Letter from Head of Sassafras.

Correspondence of the Kent News.

HEAD OF SASSAFRAS, MD., Sept. 10, 1866,

Dear News:—The time has arrived at which we can make an estimate of the crops for 1866 around this neighborhood. The wheat crop has been an almost entire failure, not more than one-third being the average. The oats crop has been a full one, and rather better quality than that of the last two years. The corn crop is going to be the largest housed for many years. Wherever you go, the remark is general, what elegant prospects for corn! Well! the farmer needs a good time if any one does; he is the basis of all other callings, and has the proud consciousness of being of some use, not only to his immediate self and family, but to the community at large. He is no idler and lounger; he is not a drag and incumbrance on society; he destroys nobody's happiness by his business; he is a producer, giving to the world that which it could not exist without, the staff of life; he is generally modest, sober, and industrious, having no time to give to tattling, backbiting, and all manner of uncharitableness; his profession is always an honorable one. We do not mean to say that other callings are not worthy of commendation. But we do say, that it is more in other branches of business that men do harm to each other, that it is to their interests to injure or destroy the business of others in the like trade; to hint or say all manner of evil things; to pervert the truth; in many cases to lie outright, and in all cases to work for self, and to feel no interest in your neighbor, who pursues a similar calling. Who ever heard of a Doctor wishing or really desiring the success of a brother chip? What Merchant is it that particularly desires his neighbor's success? Are not Divines proverbially prone to increase their particular Church at the expense of other denominations? How about the farmers? who so social as they? how they loan and assist one another, and if neighbors, are apt to be the closest friends. All honor to Farmers say we, and wish that it were in the ways of Providence to give them a good time always.

A Base Ball Club has been inaugurated in Head of Sassafras. A lot of young, manly fellows, mean to show the world, that Head of Sassafras is no longer under a ban of an ill name, but can produce men and women too, that will vie with the best of the world in all manly sports and pastimes, and equal them in all the other virtues that are prided and praised even in the world.

Our village is growing. We are blest in Churches; our stores are prosperous; new buildings and increase of citizens test of our advancement. We are no longer the idle, lounging, drinking, gambling and frolicking people, which gave to the village such a bad name abroad. People speak well of us, and with a few exceptions, can compete with the rest of the world in the sobriety and freedom of our village from the evils named above. It is true we are still afflicted with men who, either having nothing to do themselves or do not attend to what business they profess to follow, that tattle and scandalize their neighbors; that will continue to put their nasty fingers in every body's pie; that try to keep their neighbors in a ferment of ill will, but, thank God! such an evil in the population is reduced two or three, and we hope in God's good time, to get rid even of these last remains of past and evil days.

Our Base Ball Club numbers among its members such names as Hon. Alex. Wilson, Benj. F. Caulk, Richard A. Frazier, Wm. Loffland, D. B. Stewart, David B. Griffith, and others. We mean to substitute this manly game for the cock fighting, card gambling, and other deviltry, which so disgraced this place in times past.

Next, we are going to have the Kent Rail Road give us a Depot, and in addition to our agricultural importance, mean to make efforts to excel in trade and commerce. And the next again, we want to discard even the name, Head of Sassafras, to some more dignified cognomen, that shall express in some way the distinguishing marks of the village. LOCKUA is the old Indian name of Sassafras River; perhaps we may take this; but let us have discussion; that is the best way to bring out the views of the people, and we want the views of the whole people. So get ready, gentlemen, and at the next session of the Lugislature, let us fix this matter.

Our political horizon is clearing of the nasty spirits that has lorded it over us since the war. The officers of Registration are doing their duty like men, who obey the golden rule. They are not annoyed with men from other counties, who wish to curtail the rights and privileges of decent, respectable citizens. We thank God! that the age of sneaking villians, who trump up lies against any one they may take a dislike, has passed. Snakes in the grass, with long faces of religious sanctity, and whining voices of reprobation against all amusements can no longer slip and slide about in the dark, and sting their neighbors, whilst to their faces he is all smiles and compliments.

