CHESTERTOWN, MD., - - SEPT. 8, 1900.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

Miss Creag, of Washington, D. C., has been the guest of Miss Louise Johnson for several days past.

Mrs. Maggie Melvin, of Felton, Del., accompanied by her daughter, Miss Florence, were the guests of Mrs. S. A. McKnett this week.

Mr. Kent McKnett, who has been visiting friends and relatives here for a week, returned to his home in Phila., Monday morning last.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Edwards and children, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pote, returned to their home in Baltimore last Monday.

Miss Annie Weer paid a short visit to the parental home before returning to the Normal School at Baltimore.

Mr. Jas. Weer and daughter, Miss Katie, spent the latter part of last week in Baltimore.

Rev. Kent M. Bull returned on last Monday from a short visit to Chester Co., Pa.

Mr. John Strong, of Wilmington, Del., made a flying visit to our community last Sabbath, the guest of his uncle, Mr. W. A. Pote.

During a heavy thunder storm which passed over this section on Tuesday morning, about 4 o'clock, a cow belonging to Mr. Crouch, was stunned by lightning.

Our school opened on Monday with many sad hearts. Sad because they had to enter the old school building for another long year.

Miss Nellie Barwick returned home on Saturday after a pleasant visit to friends in Chesapeake.

Mr. Wm. C. Johnson, of Cape Charles City, Mrs. J. H. McCumey and daughter, Edith, are visiting Mrs. Jas. Johnston.

Miss Eddie Reed, of Phila., is visiting Mrs. Jesse R. Copper.

Mrs. Jas. Johnston and two daughters, Louise and Flora, spent several weeks with relatives and friends in Washington, D. C.

Eloped Again.—Howard Wilkinson, the young Dover druggist, who eloped with his sister-in-law, Miss Josephine Packard, several weeks ago and was arrested and carried back to Dover, again eloped with Miss Packard on Thursday, and are now, no doubt, in Texas. Miss Packard was left in Darby, Pa., with relatives by her parents. She and Wilkinson met on Thursday and immediately left for Texas.

It is believed in Dover that Mr. and Mrs. Packard will not pursue Dr. Wilkinson and their daughther, Josephine, further. There seems to be no law under which they could hold Wilkinson a prisoner long to enable the girl to outgrow his influence over her, and the girl, too, is now devoid of friends and believers in her regeneration. Mrs. Packard started immediately for Philadelphia on the first morning express, before many of her neighbors had arisen and long before the new elopement was known.

Combine Fails.—The United Milk Producers' Association, which was organized in December last, was placed in the hands of receivers Tuesday. Application for a receivership was filed in Circuit Court No. 2 by Messrs. Willis & Homer, counsel for Messrs. Penniman & Browne, chemists, and was granted by Judge Sharp, who appointed Messrs. Wm. B. Crowther and Theodore F. Wilcox receivers. Mr. Crowther is president of the embarrassed Company, and Mr. Wilcox is cashier of the Old Town Bank.

The organization of the United Milk Producers last winter was attended with many interesting incidents. There was a three-cornered fight between the following parties:

The United Milk Producers' Associaciation, representing the farmers and the owners of herds.

The "Trust," organized by Ex-Senator Westcott and composed of the larger dairies of Baltimore.

The small dealers, who had only a horse and wagon and a milk route.

Gradually the United won because it controlled the majority of the sources of milk supply around Baltimore. Ex-Senator Westcott's "Trust," which had options on milk routes in Baltimore, allowed them to lapse, and did not enter the field. The small dealers were gradually absorbed by the United.

ROBT. MORRIS, aged 17, near Eldridge, Md, met with a sudden and peculiar death Saturday. About 10 o'clock he was eating a peach which had a bee concealed in it, and which stung him in the throat. His throat immediately began to swell, when Dr. Linthicum was summoned, but he could do nothing to relieve him, and he died about 1.30 Sunday morning. The deceased was an exemplary young man, and was the mainstay of his father, driving a team to the city nearly every day.
