20,000 Crates Of Asparagus Shipped From Kent County

Business Men's Association Appoint a Committee Who Bring A Philadelphia Buyer To Kent—Season Just Started—Committee Reports 10,000 Crates Of Two Dozen Each Shipped From Kent In 1922 From 48 Growers — 150 Growers Names On List.

Capt. Edw. W. Emory, Chairman of the Asparagus Growers' Association, one of the results of the work of the Business Men's Association, stated that what the farmer needed was to get the grass to market as early as possible. All cut today was sold next morning at 6 o'clock. Baltimore freight rate was found to be cheaper than Philadelphia. Robert Shallcross stated that he would leave Chestertown daily for Baltimore in a cool and ventilated truck arriving in time either for the Washington or Baltimore market. Mr. Peck, of Philadelphia, states that he will buy grass daily but cannot consign it because of Interstate laws.

W. Irving Walker, Secretary of the Association, stated that 150 growers were written to and 48 replies received. These reported a total of 10,000 crates of two dozen each of asparagus shipped from Kent last year. Galena alone shipped from 250 to 300 crates daily.

The market opened in Baltimore Monday at $7 per dozen but soon fell to $6 on Tuesday.

GASOLINE 23 CENTS GALLON

A. S. Turner & Sons, at a cost of about $6,000, constructed a 12.000 gallon tank near the railroad. Chestertown. and piped the gasoline to his garage on High street. By this method he was enabled to reduce the price of gasoline from 27 to 24 cents and so advertised Thursday. Immediately Noland, Bennett & Russell Co.. put out a sign 24 cents for gasoline. Thus a gasoline war has been started in town which will likely spread to other points on the Shore. On Friday Turner & Sons put gasoline down to 23 cents and Noland. Bennett and Russell followed with 23 cents.

Inasmuch as Chestertown is interested in new fire apparatus notice of what other towns are doing will be of interest.

Felton, Del., has purchased a Ford pump and chemical booster apparatus to be used for country purposes.

Bridgeville Fire Company, Delaware. have ordered a Hale Reo Triple Combination fire apparatus with chemical.

The Clayton (Del.) Fire Company has purchased a new triple combination fire engine from the U. S. Fire Apparatus Co. of Wilmington, at a cost of $4,000. It will be delivered in about sixty days.

DOWN WITH THE BOARDS!

W. Irving Walker, a hustling Rich Neck farmer, threw a bomb into the Business Men's Meeting Monday night when he spoke on a good thing for the good of all. He stated that the Merchants of Chestertown were marring the beauty of the landscape and making unsightly a section of country which would be pleasing to the eye but for the d— boards which confront the view. He must have hit home, for at once one of Chestertown's energetic merchants arose, begged his pardon, and promised to remove the ugly sign as soon as possible.

Hum Of Spinning Wheels Soon To Be Heard Here

Chestertown Business Men Awake To Need Of Prompt And Practical Action—H. A. Clark & Son To Lease Building For Five Years—Will Employ 25 Or More

A LOYAL BAND OF 25 CITIZENS FORM COMPANY BUY A LOT AND WILL ERECT A BUILDING.

For years the News has been trying to arouse the citizens of Chestertown to do some practical work toward bringing a factory or plant of some kind to our community. These efforts with co-operation are to bear fruit. The Business Men's Association has concluded negotiations by which a splendid industry will be added to our resources and in no way conflict with those now here.

H. A. Clark & Son, who now conduct the Mallalieu Mills, desirous of more facilities and a greater output, have signed a five-year lease to rent from the Chestertown Development Association a building in which to transact this business. They will spin wool and employ about 25 young ladies. These employes will have clean and wholesome surroundings and start at $10 per week. Mr. Clark has been conducting a mill and employing labor for 35 years and has never had any labor trouble. He expects to remove to Chestertown and become one of our number.

Another advantage of Mr. Clark's coming to our midst will be the opening of a bigger market for the farmer's wool. Last year he bought 800.000 pounds of wool and can use over a million pounds. He furnishes A. J. Reach & Co., of Philadelphia, much of the wool from which the base balls sold by this firm are made. He is able to handle all wool grown on the Eastern Shore and purchases most of it thru local buyers.

The Chestertown Development Company is made up of men of vision and optimism who back up their faith with action. The lot on Mill Street 147 feet and a depth of 284 feet along the railroad has been bought of W. T. Bramble. On this lot plans have been drawn for a building 60x140 ft. with office and conveniences. The machinery is to be installed by H. A. Clark & Son and a bond of $5,000 given for the five-year lease. Operations will be commenced at once. The following men have each subscribed to $200 worth of stock in the company:

George E. Noland,	L. G. Brown.
C. W. Kibler.	M. W. Thomas,
C. A. Goodwin,	A. S. Turner,
R. H. Collins,	S. J. Kreeger,
Fred. G. Usilton,	C. N. Bordley,
Dr. H. P. Copeland,	A. M. Culp,
C. N. Satterfield,	P. M. Brooks,
Mrs. H. A. Clark.	L. B. Russell.
Edw. W. Emory.	W. B. Copper,
Eben F. Perkins,	Allan A. Harris,
Louis H. Hartman

These enterprising gentlemen will meet and elect their officers and function independent of the Business Men's Association.

Other Interesting Speakers

It was late when Dr. Sewell S. Hepburn was called upon to address the Business Men's Association Monday night, but so interesting did he make his remarks that not one left the hall. He was reminiscient and practical, whitty and eloquent and all enjoyed his appropriate and encouraging words. He beautifully referred to the sacred spots of old Kent, one of which was the old Quaker Church in Quaker Neck. now demolished and nothing to mark the spot. He suggested that the Association place a marker there.

Charles N. Satterfield, the newly elected member of Town Commissioner, spoke and urged concord rather than discord and pledged his services for the good of his town.

H. B. Derrick spoke on the agricultural situation and presented some good ideas which the Association will take under consideration.

M. Wilbur Thomas, of the Fire Company spoke of the outlook for additional fire equipment, etc.

Mail order houses robbing local merchants of business, trip down the Peninsula, drive for new membership and cash from old ones were among the numerous subjects discussed.

Gill Bos. served one oftheir celebrated buffet luncheons in good style.

A WONDERFUL MEETING

The meeting of the Chestertown Business Men's Association Monday night was a remarkable affair in the attendance. interest manifested and results anticipated. The rooms at the Inn were too small to hold the crowd, and upon invitation of Dr. Frank B. Hines the Armory of the Sanitary Detachment was opened and in this the meeting was held. Curtis A. Goodwin presided with his usual grace and ability and after presenting a few general outlines of the work of the Association called upon different ones to tell of various developments.

Elsewhere in the News we give the high spots of the meeting. Let's keep up the work and great results will be seen. Don't knock, push.
