The Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN:

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV'R 10, 1866.

THE ELECTION IN KENT.

The election in this county passed off quietly. We have heard of no disturbance at any of the polls. As was expected, the Conservative ticket has been elected by far the largest majority ever given in the county. Leonard's majority is 818, McCullough's 841, while the average majority for the Legislative ticket is something less. There were only 84 votes against the amendment to the Constitution repealing the school tax. The whole number of votes polled was about 1,350, being some 350 less than the registration. The following is the official result:

FOR COMPTROLLER:

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	Total
Leonard,	203	255	190	163	259	1070
Bruce,	31	39	38	111	33	252

THE CASE OF THE BALTIMORE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.—On Saturday morning last, while James Young and William T. Valiant, Esqs., the Police Commissioners appointed by Governor Swann, were engaged in making appointments of police officers, &c., they were arrested on a bench warrant issued by Judge Bond, and taken before him to answer the charge of inciting a riot and endangering the peace of the city. They were required to give bail in the sum of $20,000 not to attempt to exercise the functions of police commissioners, which they declined to do, and were committed to jail. Wm. Thomson, Esq., sheriff of the city, was also arrested for summoning a posse comitatis, and declining to give bail, was likewise committed to jail. Application was made to Judge Bartol, of the Court of Appeals, for a writ of habeas corpus, which he granted, directing the warden of the jail to bring before him the three gentlemen above named at nine o'clock Monday morning. At the appointed hour the Judge and counsel for the Commissioners met in the room of the Circuit Court of the city, when it appeared that the warden had determined to take advantage of the three days allowed by law for complying with the writ, and consequently the "prisoners" were not produced. By agreement of counsel on both sides, Thursday morning was then fixed for hearing the case.

SALES NEXT WEEK.—On Monday, the 12th, vendue of Mr. Thos. W. Ringgold, embracing a large quantity of stock, farming implements, &c., at his residence in Eastern Neck.

On Wednesday, the 14th, at 11 o'clock A. M., R. Hynson, Esq., Executor, will offer at public sale, at the Voshell House, the carriage shop, blacksmith shop and lot now in the occupancy of Mr. John Greenwood, and also the dwelling house on the corner, adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late Edward Comegys.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.—Mr. Edward Plummer, residing on Worton creek, accidentally shot himself in the hand, on Thursday afternoon, inflicting a very painful, if not dangerous wound. The middle finger was amputated by Dr. Vannort, and he is not confident that the hand can be saved.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—The third Quarterly Meeting of the M. P. Church, Kent circuit, will be held in Christ Church, Chestertown, this (Saturday) morning, at 10½ o'clock. On to-morrow (Sabbath) evening, at 7 o'clock, Rev. L. W. Bates will, by request, repeat a sermon preached by him on a former quarterly meeting occasion, when but few were present in consequence of inclement weather. In this sermon Mr. Bates treats of the goodness of God in connection with the miseries of creation, reconciling the same in a most satisfactory and able manner.

RE-OPENING.—The Rock Hall M. E. Church, which has been closed for repairs for several weeks, will be re-opened tomorrow (Sunday). Service both morning and afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. B. Quigg.

THE RESULT IN THE STATE.

The election in this State on Tuesday resulted in a decided Conservative triumph. The city of Baltimore, and every county in the State except Carroll, Frederick, Washington, and perhaps Allegany, have given Conservative majorities and elected the Conservative nominees to the General Assembly. Conceding Allegany, which is in doubt, to the Radicals, this gives the Conservatives 16 votes in the Senate and 59 in the House of Delegates, and the Radicals 8 votes in the Senate and 21 in the House of Delegates. This gives the Conservatives 75 votes in both Houses to 29 Radicals, or a majority for the former on joint ballot of 46 votes.—The majority for Leonard in the State will probably exceed 10,000.

