EASTER ANNIVERSARY AT CHRIST M. P. CHURCH

Beautiful Pageant Presented To A Large Audience — Easter Carols With Full Orchestra — Friendly Rivalry Between Classes Results In Big Collection.

The 51st Anniversary of the Juvenile Home Missionary Society of Christ Methodist Protestant Sunday School was held Sunday evening. A large audience was present and every feature of the program greatly enjoyed and splendidly presented. The Triangle Club of young ladies decorated the platform and church in their usual efficient manner. The carols from "Easter Angels" were used and beautifully sung by school accompanied by orchestra consisting of C. Arthur Bacon, cornet, Foster Cannan, trombone, Joseph N. Wheatley and David McMenamin, violins, Miss Clara B. Usilton, organist. One of the selections, "Happy Are We" was sung by Bessie Maslin and Miriam Smith. Harry W. Fallowfield, the president, made a fine address laying emphasis upon service for the Master and loyalty to Him.

The feature of the evening's program was a pageant—From Self to Service. "Self" comes to the earth to find happiness but by following the "World" finds nothing that will hold her interest.

"Self" in seeking to satisfy only self, does not notice the "Heathen" who are looking for help and guidance, and only sees one side of what "Art" "Letters," "Music" and "Science" has to give.

In despair she at last comes to the Cross where she is changed from "Self" to "Service" by Kingdom, who shows her that there is another side of "Art," "Letters," "Music" and "Science" and that true happiness comes from serving others both at Home and in Foreign lands.

Characters — Self, Elizabeth Culp; Worlld, Sue Smith; Kingdom, Lillian Sheats; Art, Esther Peacock; Letters, Helen Joiner; Music, Anna Cook Coleman; Science, Enna Baxter; America, Vivian Wooly; Japan, Clara May North, China, Miriam Kirby, foreigners; Choir, Elizabeth Reed, Evelyn Russell, Helen Coleman, Emily Lusby, Laura Nicholson, Amy Wheat Dorothy Woodall and Martha Crossley.

This beautiful pageant was staged amid flowers and palms with a large electrically lighted cross as the center piece. The committee in charge of it was Misses Mand Duyer, Clara Usilton and Mrs. George H. Cannan.

This was followed by an always interesting event—the collection by the classes. The result is most gratifying being within a few dollars of the highest ever reached. The collection for night exceeded last year by $32. The full report for the night and year is as follows:

SHERIFF CANDIDATE FINED FOR ASSAULT

Mrs. Edw. K. Everett was arrested one day last week charged with an assault and battery on Mrs. Garrett. It seems as if the trouble started about some children that Mrs. Everett was training for a school entertainment. Mrs. Garrett's child came late for the rehearsal and Mrs. Everett's child made some remark to Mrs. Garrett's child. This caused Mrs. Garrett to take the matter up and one word led to another. Blows were exchanged, and then, after a remark made by Mrs. Garrett to Mrs. Eeverett the latter struck Mrs. Garrett and then put her out of the building, bruising her very considerably about the face. The case was tried before Justice Stack, of Crumpton, and on Saturday morning Mrs. Everett appeared before him and pleaded guilty and was fined. This was paid. Mrs. Everett is the one who announced her candidacy for the office of sheriff in Queen Anne's.
