TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Messrs. Editors:—It was my good fortune to be a spectator of the proceedings of the Teachers' Institute at Chestertown during the last week in June. It was with great interest that I listened to the debates upon the various subjects. There seemed to be the greatest harmony of feeling, though sometimes difference of opinion. The debates brought before the Society almost every possible mode of inducting knowledge into the minds of children, and the teachers were at liberty to choose after having the plans and their advantages and disadvantages thoroughly discussed. Everything connected with teaching was discussed in all its lights and shadows; from teaching the alphabet, to general school discipline and the duties of the teacher himself. I was much impressed by one fact presented to the meeting—it was this: that one-half, if not more, of the time spent in the school-room was devoted to arithmetic. It was generally conceded that although mathematics is the study to develop the reasoning powers of the mind, is the instrument by which we may grasp the "wonders of the universe," yet it is not equal in importance to all the other studies of the school-room, and the time spent on it at present should be curtailed.

The importance of acquainting the youngest children with form, size and color, was urged upon the meeting, and impressed by several examples of its want among the people generally. A silk hat was held up before the members, and several essayed to mark its height upon the wall. None succeeded—showing by this simple example how void we are of the knowledge of the size of things we see every day.

When I heard of the Institute, like many others, I conceived it to be a waste of time; but having seen its workings, I am convinced that more was really done towards the proper education of the children of this county during that week, than has been done in the different schools during the last three months; and all the visitors with whom I have spoken concur with me in this opinion.

The "new system" may yet prove, and I hope it will, to be vastly superior to our old style of doing things; though it may take some time to eradicate our prejudices. I am persuaded that as a consequence of this meeting, it will bring itself more into favor during the coming session: for the effects must be seen.

I am happy to see that the teachers from all parts of the State have resolved to meet in convention in Baltimore during some week of the coming vacation, to forward the interests of education.

God speed them in their laudable enterprise! and may the generation that is to succeed us, be better educated and consequently better qualified to fill their positions in society than we are to fill ours, is the prayer of the SPECTATOR.

THE Baltimore American pronounces the doctrine of "State Sovereignty" a "damnable heresy," and says it is the mission of the Radical party "to sink it so deep that resurrection cannot reach it." The American is a real consolidationist, and teaches that the true doctrine is to concentrate all the powers of the government in a malignant and corrupt Congress. It will be strange indeed if the American people do not vote this doctrine a "damnable heresy," and "bury" the advocates of it "so deep that resurrection cannot reach them." Already the popular uprisings of the loyal masses in support of the Philadelphia Convention, has sounded the death knell of the Radical consolidationists.

THE DORCHESTER RAILROAD.—The preliminary survey of the Dorchester and Delaware Railroad commenced on Tuesday, the 19th of June last, and was completed on the 6th instant. There were two lines run; one from near Mill street, on the land of Mr. Samuel Byrn, the other from the mouth of Cambridge creek, on the land of Mr. T. T. Martin, running to Seaford and Bridgeville. A map of this survey will be completed in a few days by the engineer, Mr. S. D. Hessey, of Delaware, and laid before the company. After their determination upon what point of connection with the Delaware road will be of most value, &c., the direct route will be surveyed.—Cambridge News.

WENDELL PHILLIPS ON THE RAMPAGE.—At Farmingham, Mass., on the Fourth of July, there was an anti slavery meeting, at which Mr. Wendell Phillips was the principal speaker. His speech belonged to the heated term order, and its general character can be inferred from the following:

"Our leaders in Congress know that the amendment will be rejected. Of course it will be. The President has put his foot down against it, and has warned the Southern States not to endorse it. He has told them in so many words that they will have his support in refusing to ratify it. It is not possible, therefore, that the amendment will be accepted. The worst possible news that Thad. Stevens could hear would be the ratification to the amendment. I do not disgrace the whole proceedings when I say it is a party trick."

FOR RENT,

THE DWELLING HOUSE, at "The Cliffs," in the lower part of Quaker Neck, in Kent county, Md., and lately occupied by Mr. John D. Carter, will be rented for the present year. The whole property, including the cleared land, will be rented for the next year. Possession will be given on the 1st day of January next. For terms apply to

A SPECIFIC

For the Cure of Intermittent Fever!

A Sovereign Remedy for DYSPEPSIA, Anemia, Debility, and exhausted vital forces.

The Remedy here offered is found to counteract and destroy the deleterious effects of Malaria, to enrich the blood, increase the circulation and to build up the exhausted and emaciated system. It is not a secret nostrum. The formula is published with each parcel to relieve the odium attached to proprietary preparations. It is understood by Physicians, and will merit your praise if necessity requires you to give it a trial.

DEAR SIR:—My daughter suffered from Chills for a long time and the various so-called remedies gave no relief. Having procured some of your Anti-Chill Pills, I gave eight of them, and since then she has had no symptoms of the disease. She is hearty, cheerful, and in vigorous health, unlike the torpid, feeble creature she was while a prey to the fever. It gives me pleasure to put my name to the record, though unsolicited.
