Necessity of Vaccination.

Forty Per Cent Of Children In Fifteen Elementary Schools Of Kent County Unsuccessfully Vaccinated.

Vaccination is one of the most beneficial agents for the health of the human race that has ever been known to man. The first reference to vaccination and small-pox found in the laws of Maryland relating to public health was passed in 1886. This stated that the local and county health officers shall investigate small-pox and other diseases dangerous to public health and shall take all proper steps for the restriction and suppression of such diseases. A result of the enforcemtnt of this and the vaccination law is, there have been but eleven deaths from small-pox in Maryland during the last ten years. It must be remembered that vaccination is the chief and leading measure with which to stamp out small-pox and that if all the individuals of a community were properly vaccinated small-pox could not exist.

Both the public health and school laws of the State require that every child shall be successfully vaccinated before being allowed to attend the public schools. A recent survey of 824 school children of Kent county shows that over forty per cent of these children have not been successfully vaccinated. If we are to continue to be as free of small-pox in the next few years as we have in the past these children must be vacinated. In addition to this our school laws require it in order that these children may be protected.

The best time for vaccination is in the winter or spring for then the vaccine is fresh and there is also less danger from dirt and infection of the children's arms. The School Board is offering through the County and State Health Officers free vaccination to those children whose parents desire it. Otherwise it will have to be done by the family physician.

Superintendent of Schools.

April Fooling Is Old Custom.

No satisfactory origin has been assigned to April Fool's day. The custom of hoodwinking people at this time is traced by some to the ancient Kuli festival of India, observed March 31. On this day the Hindus play harmless pranks on one another, a practice dating back to ancient times.

What Is a Drought?

According to an official definition which has been in use among meteorologists for over thirty years, an absolute drought is a period of more than fourteen consecutive days not one of which is a rain day. A rain day is a day with .01 in. or more of rain (an inch of rain means 101 tons to the acre). A partial drought is a period of more than 28 consecutive days, the mean rainfall of which does not exceed .01 in. per day.

Encouraging reports from all parts of the county along the water front are heard in regard to the coming crab season. At first it was feared that the recent cold snaps had somewhat killed the chances for a good year, but later indications give assurances that no damage was done. Oystermen up to last Wednesday were catching many crabs in their oyster tongs. and the fishermen report large quantities of small crabs in the waters of the county. The winter, it is said, has been favorable to crabs, and about the time the regular catching season starts it is predicted that there will be a plentiful supply. Soft crabs and crab meat are now being marketed in the southern part of the Peninsula.

EASTON DIOCESE CONVENTION

The session of the annual convention of the Diocese of Easton convened in Trinity Cathedral, Easton, this week. A conference for women was held in Christ Church, MissEthel Miller, of Baltimore, being the speaker.

No little discussion was heard on the project of placing a radio set in the Cathedral in order to furnish the Cathedral services to those parishes without a rector. Dudley G. Roe, of Sudlersville, presented the matter and asked that $1,000 be appropriated. It was finally voted down.

Judge William H. Adkins, who has been the treasurer of the convention and also treasurer of the trust fund for the past 20 years, tendered his resignation on account of ill health. State Senator John S. McDaniel was elected to the position.

The salary of Bishop George W. Davenport was raised to $5,000 and Samuel E. Shannahan, secretary of the convention, was re-elected for the twelfth consecutive time. Trinity Cathedral was made a diocesan church, and hereafter it will be governed and supported by the diocese, the executive council being in charge.

Total contributions from all sources made in the diocese during the past year amounted to $97,000. During the past year there were 212 baptisms, 251 confirmations, 95 marriages and 159 burials. At present there are nearly 4,000 communicants. All but three parishes have rectors and one of these will be filled in the very near future. There are 221 Sunday school teachers in the diocese

Some of the parishes have consented to allow the women the right to vote. The diocese still has many parishes where the women are denied the right in church matters.

In the afternoon a conference was held on boys and girls. Miss Frances H. Withers being the speaker. A visit was made to the diocesan camp at the Wilderneess, the residence of J. Ramsey Speer. Delegates were taken in automobiles. At 7.45 p. m. a massmeeting was held in Trinity Cathedral on Young People's Work. The speakers were the Rev. Herny F. Kloman, rector of St. Peter's Parish, Salisbury, and Rev. Karl Block, rector of St. John's Church, Roanoke, Virginia.

The convention adjourned to meet in Salisbury next year.
