CIRCUS SUCCESS IN SPITE OF RAIN

The weather man was not good to the Walter L. Main circus yesterday but did not deter a big crowd from all parts of Bradford county from being on hand to witness the best circus seen here in many years.

The circus arrived early from Pittson and erected its tents on the ball grounds across the river. Thousands saw a splendid street parade about noon and patronized the side show liberally before the doors of the circus opened. This side show was a revelation inasmuch as it was absolutely clean, with no games of chance and not even a dance for men only, a feature with most side shows in the past. Instead there was a pleasing array of freaks, including an armless wonder who sewed with his toes, two midgets, a sword walker, bag puncher, colored minstrel show, snake charmer and the other regulation side show acts, with a cleverly trained monkey circus thrown in for good measure.

The "big tops" was filled both at the afternoon and evening shows and all enjoyed the splendid performances. The features included the wonderful riding of the Wirth family, including May and Phil, the sensational anl daring aerial act of the Codonas, one of whom turned a double somersault in mid air while blindfolded and encased in a sack, the trained elephants, one of whom did a remarkable troupe of Arabs, but turned flipflaps all around the hippodrome track, trained ponies and a lot of clowns who were surely funny fellows.

The circus was all that could be desired by the most exacting, clean and its people treated its patrons as though they appreciated their patronage. Such shows as Main can visit Towonda any time and do a profitable business.—Review, Towanda, Pa.

Little Girl Attacked By Sow

Martha Lee Mullikin, the little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Mullikin, of near Hayden, narrowly escaped being killed last Wednesday morning when she was attacked by a large sow. The little girl was playing around the premises of the home, and climbed into the pen where the mother hog and pigs were confined and was immediately attacked by the sow. Mrs. Mullikin heard the child's screams and succeeded in getting her out of the pen. Her face was badly cut and Dr. W. W. Bowen, of Price, was summoned and closed the wounds with several stitches. Although the little girl is painfully hurt and bruised, she is now doing nicely.

SECRET OF POP GEERS SUCCESS

Grand old man appearing at Lancaster Fair September 26.

"Pop" Gears, dean of American reinsmen, has revealed himself as the 'world's greatest lover' of horses.

The man who in his 72nd summer claimed a great career on the turf by driving the gelding Sarnado to a world's record of 2.02 over a half mile track, declared his success were due to his ability to win the hearts of his horses.

"I make love to them," said 'Pop.' "They return my affection by winning races."

"It's a horse's love for you that makes him try to win," the veteran driver said. "Horses are faithful as the day is long and infidelity on the part of drivers has lost more races than dope. Next to a dog, the horse is the smartest animal that grows. They're temperamental, too, and often harder to win than a beautiful woman."

'Pop' declared in all his driving experience he has never used the whip for any purpose except 'to show that I am boss."

"You've got to talk to horses," said Geers, "And they understand by your tone what you're saying to them."

He admits that he takes better care of his horses than of himself and his explanation is that "they're worth it." He does not look his 72 years and his worst dissipation is an ever-present cigar never lighted but always well chewed.

The Grand Old Master, beloved by everyone who has come in contact with him, will drive Sarnado at the Lancaster Fair on September 26, in an attempt to lower the track record of 2.04¼. This day has been named 'Pop Geers Day' in his honor and will be made a gala occasion.

Incidentally, plenty of entertainment will be provided for the Fair patrons whether they come on 'Pop Geers Day' or not. Eight big vaudeville acts have been booked and will be performed every afternoon and evening during the Fair in front of the grandstand. A great machinery and automobile exhibit has been arranged, the various exhibition buildings are being filled to overflowing, a band and a singing orchestra will be on hand to furnish continuous music. The great Fair midway has been planned to give the visitor the maximum of entertainment without anything being missed. Twenty races will be run off during the four days for a purse of $8,500.00.

The new 200 K. W. Curtis turbine for the Chestertown Electric Light and Power Co., is due to arrive this week and installation will start immediately upon its arrival. This will be a great addition to Chestertown and a great convenience to its many patrons. The installation will necessitate shutting the power off at various times within the next month. The hours for shutting down are announced in an advertisement in this issue.

RICH NECK ITEMS

The Bramble Poultry Farm took off its fall hatch of about 3,000 chicks on Tuesday of last week and it will start hatching again.

Chester River Bridge is fast falling into decay and will have to be replaced in a few years or it will be dangerous to travel upon. A few years ago a move was started to erect a new bridge to replace the old one, which would connect Queen Anne's with High street, Chestertown, and quite a contention was raised regarding the same, but during the past few years, we have heard nothing of the matter. All seem to be agreed that foot of High street is the proper place.

Walter Elburn, who has been suffering with broken ribs, is able to be out again.

Lightning struck a big cedar tree in front of the Bramble Poultry Farm Saturday week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Powell, of Kent county, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Newnam, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Everett, of near Sudlersville, spent last Sunday with friends in this community.

Lee Moore has accepted a position in Thomas McGinness' store.
