Kent News

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1923

Morris A. Soper, Esq., has been confirmed as Federal Judge for the District of Baltimore, succeeding Judge John C. Rose, who was promoted recently to the Circuit Bench. It is confidently believed that Judge Soper will be a worthy successor to the popular Judge Rose.

Harding is slowly beginning to see the light. Without previous intimation of his purpose, President Harding has addressed a message to the Senate urging that this Government participate in the permanent Court of International Justice now organized and functioning at The Hague under the auspices of the League of Nations. In order that this nation might so participate, the President asks the Senate to adhere to the protocol under which the court created and that authority be given for America to be represented in both the council and the assembly of the league during the election of all judges of the court.

THE FARMER'S NEED

The News editors have been watching for sometime the efforts of Senators and Congressmen to solve the farmer's problem. The strenuous fight made for "farm credits" is exactly what the farmer does not want much less need. Judging by conditions in Kent county and this State, the farmer has been given credit beyond his needs or commensurate with his ability to pay. It is this fact that is largely to blame for the plight in which the farmer finds himself today.

We believe that the only way by which the farmer will be relieved from his present desperate condition is by the enactment of emergency legislation to stabilize the price of farm products to a level more nearly equal to the price that the farmer has to pay for articles which he purchases.

More credit, instead of helping, only aggravates the real trouble. Why give the farmer more money when he cannot pay interest on what he now owes? The farmer is not getting enough for what he raises. Every other class gets a cost plus a profit while for the last two years he has not gotten back the cost of production.

Here is the greatest single business in America capitalized at eighty billion dollars or four times the total capitalization of all the American railroads, with gross production values of only ten per cent of its capitalization. Think of any manufacturer surviving in such a condition. How can he survive if that situation continues? He cannot, and he is not surviving just now. The price of farm products are too low, because the price which the farmer is receiving for the surplus sold abroad determines the price which he gets for the balance sold at home.

Julius Barnes, President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, says that we exported annually during the last ten years just six and one-eighth per cent of our grain production. We are allowing the prices which Europe—sick and bankrupt—can give us for that 6 per cent sold abroad, to demoralize and disease and bankrupt our farmers in America. We protect American manufacturers against the competition of cheap labor and cheap goods of the world by means of a tariff wall and consider it good business.

John F. Sinclair, of Minneapolis, well asks, "Why should we not also protect the farmer against the competition of cheap labor and cheap goods of the world in the only way it can be done, by the government of the United States itself purchasing the surplus if necessary, and selling it to such countries as it can, and thereby allowing the prices paid for that 94 per cent sold at home to be sufficient for the farmer to pay his taxes, his interest and still have a little over for living expenses. Bring back the purchasing power to the American farmer and prosperity will return..

Weeks and months have been spent at Washington trying to pass a Ship Sudsidy Bill. What is needed is a Farm Subsidy Bill as noted above as the first thing for upon the farmer depends the world for its existence. Price stabilization of farm products will solve this problem.

If you want to see Maple avenue in Chestertown, improved by a stone road attend the meeting next Monday night at Imperial Hotel. Don't say "Let George do it" anl then criticise because it is such a lisgracefully muddy street.

Whew! What a record. A gentleman from Kent county who has been compelled to remain in Baltimore this winter with an infected hand gives as his unbiased opinion that 9 out of 10 homes there are making brew. "As soon as the front door is opened the odor greets you," says he.