This result secures the repeal of the present odious Registry law; the election of a Conservative United States Senator to succeed Mr. Creswell; the rejection of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States apportioning a new basis of representation, &c.; a new Constitution for the State, or at least an amendment to the present one, in which representation shall be apportioned upon a more just and equitable basis; and last, though not least, the attention of the Legislature to the case of the officious Judge Bond.

We give below such returns as have come to hand:

BALTIMORE CITY.

We confess to both surprise and gratification at the result in Baltimore city. As the Radicals had made all the arrangements according to their liking, we expected to hear only of defeat. We were satisfied, however, that they could not get 8,000 votes in the city, but at the same time we did not suppose that they would allow more than that number of Conservative votes to be polled, and no doubt did not intend to do so. Out of about 24,000 registered voters in the city, a total vote of 16,006 was polled for State Comptroller, of which the Conservatives cast 8,513 and the Radicals 7,493, showing a majority of 1,020 for the Conservatives. The vote on the other candidates, for Congress and Legislature, is near about the same as that for Comptroller, so that the whole city ticket, including two members of Congress, 3 State Senators, and 18 members of the House of Delegates, is elected. The city gives a majority of 4,436 for the amendment to the State Constitution.

BALTIMORE COUNTY.

This county, which was claimed for the Radicals, has given Leonard 1,583 majority, and elected the whole Conservative county ticket by about the same vote.

CECIL COUNTY.

Cecil county, where it was supposed the contest would be very close, and which the Radicals claimed, gives about 350 Conservative majority.

The Conservative majority in Caroline county is about 450, in Talbot 800, in Queen Anne's 1,000. The other counties have not been sufficiently heard from to say what the majorities will be, but they have all gone for the Conservatives except Carroll, Frederick and Washington, and perhaps Allegany.

The Legislature:

The following table exhibits the complexion of the Senate and House of Delegates, conceding Allegany to the radicals, with the Conservative majority in each:

	SENATE.		HOUSE.
	Con.	Rad.	Con.	Rad.

Conservative majority in the Senate 8, in the House 39, and 46 on joint ballot.

Congressmen Elected.

In the first congressional district, comprising the eight Eastern Shore counties, the Hon. Hiram McCullough, Conservative, carries every county. His majority will probably exceed 6,000.

In the second congressional district, embracing Harford county, the 5th, 6th, 7th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th districts of Baltimore county, and the seven lower wards of Baltimore city, the majorities for Archer over John L. Thomas, Jr., radical, are as follows: In Baltimore city 157, in Baltimore county 895, and in Harford county 1,072—total majority 2,124.

In the third congressional district, composed of the thirteen upper wards of Baltimore city, Phelps' majority over Jos. J. Stewart, radical, is 972.

The fourth congressional district, embracing Carroll, Frederick, Washington and Allegany counties, re-elects Francis Thomas, radical, by a small majority.

The fifth congressional district, composed of St. Mary's, Charles, Calvert, Anne Arundel, Prince George's, Montgomery and Howard counties, and the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 8th and 13th election districts of Baltimore county, elects Stone over Wm. J. Albert, radical, by a large majority.

Hon. Simeon Draper, of New York, died on Tuesday last of paralysis.

The Election in Baltimore.

Speaking of the election in Baltimore, and the manner in which it was conducted, the Sun remarks:

The election in this city on Tuesday was one of those quiet revolutions which alike astonish the victors and the vanquished. The element which proved successful certainly entered the contest with every disadvantage against it, and thus its success is the more wonderful. Tho' the election was generally quiet and orderly, it was attended here and there by scenes and incidents which ought to have been avoided. In many cases parties were arrested, mostly by "special" policemen, on the most trivial charges, and in some instances for no act at all, on the day preceding the election as well as on Tuesday. What was noticeable is the fact that, to a large extent, the parties thus arrested were active members of the conservative party, and men known to be useful in the way of bringing out proper voters in the precincts. Add to this the well-known fact that numbers of the "specials" acted in the double capacity of challengers for the party which appointed them, and that all the judges of election, with but one or two exceptions, were of the same political faith, and the conservative triumph in the city is still more remarkable. The self-possession of the conservative citizens during the day was noteworthy, and the general quietude preserved under the influence of the sober, well-thinking citizens of all parties, is highly creditable. In a number of the precincts the judges are reported to have acted in the fairest manner, putting but few votes in the rejected box, one of which was used in every case. In others, however, the rejected box was freely used, and in some cases to such an extent that the small boxes used for the purpose were pretty well filled early in the day. It is alleged that in many cases the fear of difficulty at the polls or the disinclination to be subjected to frivolous and absurd questions, at the instance of outsiders as well as judges, and the pressure and interference of quarrelsome politicians, had the effect of keeping from the voting places quiet citizens desirous of depositing conservative ballots, or deterred them from offering their ballotswhen there.

