FRUIT BADLY INJURED.

The Opinion Almost Unanimous that the Outlook is Poor.

James S. Harris, Esq., was in town this week and states that in his opinion Keifer pears will be a total failure and that the outlook for peaches is not much better. He thinks the extreme cold weather killed many buds and that the frosts and ice of the past month nearly finished the balance.

Mr. Charles Watkins, of East Neck Island, has been attending court this week He says in his opinion there will be a very small crop of fruit.

Walter T. Massey, a well-known fruit grower near Smyrna, has very little hope of even an ordinary fruit crop this season. He says the extreme cold weather of February killed at least one-half of the buds, and the frosts and ice of the last three weeks have killed near three-fourths of what remained. When the "June drop" is over it is not likely many peaches will remain on the trees The first bloom of strawberries were all killed, but there will be enough left from the other blooms to make nearly a full crop if nothing happens later. The plum trees are covered with blooms and small fruit, but Mr. Massey is of the opinion that they are badly hurt. Cherries seem to be all right and there is every indication of a large crop. The grapes seem to be slightly injured. Taking it altogether there is not much encouragement for the Delaware fruit grower for a large crop this season.

VALUE OF AN EDUCATION.

Prof. I. L. Twilley, principal of the Annapolis High School, has submitted some interesting computations as to the value to be placed upon a pupil's presence at school. By means of figures taken from the reports of the United States Bureau of Education and of superintendents of public school education in leading States he has demonstrated that by taking 30 days from the 10-month school year the 900 white pupils of Annapolis lose $270,000; the 3,970 white pupils in Anne Arundel county, $921,000; while the loss to the white pupils of the 19 counties of Maryland that have less than a 10-month term is $21,810,110. These deductions are reached by making the reasonable assumption that an uneducated man who earns $1.50 a day for 300 days does well, while $1,000 a year for an educated man, from a financial point of view, is a low estimate. The former, if allowed to work at the rate of $1,50 a day, would earn in 40 years $18,000. The earnings of the educated man for the same period at $1,000 a year would amount to $40,000. The difference, $22,000, represents the value of the boy's time in getting an education. Taking as an average for school life to insure a good education 11 years of 200 days each or 2,200 days, every day a pupil properly spends at school will be worth $10.

Men's Tailoring.

Have you ever tried our Made to Measure Department? Prices are not high. We have competent and painstaking cutters and tailors and guarantee good work. Some tailoring is so exclusively high in price, much tailoring so poor in quality and fit, that the man who wants good clothes at a moderate price appreciates good values and satisfactory work. This is the kind we try to give. Trousers $5 to $14. Sack Suits, $20 to $40. Dress Suits, $25 to $50. Special values in $20 and $25 Suits, $6.50 and $8.00 Trousers. An increased force enable us to hurry up orders.

COL. POTTS IN PORTO RICO.

The Tolchester Amusement Manager Spends the Winter in Southern Climes—Buys an Orange Orchard There.

Col. Potts, and wife of Tolchester, arrived in Kent last week after a winter spent in Southern climes. He came direct from Porto Rica to New York in four days and says the sudden change from summer to winter was very trying to his wife who has been sick for several days. Col. Potts thinks the outlook for growing oranges at Porto Rica is very promising and it is said that he invested in some groves there. We hope he will reap a big harvest.

The Colonel found no place like Tolchester on the Island but talks very interestingly of the climate and customs. He reports that the dry and rainy seasons are not so clearly marked there as in some parts of the tropics; but the natives say that from December till May is the dry season, the other months of the year forming the wet season. They have now had almost no rain since Novemoer, but the wet season is coming gradually for rain fell almost every afternoon—not the playful patter, but an absolute downpour. A tropical shower is a very different matter from a rain in temperate climates. The sun may be shining brightly, with some fleecy gray clouds overhead, when, without warning, the clouds seem to drop, the streets are deluged, the gutters become swift streams; then perhaps in a short time, the weather is again serene, the clouds are gone, and one sees only the bluest of skies and brightest of sunshine.

Traveling is in almost as primitive stage as in Colonial times in our own country. The roads are one of the best features of the Island. Under Spanish rule a military road was constructed by convict labor from the capital to various important points on the Island; this road is a magnificent piece of engineering. Mountains were graded down, chasms bridged with solid masonry, walls of rock were hewn away, and the result can but make one wonder and admire.

There was formerly daily automobile service over this road from San Juan to Ponce, a distance of 80 miles, the automobile company having a contract with the government to transport mail across the Island. But this has been discontinued, and mail transportation is now by coach, relays of horses being always ready at points along the route. There are very few railroads, and these are short and near the coast. Some of the larger cities boast trolley lines, but travel, for any distance, is ordinarily by coach. Also, a steamer makes a weekly trip around the Island, stopping at the most important places. Steamship lines connect at San Juan with ports of South America, Spain, other islands of the Antilles, and also with New York and New Orleans.

There are numerous rivers forming a network in all parts of the Island; but they are principally mountain streams that dance merrily down a rocky bed on their way to the sea during the dry season, and that become swollen, roaring torrents during the season of rain. But few are navigable even for small craft, their entrances serving simply for harbors.

On all sides and at all times is seen the tropical luxuriance of verdue, but many are disappointed by the lack of bright colors, for Nature plants not the profusion of gay tints to be met in some parts of the tropics. Yet she is not niggardly here, for all seasons there may be seen a profusion of beautiful flowers with a little care and attention.

Improvements.—The house on Chester river rented of C. T. Westcott, Esq., by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram M. Brown is being put in excellent condition. Mr. Wm. L. Fowler, assisted by Messrs. George Burke and Alfred Palmer, is doing some artistic papering and painting, Mr. Wm. Sutton is installing bath-room fixtures, etc., while Mr. Russell is putting in electric lights.

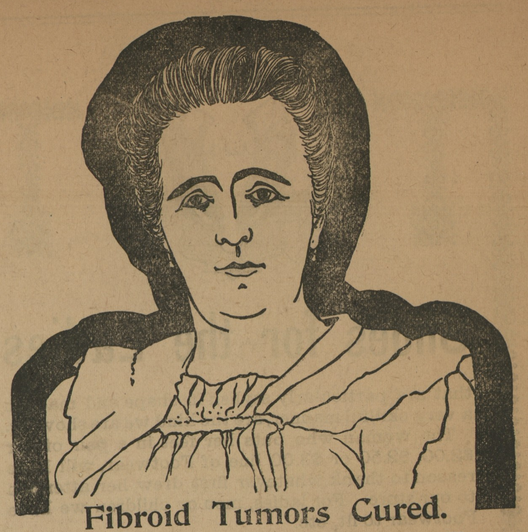
Mr. Frank H. Howard has finished painting Judge Pearce's home.

Mr. M. E. Baker is painting Mr. George Quelette's home on Cannon street.

Mr. Wm. Sappington has greatly improved Mr. Charles E. Kirby's store front. The colors are green, yellow and terra cotta!

Mr. Walter Needles has neatly painted the home occupied by Mr. James Dunbracco.

Bank Stock Sold.—Thirty-one shares of the stock of the National Bank of Smyrna, par value $50, were sold on Thursday. Of the fourteen shares belonging to the estate of J. G. Brinton, deceased, John VanGasken bought eight shares at $75.60 and Charles Ross secured the remaining six shares at the same figures—$75.60. George W. Turner disposed of 19 shares as follows: Ten shares to W. Denney Hazel at $74.60 and nine shares to C. P. Gears at $74.30.



Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time.

"The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) MRS. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly is it said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