If the American nation had nothing else to thank Andrew Johnson for, to have put away in their hiding places of their own black hearts, the villainy of the scoundrels who have disgraced the American name, would be enough. The war has done one good thing. It has brought to the light of day the natural onriness of these men's nature, and like the Donkey enveloped in the Lion's skin, has stripped bare their native wickedness by taking off the disguise, but like the aforesaid donkey, they were suspected before; the long ears and 'that bray' would tell the story.

These men have been holding a Convention in Philadelphia. The writer was fortunate or unfortunate enough to be present one day. It was astounding to see apparently and for the most part, respectable looking men and women listening and applauding the wicked and dirty ravings of these monstrosities of human beings. Whenever a negro, Fred Douglas, or Randolph of New Orleans, would et up to address the crowd, the greetings and applause were overwhelming; and the nastier and more threatning their remarks the more the applause.

On the platform sat the famous Anna Dickenson. This woman is a libel on her sex. There is one peculiarity of the women engaged in this disgusting business, and its kindred companions of Abolitionism, Spiritualism, and Women's Rights, and that is, you never see them making any fuss over negro women; it is always a stalwart darkey of the male gender.—Such is the case now; you don't see a negro wench in, or around the Hall, and to their credit be it spoken, not many negro men. The negroes are mostly a practical people, and this fact is clearly shown by them on this occasion in Philadelphia. Ask a darkey waiter or shoe black what he thinks of these people? they invariably reply, "dey's great in talk, but not much to do: and dey is so mean we gits no money from them."

Around the Hall were printed mottoes, some or most of which we thought had better been left out. This for instance: "When the wicked are in authority the people mourn." As Congress professes to be the only authority in the land, the President being merely an executive officer, the quotation has an aptness and appropriateness peculiarly fitted to these ranting fanatics, who now rule this country by authority of Congress. Another specimen was the motto: "We tremble for our country when we reflect that God is just." It is an awful thought, and people now living may witness the terrible vengeance of Almighty God inflicted on these people, who with the high assurance of the Evil One who guides them, are rushing madly ou destruction. They say openly, they intend to provoke another civil war, in case they are hurled from place and power. "Whom the Gods wish to destroy they FIRST MAKE MAD."

Some of the iucidents abounding in this Convention are disgusting in the extreme. I saw a white woman bidding Fred Douglass an unusual warmth of "good bye," and kissed him. Another nigger, Randolph of New Orleans, who lately called on President Johnson in Washington, and there by his representations of the wants of his people and church, received from the liberal President five thousand dollars in aid of the colored Methodist Church in New Orleans; and now he is here, rivaling the foul mouthed Brownlow in abuse of his benefactor. These niggers were literally beset by the women and fools who surround them; they could not move without being cheered, and were seized by the hand and literally hugged before the whole audience. At last it became the race as to who should say the most abuse of the President and Southern people, or Rebels as they always designated them. Who should spew out the foulest slime of indecency, and advocate not only negro suffrage, but equality, socially and politically. The man was denounced as accursed of God and man, who should refuse to allow his son or daughter to marry a negro; and the lowest pit of condemnation the portion of those who should decline to allow a negro to rule over him. At the utterance of these disgusting propositions, shouts and stamping, yelling and cheering, waving of hats and handkerchiefs took place, but enough! Patience and decency were disgusted, and we retired, saddened by the condition in which our country has been brought by radical misrule, and fearful of the portending future. May God grant that He shall not hand us, bound hand and foot, through the commission of our sins, to these terrible, hell instigated fiends that now compose the Congress of the United States.

TAX-PAYERS

SHOULD UNDERSTAND that Taxes are due on the FIRST OF JULY, and not, as many seem to think, on the 1st of January. I desire to collect all the taxes in my District before the first of January next, so that I may be prepared to pay promptly all levies when demanded. It cannot be expected that I should wait with tax-payers until the first of January, as at that time all levies upon me are due.

For the convenience of tax-payers, I will be (until further notice,) at CHESTERVILLE every Saturday, from 9 o'clock, A. M., to 12 M., and in MILLINGTON on the same days, from 1 to 6, P. M.; at home and GALENA the balance of the week.
