Rock Hall Locals.

Rock Hall is never a dull or lonesome place, but the Ladies Festival and Supper and the Democratic "pow wow" together with the big crowds of people from all over the county and other sections of the State, produced an extra enlivenment in the midst of which everybody was happy. The supper and festival for benefit of the M. E. Church, was a grand success.

The principal speakers of the evening at the Democratic Mass Meeting here were Sheriff Schwatka and Speaker Wilkinson, both of Baltimore. Mr. E. E. Leary presided, with a long list of vice-presidents.

Here's success to the winners. May their administration of County affairs be the wisest on record.

We understand that trouble is ahead for bribers; so may it be if it will end bribery methods.

Owing to his shattered health, Rev. Mr. Chairs has been compelled to resign the pastorate of the M. E. Church, an event widely lamented. The reverened gentleman had endeared himself in the hearts of very many of our people in the respective denominational affiliation May the loving remedies of the "Great Physician" speedily restore him to health and vigor, are the prayers of his late charge. Resolutions of sympathy were unanimously extended to Mr. Chairs by the Sunday-school at its sessions Sunday afternoon. A successor has not yet been selected. Rev. James M. Downey in the meantime is supplying the pulpit with satisfactory effect.

The social services usually held after the adjournment of the Sunday-school was on last Sunday afternoon one of refreshing interest, the whole service, from beginning to end, soared over the "halleluah waters" with "galf topsails" and "baloon gibs" set before a mighty rushing wind" of testimony and praise. Quite a large audience enjoyed the scene.

Mr. John Rodney, tenant on the "Bogle" farm, E. N. Island, undertook with many misgivings to till an 18 acre lot of land in corn during the past season; much of the land was badly salted by the river overflow and much of it had not been plowed for about 18 years. Nothwithstanding this and the terrific onslaught of mosquitoes, together with the extreme heat of the summer that knocked him out of considerable necessary work to the land, he harvested 100 barrels of first class corn from the lot. "Uncle" John thinks that a pretty good thing and so do others.

The moderate weather of the past two weeks has caused a drop in oyster price.

There is a larger quantity of oysters on Swan Point than there has been for a number of years past. Thanks for good protection. So it would be in Chester River if as good attention was paid to the bar there.

A young man of this place who is said to be a little weak-minded, took a boat belonging to Capt. George Mariner, from her moorings on Saturday night without leave, and started for Baltimore or other parts, but running aground on Swan Point bar, he failed. The boat was found the next day and returned to her owner. The young man in a few days turned up also.

Election day events were of a more unusual nature than for many years.

Wheat is suffering for the want of rain. It is extremely dry, the dust on the public roads is worse than is usually during the summer months.

Mrs. Wm. Culley is quite ill with typhoid fever.

Chesterville Items.

Local Notes.—Wheat threshing and husking corn is the order of the day, and from the sounds of whistles one might think it was the middle of July. There are five farmers in this vicinity threshing to-day.

Dr. Jarman and family, of Chestertown, spent Sunday at the Dr.'s parental home.

Mrs. Helen Comegys, Mrs. Mary Lusby and Mrs. Spencer Comegys, were the guest of Mrs. Thomas Clements on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Anthony Johnson and daughter, Francis, of Sassafras, were entertained by Mrs. Rebecca Wooters several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Meeks, near Chestertown, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Thomas Hurlock.

Mrs. James Bennett and children, of Wilmington, are visiting her father, Mr. Edward Cooper.

Mr. Thomas Bennett and wife attended the funeral of Mrs. Caldwell on last Monday at Galena. She was a sister of Mrs. Bennett.

Miss Lynda Redding, of Galena, is the guest of Miss Annie Foxwell.

Miss Mamie Kennedy, near Kennedyville, spent several days with Miss Elizabeth Pennington last week.

Mr. J. J. Lockwood returned from his farm in Somerset. He says wheat seeding is in its bloom in that county.

Mr. Clarence Cochran arrived home Monday from a visit to Delaware and Philadelphia friends.

Mrs. Thomas Hall, of Elsemere, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Hughes.

Mr. Wm. Anthony's family are staying with his parents near Galena. Mr. A. is the young man who was burnt out several weeks ago. We heard that the house was insured and Mrs. Jarman intends to build in the Spring.

The keiffer pear crop is being picked and shipped; it is considered short but the prices good. Mr. E. B. Pennington was the largest grower in this section.

Mrs. Ned Coleman spent several days this week with her mother, Mrs. Logan, in Queen Anne's, who is reported as being very sick.

Mr. Robt. Lusby says he will have several hundred chickens for sale this season; they will be ready by the first of the month.

Mrs. Charles Crittenden has been in Philadelphia for several weeks purchasing her line of fall and winter general merchandise.

The election is over. We must congratulate you, Messrs. Editors, on the way you conducted the campaign through your clean editorial pages.

MARY TUDER, Princess of England, second daughter of Henry VII and sis- of Henry VIII, figures in several of the historcial romances written originally by Frenchmen in the early part of the seventeenth century, and translated into English by unknown hands. In these impassioned novels she is described as possessing all the charms and virtues of womanhood, together with many not displayed by any other woman of any age or country. One biographer, speaking of her eyes, "though her eyes were not the greatest, yet they possessed all that could be desired in the loveliest eyes in the world. They were quick with mildness, and so full of love that with a single glance they darted into the coldest breasts all flames that sparkled in themselves." It is this celebrated lady whom Julia Marlowe will introduce to the playgoers of Baltimore, at the Academy of Music, for one week, beginning November 11th.

THE Annual Harvest Home entertainment will be given at Wesley Chapel, next Sabbath morning.
