Superintendent Ryckman has repainted the court house fence in a most striking manner. It is a good advertisement of what a little paint can do.

Earl Green, the colored town teamster, has been incapacitated from work for a week because of a cut foot. He was cleaning out a culvert when a broken glass jar caused the injury.

Friday of last week County Demonstrator Ernest W. Grubb conducted a rat killing campaign on Parson's Island, where for several years the rodents have been particularly active in their depredations as heretofore announced in the News, and are reported to have been unusually numerous. Demonstrater Grubb accompanied by a specialist from the University of Maryland, visited the Island and scattered about 400 pounds of posion, mixed with meat, oat-meal and other dainties to attract the interest and attention of denizens of ratdom. It is reported that hundreds of rats have been found dead from the campaign.
