The Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN:

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 11, 1866.

For Comptroller of the Treasury:

COL. WILLIAM J. LEONARD,

OF WORCESTER COUNTY.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE—Commencement Exercises.—The annual Commencement Exercises of this venerable Institution took place, according to previous arrangement, in the College Hall, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday last.

The annual address before the Mount Vernon Literary Society was delivered on Monday evening, by J. Frank Hazell, Esq., of Symrna, Delaware. His subject —"March of American Mind"—was very ably handled, and was listened to with marked attention by a highly respectable and intelligent audience.

The Junior Exhibition came off on Tuesday evening, and consisted of two plays: "Paul Pry," a comedy in three acts; and "His Last Legs," a farce in two acts; in both of which all the parts were very creditably sustained.

The Commencement proper took place on Wednesday morning before a large and very intelligent audience. The Latin Salutatory was delivered by O. R. Benson, of Anne Arundel, and was a highly creditable performance. J. T. Spencer, of Queen Anne's, handled with marked ability the subject of "Beacon Lights," while nothing could have been more appropriate, or much better presented, than his valedictory. "Beauty," by Milnor Jones, of South Carolina, was a fine specimen of an easy and flowing style, perhaps a little too ornate, yet excusably so, considering the nature of his subject. The theme of C. T. Westcott, of Kent, was the "Power of Eloquence," and was exceedingly well delivered. "The Power of Imagination," by J. M. Brian, of Anne Arundel, was a very happy effort. "England in the time of Cromwell" was very well presented by E. F. C. Davis, of Kent. The last performance, "Love of Fame," was by Mr. O. R. Benson, and was both excellent and well delivered. A profusion of exquisite boquets rewarded the efforts of the young aspirants for the honors of old Washington. May their future be made as flowery by the gentle hand of woman.

The Degree of A. M. was conferred upon the following graduates: J. T. Spencer, O. R. Benson, Milnor Jones, C. T. Westcott, J. M. Brian, and E. F. C. Davis. Honorary Degrees were conferred upon several gentlemen, whose names we did not get.

The proceedings were brought to a close by the Baccalaureate Address by the Principal, Rev. A. J. Sutton, A. M. Chaste and elegant, yet abounding in strokes of humor, the address was replete with solid truth and wisdom, and met the hearty approbation of his auditors.

The exercises were interspersed with choice selections of music from Prof. Redue's Band.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. J. Leeds Barroll, of this town, was found dead in bed on Monday morning last. He retired on Sunday evening apparently in his usual health. Mr. B. was formerly State's attorney for this county, and commenced the publication of the Conservator in this town in 1859, which was suppressed at an early stage of the war for its alleged disloyal course, and the editor sent South. He was permitted to return, however, before the termination of hostilities, since which time he had confined himself to no particular business. He leaves a widow and several small children.

CAMP MEETING.—At the second quarterly conference of the M. P. Church for Kent circuit, held at Kennedyville, on Saturday last, it was decided to hold a camp meeting, to commence on Wednesday, the 22d instant, in Baker's woods.

THE VACANT ASSESSORSHIP.—Wm. C. Meginniss has been appointed an Assessor for this county, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of James L. Davis.

SERIOUS CHARGE.—Robert McCourt was arrested yesterday by Police Marshal Carmichael and Sergeant Stuck, on the charge of committing an outrage on the person of Mrs. Hattie E. Avery, of Lynn, Massachusetts. An examination took place before Justice Spicer, resulting in McCourt being committed for the action of the grand jury. It is alleged that the lady had only reached this city on Monday morning, having been sent for by her husband, (who has been employed near the city for some time,) with instructions to stop at the Susquehanna House, corner of Calvert and Franklin streets, where, she charges, the accused entered her room.—Balt. Sun, Wednesday.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The State Convention called by the Democratic State Central Committee of Maryland, for the purpose of taking action with reference to the Philadelphia National Convention, met in Baltimore on Wednesday, all the counties except four being represented. Hon. E. G. Kilbourn, of Anne Arundel, presided. A series of resolutions, conservative in tone and endorsing the course of President Johnson, were unanimously adopted. The following gentlemen were chosen delegates to the Philadelphia Convention:

For the State at Large—Hon. Thomas G. Pratt, H. G. S. Key, Judge R. B. Carmichael, and Isaac D. Jones.

