LUNCHES

I am prepared to serve Lunches to the public. Quick and satisfactory service. Give me a trial at the Kent House. MRS. VIOLET BIBBS, Chestertown, Md. o20

THE FARMER AND HIS WIFE

By Mrs. Evelyn Harris, of Kent County, in Baltimore Sun.

A milk price reduction, standing out in bold relief on the back page of The Sun, and at once I began to wonder what had become cheaper in the cost of growing that milk. After careful inquiry, I am able to find only one item reduced; gasoline. That one item is used more by the distributor of the milk than by the producers, and it just seemed to me that it was not fair to the farmer and his wife to reduce the price of milk at this time of the year.

Milk still is being produced on the old-time work hours, "'fore sun-up and after sund-down." These mornings are getting mighty frosty, too, and to crawl out in time to be down in the stable milking by 5 a. m. takes a little bit of grit. The wages paid to men who milk run about $1 a day and board in this part of the State, and the $1 a day means a real old-fashioned day," too! It means at least 12 hours every day. No Saturday half-holidays; no Sundays off. Of course, half-holidays and Sundays are sometimes taken, and then the boss has it all to do alone.

Milk 20 Cows Twice A Day

Sitting under a cow twice a day, forever and ever, at wages of 12 cents an hour for doing it, seems to me just a little wrong. One man to whom I talked sits under 20 cows twice a day and is trying to live on a farm. He works there, but he does not really live there; he is too tired when his work is finished. His children know him only as working; never as playing. His wife knows him, not as a real companion, but a man dead tired when he finishes in the barn, about 9 p. m.

He told me he hated to be in the barn working when the sun came up—at that time the sun came up, too, all of his milking done before that time. After that time he was working in his cafateria for his cows; making two blades of grass grow where only one grew before; getting two ears where only one grew before. In other words when he was not milking his cows he was growing feed and hauling feed at 12 cents an hour for his time, and the time of the men he is able to hire.

Wheat And Cotton Low

Wheat prices are very low; cotton prices, low too. But go to buy the offal from these ewo crops and the price runs around $56 a ton. In other words, the price for the whole grain is a little less than the farmer has to pay for his cow feed, made from the waste materials of his own products. Corn is the only thing that is a little higher, and that is not going into the hands of the farmers.

Dr. King seems to think the farmers here have been overpaid during the last few months, therefore, they deserve a reduction, but when one man gets $1.50 an hour and his own brother gets only 12 cents an hour, I can't see that he has had any increase whatever here in Maryland.

The milk buckets, buildings, railroad rates, everything high and now a milk reduction, just when pasture is about gone. Fodder is being harvested with men who refuse to work for less than 28 cents an hour and roads due to be almost impassable in a few weeks. All of the milk is being produced in "overtime," too; that thing which makes money for men in other lines of work.

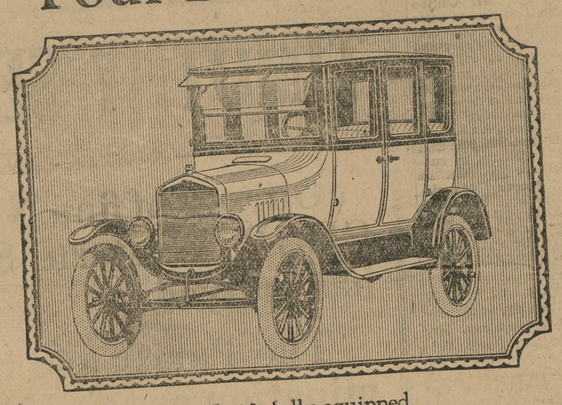
There are men living now in the cities who protested against this non-paying, overtime work and left the farms. Many of them just got disgusted with the cows and the lack of money in it and left. I feel sure these same men would have been willing for the price of milk to have remained the same to the producer and would have paid it cheerfully if Dr. King had allowed it to be paid.

Ford

Four-Door Sedan



$685 Detroit fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.
