CHESTERTOWN, MD., SEPT. 27, 1902.

GOVERNOR SMITH and Hon. Edwin Warfield will visit the Harford County fair October 2.

THE Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York has been admitted into the State by the Maryland State Insurance department under its new charter as an old line company.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was compelled to discontinue his trip west because of an operation performed on his injured limb. It seems that some people do not know when to stop talking and have to be "pinched" in order to call their attention to it.

MIDDLETOWN is one of the live towns of Western Maryland, and its recent wonderful progress is attributed to the introduction of the trolley. These car roads run through the county and connect the town with all sections.

HON. LLOYD WILKINSON, State Insurance Commissioner, with Dr. George W. Truitt, deputy, attended the National Convention of Insurance Officials at Columbus, this week. They were accompanied by their wives, and Mr. Wilkinson made the speech in reply to the welcome address.

IF President Roosevelt would ACT more and talk less the public would have some confidence in his stand on the Trust evil. Why not call Congress together at once and put your sentinents to a practical test! The coal situation can be relieved if Roosevelt chose to order it so. Talk is cheap. This country needs strenuous action.

AT last the Baltimore city officials have taken a step toward the widening of Light street. The city counsel have decided to appoint a commission to inquire into the cost and the most feasible plan. Such an improvement is greatly needed and the surprise is that the city should be moving so slowly in the matter.

OUR Maryland peach growers are interested in a new disease which has made its appearance in the great Michigan orchards. It is called the "Little Peach," and soon after its appearance the leaves curl and turn yellow and the bark becomes scabby. The peaches are hard and worthless. Kent county growers have diseases enough at home to contend with. It is hoped they will escape the Michigan plague.

A FARMER near Hancock, Md., a few days ago ploughed up a whiskey bottle containing 100 $50 bank notes and 10 $5 gold pieces. The money when spread out and counted almost took the farmer's breath away. It is supposed to have been buried 50 years ago by a highway robber named Leners.

THE Centreville Observer says that Queen Anne's spends annually nearly fifteen thousand dollars for higher education and thirty thousand for public schools. Three thousand pupils attended the white schools at a cost of $10 each, and about seventy go to college outside the county; among the latter there are twelve at Washington College.

What is the Remedy?

The people have not yet faced the real consequences of the coal strike. In the cities of Baltimore and Washington, however, the query is in the public mind. If coal is now to be begged for at $15 and $17 per ton, what will it be when required for heating purposes?

Various remedies are being discussed. Certainly something should be done by the authorities to break the coal famine. It is a commodity almost as essential as water and no company or individual should be at liberty to deny the people a product essential to comfort and life. If the mine owners will not operate their mines then the authorities should.

Pennsylvania has located within her borders the great anthracite coal belt. Indeed she has almost a monopoly of the hard coal business, and there it is that this stagnation occurs which is causing such dread apprehension and suffering throughout the country. That State is paying thousands of dollars today to preserve order and protect the coal mines. Why should not the State take charge of the mines and operate them? It would only need a strong and determined State policy to quickly bring the stubborn owners to terms and secure reasonable service from the miners.

Of course, nothing but most serious conditions will justify any such resort by the authorities. These conditions now exist and it is time for the authorities to act.

EX-SENATOR HEPBRON says: "Give the young man a chance." That's right. They will have it whether the old fellows agree to it or not. The young man who idles his time waiting for something to come his way will not do much with the thing when it comes. It is he who goes at it and makes the chance for himself that the people delight to honor.

EX-GOVERNOR ELIHU E. JACKSON is in hearty sympathy with the Ellegood platform. He will not give one dollar to buy votes. The time is ripe for both parties to enter into practical plans to stop bribery. It is one of the greatest curses of the age. The law is sufficient. Let it be enforced.

THE Kent train has been carrying heavy freights during the past month which have caused late mails. The rush will be over in a few days when the usual promptness of the service will be resumed. The public are anxious for a freight train to be put on this road as is the case on the Queen Anne's branch, then there will be no complaint of late mails. The boats also are enjoying a harvest and go and come loaded with tomatoes, canned goods, grain, phosphate, lumber, etc.

MR. J. PIERPONT MORGAN is not so thick-skinned after all. He is beginning to writhe under the denunciations of an outraged and indignant people. He has just given $20,000 to be used in buying coal for the poor of New York City, and has tendered the Philadelphia and Baltimore municipalities several thousand tons of coal at anti-strike prices for the use of the schools. So far, so good; but what are the children to do the other eighteen hours of the twenty-four? And how about those of us who are too old to attend school? What are we to do? Mr. Morgan need not expect to appease the public wrath by the distribution of a few surplus dollars. What the people want is coal, not money.

79 Cents a Day!

The Christian Herald has been gathering facts in the anthracite coal fields, and says the average earnings of the miner is only 79 cents per day. And this for the most dangerous and laborious underground work!

The Great Issue.

Ex-Gov. Boies, who has forced Speaker Henderson out of the fight for Congress in Iowa, says: "The trusts are crushing Iowa, and I am advocating TARIFF REVISION as the remedy." This is to be the great national issue.

Something About Corn.

Corn is quoted this week in Baltimore at 68@70 cents per bushel, but our farmers have none to sell at that price. November and December prices are what the crop will realize, and these quotations now range from 45 to 49 cents. The impression seems to be that the price will not go below these figures No ear corn of this year's crop has been in market yet, the quotations in the market reports are for old corn. The market for ear corn in Baltimore is limited and the supply now is fully equal to the demand. Only yellow corn can be profitably shipped in the ear to Baltimore. There is no call for white.

WILL MR. JACKSON AGREE?

The Democrats to Make an Anti-Bribery Campaign—Jackson Interviewed.

A special from Easton dated Wednesday says: The Democratic Campaign Committee of the First district met here this afternoon and was in conference with Mr. James E. Ellegood, the candidate for Congress from this district. All of the counties were represented.

Those present were John M. Tucker, of Elkton; Marion DeKalb Smith, Richard D. Hynson and W. W. Beck, of Chestertown; John E. George and W. O. Thomas, of Queen Anne's; Emerson C. Harrington, of Cambridge; Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson, of Somerset; J. Frank Turner, James Covington, Joseph B. Harrington, Col. Oswald Tilghman, George E. Haddaway, Thomas H. Trippe and others from Easton.

It was the sense of the meeting that the campaign should be conducted along Mr. Ellegood's lines against bribery, and that money necessary only for plain and understandable campaign expenses should be spent.

Plans were made which will be submitted to the Republican candidate for his consideration immediately. Should he refuse to enter into an arrangement for the suppression of bribery, involving the detection, arrest and punishment of all guilty of violating the constitutional provisions and the statutory enactments against bribery, the Democratic campaign will, nevertheless, go straight on according to Mr. Ellegood's ideas. It was demonstrated today that he has the party leaders with him in the district.

It is stated that the proposition to be tendered to Mr. Jackson, the Republican candidate, is to limit the expenditures in each county to about $500—this sum to cover all expenses. He will also be asked to join and to ask his party friends throughout the district to co-operate with him in the formation of committees in each election district for duty on election day. Numbers of these committees will be expected to watch the polls and to insist upon the arrest of every man engaged in the purchase of votes.

THE monumental slab over General, Reed's grave was finally set on Tuesday. September 24, in the graveyard at I. U. Bishop Adams will preside at the dedication and unveiling of this memorial stone on Sunday, October 5th, at 3.30 P. M. The public is invited to attend.