Even-Handed Justice.

Since the announcement by telegraph, a few days since, that Gen. Sherman approves of what is popularly known as the President's policy of reconstruction, we have received at least a hundred papers in which he is stigmatized as a "copperhead," and a great variety of charges not less terrible than this are brought against him. What will be said when the letter he has written expressing his views gets into print, no man can tell; but if he be not denounced as a traitor and coward, and if Wendell Phillips does not propose to have him gibbeted on short notice, it will be very curious. Those who remember the exploits performed by Wendell Phillips on the field of battle and elsewhere in saving the country during its days of peril, will certainly justify him in treating Sherman as a traitor, and also in dealing with Grant in the style he has done, as at least belonging to the suspects. The armies of Lee and Joe Johnston, it will be remembered, surrendered to Phillips last year, and when he has also compelled Grant and Sherman to surrender, he can then turn them all over to the hang-man.—N. Y. Times.

GENERAL BUTLER IN NEW YORK.—Gen. Butler attempted to address a large meeting in New York last week, held under radical auspices, at City Hall Park. It turned out, however, that there was a large portion of conservatives in attendance, and a very large police force was present to preserve order. The Express says:—"Gen. Butler was greeted with cries of 'Beast,' 'Spoons,' 'Fort Fisher,' 'New Orleans,' and several rotten apples and other missiles were thrown at him. Finally, Butler, after vainly endeavoring to make himself heard above the yells and hisses of the crowd, was compelled to leave the front of the stand, amid the jeers and cheers of the audience." He was followed by Horace Greeley, who was attentively and respectfully heard. The Tribune, Mr. Greeley's paper, attempts to give a sketch of General Butler's remarks, stating that the General denounced the crowd with bitter language, and that he declined to bandy epithets with them because he (Butler) was not a "President or a Vice-President."

DECEDENT ESTATES.—In the Supreme Court of Connecticut there has recently been decided a curious case. A man and his wife having been killed by a railroad accident, the heirs of each brought suit and recovered $4,000 in each case. The money obtained for the death of the wife went to her heirs, and the question before the Supreme Court was whether the $4,000 recovered by the death of the man should go to his or his wife's heirs. She having survived him a few hours the court decided the wife's heirs should have the money.

AFFAIRS IN TALBOT COUNTY.—We copy the following from the St. Michael's Comet:

The Cholera.—There have been three cases of cholera on Poplar Island since our last local on the subject, one of which was Mrs. Sinclair, who had, but the day before, moved there from Sharp's Island; another was a Mrs. Harris, who had been nursing in the family of Mr. Parks. The other name we have not learned. All three cases died before medical aid could be obtained. Our town seems to be clear of the disease, no case having come to our knowledge for more than two weeks.

Wild Geese.—Large flocks of wild geese have been passing over this section almost constantly during the past week, flying in a northern direction.

THE MARYLAND FARMER.—The November number of his popular agricultural monthly is replete with original and selected articles. We notice several articles of interest to fruit growers. S. Sands Mills & Co., publishers, 24 S. Calvert st., Baltimore. Price $1.50 per annum.

MAXIMILIAN AND MEXICO.

