontent, and, based upon a conscience void of offence toward God and man, and a calm confidence in the wisdom and power of Divine Providence, serenely awaiting the blessed results sure to flow from the sunshine of the heart.

THE STEAMER KENT ISLAND, on her regular trip to Chestertown, on Thursday last, got aground at Rolph's Wharf, and up to this writing has not succeeded in getting off. The excursionists here who were anticipating much pleasure from a trip to West River in the afternoon, were thus disappointed, and, to make "the best of it," our friend Russell, the charterer, disposed of his fine assortment of Refreshments on the Court House green, while our citizens were afforded the pleasure during the evening, of listening to some excellent music from Prof. Redue's Band.

HARVEST.—General wheat harvest in this county will range from the 28th of June to the 4th of July. The recent fine rains have been of great service to the crop, the weather has been favorable for maturing and ripening the grain, and the yield will be better than was anticipated several weeks ago.

EXCURSION TO PORT DEPOSIT.—The M. P. Sabbath School connected with Christ Church, Chestertown, have decided to have an excursion on or about the 18th of July; the proceeds to be appropriated to assist in the erection of a new school room.

THE KENT COUNTY RAILROAD.—The following proceedings of the recent Railroad meeting at Galena, we copy from the Transcript:

At a meeting of the friends of the Kent County Railroad, held in Galena on the 9th instant, John M. Comegys was called to the chair, and C. J. Scott appointed Secretary. The object of the meeting was stated by J. O. Slay, Esq., of Chestertown, who was followed by Major Biggs of Delaware, in a clear and elaborate address, showing the advantages that must accrue to this and adjoining counties by the completion of this road. After which the stock book was open and the sum of four thousand and twenty-five dollars subscribed as new stock beside a large amount was transferred from the old book.

Upon motion the Chair appointed J. B. Fennimore and Samuel Townsend, Esqs., of Delaware, and Col. Richard C. Johnson, of Maryland, a committee to confer with the President of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company, and accept his offer of an engineer and assistant to survey and estimate the cost of two proposed routes, from the Delaware Railroad into the State of Maryland to or near Massey's X Roads, take charge of the funds intended to bear the expense of the survey and disburse the same, and accompany, if in their judgment it be necessary, the surveying party; and report to the Chairman of this meeting.

A CASE OF CHOLERA IN BALTIMORE.—A fatal case of cholera occurred on Sunday evening, resulting in the death, after an illness of twelve hours, of Mr. Wm. Howard Mann, aged about 44 years, a member of the firm of John Mann & Sons, livery stable keepers. From the attending physician the following facts were elicited. Mr. Mann had been for some weeks past in New York, and whilst there had nursed his room-mate, who was supposed to have an attack of the cholera, but who recovered. Mr. Mann started from New York for Baltimore on Saturday night, complaining of diarrhea, which rather increased during the trip. On his arrival here on Sunday morning at about eight o'clock, he proceeded to the Eutaw House, and thence walked to his residence, No. 327 North Eutaw street, near Hoffman street. Getting worse, Professor N. R. Smith, and several other physicians were summoned about midday on Sunday, but the disease had made such rapid progress as to defy medical skill, and he died at eight P. M. in a state of collapse. The physicians declared it to be a case of pure Asiatic cholera. It will be observed that the disease was contracted in New York after being for sometime in contact with it, and the symptoms were well defined before Mr. Mann reached here. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Drs. Morgan and White, health commissioners, took the precaution early on yesterday of liberally distributing deoderizers and disinfecting agents in the vicinity, and no apprehensions are felt that there is any more danger of the cholera here now than heretofore.—Balt. Sun of Tuesday.

A NEGRO COURT.—The Crumpton Gazette of last week has the following particulars of a novel court recently in session in that vicinity:

On Saturday last a court of negroes convened at the fish-house on the shore at this place and proceeded to the trial of one of their number for larceny. It appears that the offender was good for nothing, being too lazy to earn an honest livelihood, and to keep up appearances watched his opportunity and entered the houses of his neighbors during their absence and appropriated whatever of their goods his wants demanded; lately he made a descent upon a colored man's house and took a suit of clothes. He was arrested with part of the clothes upon him, brought before this quondam court, stripped of the stolen goods, and, upon due consideration, sentenced to receive twenty lashes upon the bare back, which were administered then and there by one of the members of the court. The scene caused considerable merriment.

A Prize Fight on the Potomac.

One of those contests of brute force, called "prize fights," took place Wednesday morning near Pohick creek, on the Potomac river, about 23 miles below Washington. From the account of the affair given in the Washington Star, the following is taken:

The fight was between Samuel Collier, of Baltimore, and Barney Aarons, of New York, for $600 a side and the championship of the light weights. Aarons is a puligist of note, having been the victor in some half dozen contests.

About 12 o'clock on Tuesday night two steamboats left Washington for the scene of the fight, carrying about 500 men.—The Point of referee having been settled, and the other arrangements completed, Collier entered the ring at a quarter before eight, and the men having shaken hands and taken position, the fight commenced.

Aarons's fighting weight was 128 pounds that of Collier 125½ pounds. The first blood and first knock-down was awarded to Aarons, on the fourth round. Aarons, who is noted for his activity and manœuvering tactics, resorted occasionally to the drop down policy illustrated by Sayers in his fight with Heenan, but not beyond the rules of the ring.

At the tenth round Aarons began to show signs of distress; and evidently lacked the powers of endurance of his more youthful adversary. In the eleventh round he staggered visibly, and got into the middle of the ring with difficulty, but afterwards rallied, and showed himself as active on his feet as when he first entered the ring. His hands, however, were puffed up so that he could not deal effective blows. Through his activity he succeeded in hitting Collier much oftener than he was hit himself, but Collier's powers of endurance enabled him to pull through. Collier's hands began to swell early in the fight, and one eye was closed after the first hour.

Before the close of the fight both of Aarons' eyes were so nearly closed that he was almost blinded, but persisted in fighting on. It was painfully evident, however, to his backers that his best fighting days were over, and that he stood no chance with his athletic young opponent, who seemed capable of standing any amount of pounding; and at the end of the 47th round the seconds of Aarons threw up the sponge, the fight having lasted two hours and five minutes; Both Collier and Aarons were so much exhausted and so nearly blind at the end of the fight that it was requisite to carry them to the boats on stretchers.

THE CHOLERA IN NEW YORK.—The Tribune, of Monday, says:

Since our last report five new cases of cholera have made their appearance in this city, four of which proved fatal.

DEATHS.

In Chestertown, on the 20th instant, after a short illness of typhoid pneumonia, ABSALOM DOBBS, aged about 44 years, leaving a large family to mourn their irreparable loss.

In Chestertown, June 24th, of Diptheria, EMMER KATE, only daughter of Wm. and Sarah L. Wagner, aged 1 year, 7 mos., 6 days.

This was quite an interesting little girl, too pure, too angelic for earth. Strong indeed were the ties of attachment and love manifested by fond parents for this only idol of their household. But "God gave, He it is who hath taken away;" therefore, parents, suffer your grief to be assuaged, for all of little Emmer was not deposited in the cold grave; that which was earthly has returned to the earth, still that precious gem lives, not on earth, but amid the glories of the celestial world.

And though there blooms one flower less,
To cheer life's thorny way,
That little bud of promise now
Blooms in eternal day.

Then dry thy tears, fond mother, sad,
Nor wrap thy soul in gloom,
Thy darling lives for thee above,
Far, far beyond the tomb.

And father, let the hope be sweet,
That thou may'st meet again
Thy Emmer, where there falls no tear,
And parting brings not pain. F.
