STILL POND, MD.

Millington News.

We are glad to state that Dr. Hackett, who has been quite sick for sometime is able to be out again.

Mr. Dixie Evans and Miss Louise Merrick, of Sudlersville, spent Monday afternoon in town. Mr. Evans and Miss Merrick who are considered fine tennis players enjoyed several games of that delightful sport with Misses May Green and Mary Hazel.

Misses Helen Dudley, and Martha Evans, of Church Hill are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Dudley, near town.

Miss Sue Lambert, of Chestertown, is the guest of Miss Ollie Vansant at the Brick Hotel.

Dr. Smith, of Baltimore, was in town several days this week doing dental work.

A week of pentecostal services will be held in the Asbury M. E. Church beginning Sunday Nov. 17th. The following well-known ministers will fill the pulpits during the week. Revs. Sidell, pastor of the church, J. M. Arters, E. E. White, Dr. Corchran, Dr. Baker and H. S. Dulaney.

Mrs. Roe Nevall and Mrs. George Phillips, of Sudlersville, were in town Monday afternoon visiting friends.

Prof. H. Tonkin and family spent several days this week in Wilmington.

Mrs. M. E. Boyer is visiting her daughter near Middletown.

Miss Ethel Crouch is spending the week with friends in Middletown and vicinity.

The ladies of the P. E. Church will hold a country store in the town ball this evening.

The beautiful home of Mr. J. R. Stafford, on Sassafras st., is nearing completion. Mr. B. W. Duling is contractor and builder and Messrs. Ahern & Tonkin furnished the lumber.

Miss Maggie Tolson will assist Mr. C. M. Hurtt in his department store until after the holidays.

Betterton Briefs.

Betterton, which for many years has been the habitation of the summer girl and home of the angler is still as pretty and prominent as ever. A very few boarders still linger, as loathe to depart. New buildings are being constructed and altogether improvements increase rapidly. In a few years this will be one of the leading resorts of the East.

Mr. Herbert Moore, the hustling young employee of Hubbard & Co., of Baltimore, paid a visit to his parents last week.

The beautiful new store that has been erected for Crew and Owens is nearly completed. This is quite an addition for Betterton, and with its commodious hall over head, adds very much to the beauty of our town.

Miss Estella Crew's cousins, of Cape Charles, Va., are being entertained at the hotel.

Mr. Wm. Beck, who has obtained employment in Baltimore visited Betterton last week.

Miss Myrtle Mann, of the Chesapeake Hotel, is visiting friends in Baltimore.

Mrs. Cadwalder was the guest of her cousin, Miss Katie Crew.

Messrs. Chris. Camby and Burlin are guests of the Betterton Hotel.

Mr. Wm. Crew is beautifying his pretty home by adding a large bay window.

Our pastor, Rev. H. F. Jones, is visiting his parental home in Dorchester County. Very soon we will have to build a parsonage according to rumor.

Mr. John Owens met with quite a painful accident last Monday. His foot got caught in the machinery of Mr. Mann's launch, mashing his foot to such an extent that the large toe had to be amputated.

The ladies of our church intend holding a festival in the new Hall as soon as it is finished.

The young ladies of our village are getting up a large entertainment that will be held early in the winter.

Sassafras Notes.

Miss Fannie Sheppard, of Middletown, were entertained on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sheppard, near Sassafras.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ellison and there entire family of four children and eight grandchildren celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Monday last at their home in Philadelphia. Mr. Ellison is an uncle of Mrs. Alexander T. Laws.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Cochran tendered their daughter, Miss Florence, a very delightful All Hallowe'en party last week at their home near Galena.

Joseph Hartley, formerly of Sassafras but now in business in Wilmington, was the guest of his brother-in-law, Ambrose Brice, and Scott Rosin this week.

Several bands of gypsies passed through Sassafras last week. One Gypsy Princess was driving a team of four horses abreast. They had many fine horses and were en route for the South.

PREACHING SERVICES will be held at Westminster Presbyterian Church tomorrow at 10.30 a. m., and at Grace Presbyterian Church at 3.00 p. m., and at Worton Presbyterian Church at 7.00 p. m.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The home of Mr. James A. Hickman in Morgnec was the scene of a delightful farewell house party on Thursday. Mr. Hickman has discontinued farming and will remove to Wilmington in a short time. He invited a few of his friends on the above day to partake of a "goose dinner" and the splendid meal served was fit for a king to partake. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stouffer, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edw. Smith, Mrs. Willard Dodson and son, Mrs. R. A. Smith, Miss Mary Russell, James Scotten and Robert Wallis.

