Young Merchant Dies Suddenly

Albert C. Watts, a merchant of Cecilton, dropped dead in front of his store in that town, Monday, from heart failure. Up to within a few seconds before his death he was apparently enjoying good health. The deceased was a Democrat and took an active interest in politics. Two years ago he was the nominee for County Commissioner, being defeated at the election by Walter C. Miller, of Elkton. He was about 45 years of age, and a son of the late James C. Watts. He married Miss Bernice Black, of Cecilton, who survives him with one son.

Chautauqua opened in Chestertown Thursday with its usual good program. At a meeting of the guarantors each was assessed $4.50 to make up a deficiency. This was a very agreeable finish to the ticket selling.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the order and form of the official primary ballots, as well as the official election notice, published by order of the Board of Supervisors of Elections; also the official notice of the pre-primary registration on September 4. The ticket is by law arranged in alphabetical order so that there is no choice as to location or position on same.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wells and daughter, Miss Muriel, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Joiner, near Worton.

GOOD ROADS

A road is a public highway, a means of communication from one place to another. It is highly important that a road should not be soft, rough or difficult to travel upon; but should be hard, smooth and easy of passage. Our modern civilization is demanding good roads, and our farmers should have them in order to travel without delay. and haul their grain and produce to favorable shipping points. It seems to me that every legitimate and helpful undertaking looking to the betterment of our highways should have a sympathetic bearing and a genuine co-operation. Good roads not only add to the convenience and happiness of people, but mean a great development of material interest, and a sure guarantee of progress. Experience has shown that it is entirely practicable by wise economy and forethought to carry out a scheme of good road building so that all sections of our State may have an equitable participation in them. Sufficient appropriations should be made so that our State may avail itself of the co-operation of the United States Government in the continuation of Federal aid for roads in Maryland. Our concrete and macadam roads which have made Maryland famous necessarily hold a big place in every budget, but the indications are that they may soon become self supporting.

I stand for the maintenance of our State Road System, and for its extension so far as our public revenues will reasonably permit; and am in favor of such laterial roads as may be necessary to the completion of the system and for the development of our county and the progress of our people.

If renominated and elected to the Senate of Maryland, good roads shall receive from me in the future, as they have in the past, my true and willing support.

WILLIAM F. RUSSELL,
Candidate for State Senator.

CHESTERTOWN PHONE LINE SUBJECT OF COMPLAINT

Who is responsible for the upkeep of a 10 mile stretch of telephone wire known as the "820 Chestertown telephone line"? The line was built several years ago, presumably by private subscription. It runs through the country near Chestertown and serves a number of farmers.

The parties using the line rent it from Herbert Fletcher, Broad Neck. They claim they pay a full amount of rental, but get service only about half of the year. Ruthwin Strong, a farmer near Chestertown, has complained to the Public Service Commission, which is in doubt as to who is responsible. It will investigate.