The telegraph announces the receipt in Washington, at the State Department, of an American official letter, confirming the news of Maximilian's departure from Mexico. It is stated that he left on the 23d of October, and seemingly upon responsible authority, notwithstanding the generally unreliable character of all "Mexican news." The flight of Maximilian has not been unexpected for some time past, and all the late authentic information concerning the relations of our Government to the Republic of Mexico would seem to warrant the belief that there is truth in the present statement.

By this time the late Emperor of Mexico has probably reached Vera Cruz, where the Austrian frigate Dandolo is awaiting his arrival to take him back to Europe. In his departure a standing menace to democratic institutions on this continent is removed, but that the Mexicans of themselves will lift their country from its present degraded anarchy cannot be expected.

During the existing guerilla struggle for a republican form of government, the patriot camp has never been free from rancorous jealousies, and the internal strifes of petty leaders have more than once threatened to destroy each other as well as their country, even in the presence of the common enemy. The decline of Maximilian's power, and the removal of his main support, the strong arm of Napoleon, has already been the signal for a renewal of these struggles. What now is to be the influence of the United States on Mexico, we shall in due time, perhaps, have occasion to see.

The President and His Offence.

The great original cause of the strife between President Johnson and those who elected him, is his assertion of the right of the Southern States to representation in Congress. The unreasonableness of this censure ought to be apparent to all. During the war, the suggestion that the rebel States had forfeited their right to representation, received no favor except from a mere faction of Republicans, headed by Sumner and Stevens. That party not only admitted delegates from rebel States into their nominating conventions, but their Congress, on the 4th of March, 1862, passed the following act, which was promptly approved by President Lincoln:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That FROM and AFTER the 3d day of March, 1863, the number of the members of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States shall be two hundred and forty-one; and the eight additional members shall be assigned one each to Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Vermont and R. Island

Approved March 5, 1862.

This law, as will be observed, says that from the 4th of March, 1863, the House of Representatives shall consist of 241 members. As there are but 170 members from the States at present represented, it is clear that this act of a Republican Congress (still on the statute book), recognized the right of the Southern States to representation, and that the members above 170 were to come from the South. This law was passed, as we have stated, by a Republican Congress, and signed by Mr. Lincoln. Yet, because President Johnson has sought to have this policy of his predecessor fairly carried into execution, he is denounced as a traitor, and threatened with impeachment.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

STATE ELECTIONS.—Elections were held on Tuesday in Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas, and Nevada, in all of which except Delaware the Radicals were successful. In New York the contest was close, the democratic majority being upwards of 46,000 in the city, which was overcome by a few thousand in the other parts of the State. In Massachusetts two negroes were elected to the Legislature.

Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania, has set himself in opposition to the prescription which appropriates Friday to hanging purposes. He lately assigned Monday as the day for an execution, and in a more recent death-warrant has named Tuesday for the hanging.

The execution of the four negroes convicted of the murder of Mr. Wm. Lyle, of Prince George's county, in this State, on the night of the 14th of July last, took place at Upper Marlboro' on Friday, the 2d inst. All of them confessed their guilt.

William Wales, Esq., one of the editors and proprietors of the Baltimore Commercial, has been appointed Surveyor of the Port of Baltimore, vice Edgerton Fulton, removed. An excellent appointment.

A LOT of rowdies undertook to break up a religious meeting in Ritchie county, West Virginia, a few days ago. Some of the brethren pitched in and cleaned them out, on the principle, as one of them expressed it, "That it was as honorable to fight for the Methodist Church as it was to pray for it."

TALL SHOOTING.—Three thousand ducks were killed at the mouth of the Susquehanna on Monday of last week. So says the Elkton Democrat.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The 4th annual convention of the Maryland Sunday School Association will meet in Frederick city on Tuesday, 4th of December.

Capt. Alex. Kirwin died in Somerset county on the 13th ult., aged 92 years. He was the father of the well-known popular steamboat Captain, John Kirwin.

Joseph P. Cantwell has been appointed postmaster at Elkton, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of McKinsey.
