AN EXAMPLE TO FOLLOW

The Baltimore Safety Council has named a Vigilance Committee, pledged to report traffic law violations, particularly driving a car while under the influence of liquor, reckless driving, etc. The names of the members of the committee are kept secret believing that more constructive work can be done if this method is followed. The committee is composed of well-known business men, so the chairman of the Council says, Mr. Henry F. Baker.

Chestertown might do well to have such a committee to report cases of reckless driving. Speeding is still a sport, by some people, on our streets. The Town Council has the responsibility for enforcing the law against speeding. A good time to start would be now.
