NEW ACETYLINE LAMP.

Dr. David Genese, formerly of Betterton, Claims to Have Solved a Scientific Problem.

The control and manipulation of the wonderful power of acetyline gas, for which scientists have been struggling for years, has been attained, it is claimed, by Dr. David Genese, 621 N. Calhoun street, Baltimore, formerly of Betterton. Dr. Genese explains that the calcium carbide, which is made from coal waste and lime, burnt in an electrical furnace, is dangerous only when it meets water and flame at the same time, and the difficulty has been to avoid generating the gas so rapidly that it could not be stored. Dr. Genese has constructed a little lamp which he thinks solves the problem. His calcium carbide is stored in a cylinder, which is made of porous material, through which the water, which is held in a metal jacket about the cylinder, penetrates slowly, making only a dampness, which generates the gas so slowly that even when the platinum burner is lighted there is no danger of an explosion. The light is ten times as bright and brilliant as that of the ordinary gas. It is clear, white and beautiful. The platinum burner is the only one in existence. It has no affinity for the calcium carbide, never corrodes and the intensest heat does not affect it. Dr. Genese obtained a patent last week.

FACE-BUILDING.

This invention is one of many by Dr. Genese, who is also a surgeon, a dentist, a novelist, a poet and a musician.

Perhaps the most interesting things Dr. Genese has done in the fourteen years that he has lived in Baltimore have been the building of features upon the faces of men or women who have been disfigured by accident or disease. He does this by means of a composition of his own, composed of ground ruby glass, chrome yellow, oxide of iron, oxide of tin, with a base of rubber dissolved in chloroform. This is moulded to the form desired and cured by vulcanization. With this mixture a nose or an ear can be made, with the perfect flesh tint, and even the vein lines and a rubicund tinge can be given. Dr. Genese's first experiment was with a young girl, and was an eminently successful one.

One of his more recent cases was that of a man who had entirely lost his nose by cancer. Dr. Genese took a plaster mould of the face and then made a model for the nose, which he proceeded to manufacture with his composition. The nose was attached by means of internal gold springs and by laying a portion of the artificial substance on the bony structure of the palate. It is lifelike and so entirely natural as to escape notice. The wearer can take his nose off when he goes to bed or at any time he pleases; in fact, it is no more trouble than wearing a set of false teeth.

Dr. Genese has made a most marvelous ear for a man who lost one of his in a railroad accident, modeling from the other ear and attaching the ear by means of a small pivot fitting the opening into the head. This man wears a pair of spectacles which hook behind his ears and help keep the artificial member in place.

A boy, whose face had sunk in until he hardly looked human, because of disease and the giving away of the bone, came to Dr. Genese, who made him a new face. The lost substance of the bone was restored by metal and the plastic parts by soft rubber. By means of artists' colors and chloroform the flesh tints were gotten, and the photograph of the boy now shows him as a presentable-looking lad.

It only takes a week or so, Dr. Genese says, to make a good feature that is almost as good as the real thing. Recently he received a letter from one of his patients, who wrote that he had accidentally dropped his nose on the floor and trodden on it. He requested the doctor to make him another.

SURGICAL APPLIANCES.

Dr. Genese's first invention in Baltimore was in 1876. It was a "dental articulator." It is this instrument upon which rests most of his reputation as an inventor, because of its great value to the dental world. It is a device for securing the relative position of the upper and lower jaw, so that an error in making teeth is next to impossible, irrespective of any irregularities that exist. The result is accomplished without any fatigue to either patient or practitioner. The plaster molds are placed on this machine, which can be regulated to the exact position desired, and changed in any way at all, right at the side of the patient and without having to take off the plaster or remold.

One of the most successful operations Dr. Genese has ever done was about six months ago at the Baltimore University Hospital, on Bond street, upon a young lad who had been kicked in the face by a horse. His jaw had been fractured in three places, his teeth displaced and one side of his face simply wrecked. Dr. Genese was called in and managed to secure a cast, which he fitted to the boy, after taking a mold of his teeth as they were. The cast forced the jaws and teeth of the boy back into their original position and gradually the fracture came together. The cast was worn for a week, the little fellow the whole time being unable to speak a word. When it was finally taken off Dr. Genese admired so greatly the boy's patience under suffering that he told him he would make him a gift of anything he wanted, and asked the boy what it should be. The answer came promptly enough—"A pie." These were the first words the child had spoken for a week. The boy now has perfect teeth and shows no signs of the accident.

MUSIC AND LITERATURE.

Dr. Genese has in his laboratory many other contrivances which he has invented in odd moments and which are wonderful in their labor-saving and time-saving powers. He plays the violin and has made a sounder, which so modifies and subdues the music and yet brings out the full richness of each note that the violin seems line a different instrument altogether.

Among his novels are "The Ghost of Semeda," "Leocadia, Countess de Gangue" and others, while he has composed the music to a beautiful hymn called "The Morning Prayer," the words of which were written by his wife.

Dr. Genese says that the essence of his work in all lines has been the principle of sticking to simplicity and avoiding complications.

THE TYRANT CUPID.

Say what you will, Cupid is somewhat of a tyrant after all. He waves his lash of government over the head of every woman who elects him to rule her life. No woman can choose the happiness and honor of wifehood and motherhood without being subject also to its pains and penalties.

But no woman ought to suffer as most do from those ailments and weaknesses which are due to her peculiarly delicate and susceptible organism. Every woman ought to know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure these unnatural and debilitating troubles. It cures them absolutely, completely, permanently. It contains no alcohol to create a craving for stimulants.

"It is with heart-felt gratitude that I must tell you what your medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. A. F. Crenshaw, of Panasoffkee, Sumter Co., Fla., in a letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. "After consulting you about my case I took your medicine and it cured me of female weakness. I was all run down; I suffered with sick headache, pains in the back and bearing down pains. I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was then able to take care of my house. My health is better than it has been for three years. I do not know how to thank you for the kind advice you gave so cheerfully."

This grand "Prescription" has accomplished the same beneficent purpose for thousands of women in every corner of this broad land. It imparts health, strength and endurance to the special organism of womanhood and gives tonic vitality to the entire nervous system. Its marvelous properties are more fully described in one chapter of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., a splendid thousand-page illustrated volume which will be sent free paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only; or cloth-bound for 31 stamps.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY.

Honest goods, honest prices and honest dealings will surely bring success. Every hour proves it. The last days of the nineteenth century show nothing more clearly. We believe this fact and our works demonstrate our belief. Our goods are warran ed to be exactly as represented, that is honest; our goods are guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, that is honest. If any article of jewelry of our manufacture does not give perfect satisfaction we will refund the money paid for such articles; that too is honest.

CREW & OWENS, of Betterton, Md., have a complete assortment of our goods in their store for sale at prices that defy competition. These goods are made from rolled gold, gold filled or solid gold stock and are warranted to give perfect satisfaction or the money will be refunded.

If this notice should reach anyone living far away from CREW & OWENS' store, or any other customer of ours, to permit their purchasing the goods of our customers, we will sell the goods at retail to such persons, under the warranty, and deliver by mail. We will also send printed instructions as to the care of the jewelry, how to clean it, etc., on application.