First Congressional district—Joseph A. Wickes, Daniel M. Henry. Second district—Richard Grason, Henry W. Archer. Third district—Wm. H. Collins, I. Nevitt Steele. Fourth district—Jacob Pouder, R. E. Cooke. Fifth district—John D. Bowling, Dr. Ben. F. Watkins.

THE NEW ORLEANS RIOT.

While some of the radical journals are endeavoring to make political capital out of the riot at New Orleans, it is a healthy sign of the times to see that many of the considerate papers of that party have no hesitation in placing the wrong where it belongs. For instance, the New York Times (Rep.) remarks:

Some of the dispatches which have been published here, purporting to be from New Orleans, in the interest of the conventionists and the negro rioters, have represented the Southern people as exulting over the deplorable occurrences. To those who knew the origin of the disturbance, and the purposes of the conventionist plotters, the falsity of this statement was apparent. The Southern mails (since received) have brought positive evidence of the baseness of the libel, which was concocted with the view of corroborating the lying versions of the riot upon which journals like the Tribune have traded during the past week. Irrespective of party, the New Orleans press speaks with becoming moderation and feeling of the loss of life; and while naturally severe upon the radical instigators of the affair, they indulge in no illtemper towards the negroes. Outside of New Orleans the general feeling seems to be correctly expressed by the Mobile Advertiser, which says:

"We deeply regret the whole affair, not merely for the blood spilled, but for the pretext it will probably afford for misrepresentation and further oppression of the South."

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, which the radicals themselves call a Union paper, thus exposes one feature of the fraud which was contemplated in connection with the New Orleans Convention:

"It is a curious illustration of the irregularity of the convention movement that after it was called to meet on the 30th of July, the Governor ordered an election of delegates to fill vacancies on the 3d of September, after the convention would have been in session over a month. The reason for this doubtless was to give the present delegates the opportunity to carry out the programme fixed upon before it could be interfered with by those fresh from the people, who would have been a majority, for a small portion only of the State was represented in the old convention."

A Washington correspondent writes:

We are much enlighted in regard to the New Orleans riots by reference to the radical, revolutionary and despotic programme adopted by the radical leaders of Congress, and intended to be carried out by Congress. Mr. Boutwell disclosed the plot in a speech on the 14th July, but it had been known before.

It was intended that Louisiana should, in form, by a bogus convention, ratify the constitutional amendment, as well as Tennessee, and also disfranchise the ex-rebels and enfranchise the negroes. As soon as this was done the validity of the action of the convention would necessarily be tested, and the Supreme Court would decree that it belongs to Congress to decide which was the constitutional government of the State, if doubt existed.

In the expectation that the convention would act in accordance with the programme, an effort was made to prolong the session. The radical leaders were in favor of it. As the plot failed—though it was a deep plot, and full of expectation—the radicals made out of it an issue for the political campaign, accusing the President and the ex-rebels of having caused the mob, by breaking up the convention.

THE LATE STORM ON THE SUSQUEHANNA.—Already the damage done by the recent storm on the Susquehanna river is being repaired, and a large force of workmen are busily engaged by the Philadelphia Railroad Company in preparations for the completion of the large railroad bridge recently blown down. The loss to the company will not reach the first estimate made, which was half a million, as a large portion of the timbers of which the bridge was composed have been recovered, and can be again made use of. The loss, however, will be very heavy, and will probably reach $250,000, as the fruits of the labor of those engaged for the past twelve months was swept away in a few moments. The damage to the piers amounts to mere nothing, as the immense structures were so solidly built as to defy the fury even of the elements. A few of the large capstones on the tops of the piers were removed and tumbled into the river, several of them weighing four or five tons, being carried away by the force of the storm.

COL. WILMER.—The Delaware Republican states that Col. E. Wilmer has been elected president of a large manufacturing company in New York, with a salary of $5,000 per annum.

In New York, last week, there were 239 deaths from cholera.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE.—It is announced that Attorney General Stanbery has decided that persons nominated by the President for public office during the session of the Senate and rejected by that body, can be again legally appointed to office during the recess. This doctrine, of which we may say there does not appear to have been any doubt on the part of any previous administration, will enable the President to reappoint to office any person whose former nomination has been rejected.
