CENTREVILLE IN UPROAR

Arrest Of Negro Supect In Assault Case Stirs Residents.

Centreville, Md., Nov. 13—Centreville is in the throes of intense excitment as the result of the arrest of a negro suspect in the case of Mrs. Henrietta Meredith, who was assaulted in her bedroom in the suburbs of Centreville last Wednesday night and left bound and helpless. The affair is the sole topic of conversation, and feeling is running high against the suspect, the officers having declared that they have considerable evidence against him. How far their investigations have gone they will not disclose. It is believed that should the Man—Charles Anderson, alias Grantner—prove to be the person for whom the authorities have been looking, summary justice will be dealt out at a rope's end.

The case is aggravated by the fact that there are several hundred women in Centreville who live in isolated sections of the city, where crimes of this sort might easily be perpetrated at any time. As a result the people of the city are incensed to the degree of expressing their sentiments in a manner similiar to that in the case of Asbury Green, colored, who was lynched here in 1891 by a mob after he had been found guilty of assaulting a young women of Kent Island.

At the time of Anderson's arrest the officers feared trouble would be caused by the young negroes. When the prisoner reached the jail about 50 negroes had gathered about the public square, and Sheriff Whitely rushed the prisoner to the cell. Anderson was under the influence of liquor when arrested, and the "third degree" was not given him until late this morning.

He told four entirely different stories as to his movements on the night of the crime. When seen by the Sun Correspondent he would say nothing other than he was innocent of the crime.

Mrs. Meredith is a small woman, considerably less than 5 feet tall, and is 63 years old. Although well advanced in years, she is unusually strong for a woman of her size, but the nervous strain of the last three days has told greatly on her physical condition. She is still as brave, however, as when she first refused to heed the protests of her friends to remain away from the house, and declares that she will assist in every way possible to bring the guilty man to justice. She will appear before Justice Tilghman in the preliminary hearing Monday evening. Owing to the intense feeling aroused the hearing will be held in a cell in the county jail.

A meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the lecture room of the M. E. Church. Mrs. E. D. Huntley, of Washington, D. C., Foreign Corresponding Secretary of the Baltimore Branch, addressed the meeting and gave an interesting account of the work done the past year. Mrs. Huntley has just returned from the general executive meeting at Pittsburg. This society is the largest and raises the most money of any Woman's Society in the United States and reaches from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast. Last year eleven branches, with 250,000 members, including the young people, raised $695,000 but this was not enough money to carry on the splendid work, and Mrs. Huntley is here in behalf of the society to get more members, which, of course means more money. Mrs. Huntley expects to be here two weeks and while here will visit the auxiliaries of the Baltimore branch. The general executive meeting was held this year at Pittsburg, next year it will be held at Boston. There are two secretaries—corresponding and associate, also two delegates sent each year. In the 40 years this society has been in existence they have raised $10,000,000.