The party given Miss Alverda Edwards, of Galena, Friday evening Nov. 7, 1902, in honor of her sixteenth birthday, was enjoyed by all present. The guests began to arrive at 7.30. The evening was spent in playing games and tricks up until 10.30, when refreshments were served, which consisted of lemonade, cake, candy etc., after which the games were resumed until 11.30. Then the guest began to depart but not until they had bidden each other a fond-good-bye. We are sorry to say that Mrs. Edwards was sick at that time and we hope she is well at this writing. Among those present were: Misses Alverda Edwards, Marie Davis, Ethel Solloway, Anna Melvin; Howard Melvin, Spencer Coleman, Raymond Edwards, Benny Godwin, Lester Edwards, and George Davis, of Chesterville; Miss Bessie Webb and William Cleaves, of Kennedyville; Misses Elsie B. Woodall, Ada Steyens, Gussie Walls, Willie Woodall, Wright Coleman, Elwood Coleman, Joel Clements and Clarance Clark, of Crumpton; Miss Lena Bishop, William Foulks, John Jarvis, and Andrew Woodall, of Galena; Roy Stafford and Harry Talbot, of Millington.

Ladies and gentlemen of Millington, Massey and vicinity have formed the Millington and Massey Card Club which promises to be one of the most delightful social features of the season. The members are: Mr. and Mrs. E. Thomas Massey, Mr. and Mrs. H. B Massey, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Comegys, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Comegys, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Massey, Mrs. Isaac Gibbs; Misses Anna Cacy, Mabel Comegys, Carrie Sinneckson, Mabel Spear; Messrs. J. T. Shallcross, Edwin Hurtt, Stephen M. Ford ank Paul Comegys.

The young men of Still Pond gave a delightful Autumn Dance at the Chesapeake House, Betterton, last night. The invitation committee were Messrs. L. Harris Crewe, Harry Nicols, L. T. Alrich, H. D. Hendrickson and Walter H. Davis.

Society Events.—On Wednesday evening, Oct. 29, Mr. Wm. C. Plummer, formerly of Melitota but now of Baltimore, was agreeably entertained at the home of one of his friends the occasion being his twenty third birthday. Music and recitations were the features. Mr. Plummer was the recipient of several presents.

KENNEDYVILLE W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Kennedyville, held its regular monthly meeting on Friday evening of last week in the M. P. Church. The meeting opened with a very profitable song service, Mrs. Annie R. Redmile, at the organ, after which Mr. H. L. Davis led in a very earnest prayer, in which he asked that the guiding hand of an unseen Providence might be held out to this little band of earnest women in the future as it had in the past. Mrs. Annie R. Redmile gave the scripture reading in a very acceptable manner. The president then gave an itemized account of our meals served on Election day, which resulted in placing in the hands of our treasurer about twenty dollars and we hope we were enabled to save some from the temptation to evil which might have been theirs had they gone elsewhere. Readings were given by Master Hartley Weer and Misses Hettie Jarrell and Grace Sylvester. A duet by Mrs. James Archibald and Mrs. Webster Hill. A most excellent reading was given by Miss Ellen Copper, "Habits," in which it was shown how a little habit or sin persisted in would finally end in ruination and destruction. Solo by Mrs. Leonard Lane.

The pastor of the church Rev. R S. Rowe, then grve a most earnest talk, in which he deplored the evil that exists in our midst, and spoke of the open manner in which the law in reference to the selling or giving away liquor on Election day seemed to be violated. He regreted very much that the "Law and Order League" did not take stringent measures to bring these apparent violators of the law to justice. He thought it was a shame to the community to allow this thing to go unpunished. He seemed to think the W. C. T. U. might in a measure take steps to stop this unlawful traffic in our midst. Our president explained to him the efforts that had been put forth in this very direction and with what utter indifference we were treated even by those who sit in "high places" and how impossible it is for the women and mothers of this country, and this community to accomplish anything in this direction, and the good moral men and fathers sit by indifferent while our boys drift into ruination year after year. We can only hope, work and pray, that God will open the blinded eyes of every good man in this blest country of ours and awaken him to a sense of his responsibility to his brother and his God, and that he may join us heart and hand in our efforts to drive this great curse from our midst.

Commissioners Meeting.—The County Commissioners on Tuesday fixed the limit of the State's attorney's salary at $1500 per annum. The new law passed by the Legislature does not take effect until next year.

Mr. John Dempsey was appointed constable for the third district.

The county commissioners give notice in this issue that repairs to Muddy Creek bridge, Quaker Neck, will be begun December 3rd, and travel will be suspended from that date until repairs are completed.

MISS LULA CROUCH, from the Cliffs, Quaker Neck, left at the KENT NEWS office an Indian club gourd which weighs five lbs., is 34 inches long and 11½ inches in circumference. Four of these clubs grew on one vine.
