Odds and Ends and Broken Lines of High Grade Goods!

Profit no longer the object; the paramount thought being to clean the tables and shelves absolutely in anticipation of a clean bright and completely received spring stock.

Come

and fix yourselves up at small cost, as all winter goods will be cleaned up at our usual cleaning up prices, and you all know by this time that our

Reduction Sales

ARE Reduction sales. YOU need not expect any great big line to select from. BUT if you come early we can serve you fairly well.

LITTLE LOCALS.....

THE Smyrna Public Schools are c osed on account of measles.

THE new postmaster, Mr. M. Wilber Thomas, will be on duty next week. He has appointed Mr. Wm. H. Lambert, Jr., as his deputy.

THE colored Drama ic Star Co., of Janes M. E. Church gave a drama Christmas night entitled "Refinement" and "Hiring a Cook." Rev. W. E. Waters is pastor. At Fairlee where Rev. J. R Brinkley is pastor the church held a "Cake Sit" a substitute for a cake walk.

A NEW SERIES of stock will be issued by the Kent Building & Loan Co. next Monday night. This company has been doing business three years and has established itself in the confidence of the public. Those wishing to borrow or save weekly will find the officers obliging and well posted.

THE wedding of Miss Nellie Rowe Vansant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Vansant, of near Chestertown, to Mr. George Wilbert French, is announced to take place Thursday, January 14th, at 6 o'clock in St. James M. P Church. No cards will be issued in the county.

FARMERS realized big money from their poultry this year but the crop was a poor one. Millington buyers offered the biggest prices. Mr. Edwards raised over 100 turkeys while Mr. Walter Crowding had over 70. Mr. Elmer Jarman took 17 turkeys to Millington for which he received $52.

A WELL KNOWN CITIZEN sent to Ohio for some angelical wine and was anticipating a rare treat but when the box arrived last week it contained nothing but empty bottles! The contents had been enjoyed by thieves and the box clumsily nailed tight. The Expressman reported the case and our fellow-townsman will wait for results.

GOV. HUNN has appointed Prof. John D. Brooks of Milford superintendent of free schools for Sussex county, to succeed Prof. Leon A. Davis, resigned and and is now with his wife in St. Louis conducting the insurance business. Prof. Brooks has been a resident of Delaware two years, and succeeded Prof. E. L. Cross as principal of the public schools at Milford. He is a graduate of the normal school at Millersville, Pa., and also of Dickerson College, at Carlisle, Pa.

THE school at Hopewell will likely be closed because of small attendance—5. The Board waited until after Christmas when new residents arrived, out the number was only increased to 9. Miss Julia Burchinal who has been successfully teaching there is said to be slated for Rock Hall where an extra teacher is needed. A delegation will appear before the School Board Tuesday to protest against closing the school claiming there are at least 12 scholars to attend.

Miss Clara L. Jones has resigned as teacher of Flatland school to take effect January 29th.

THE coldest day of the winter was Sunday when the mercury played about 15°. The thermometer has averaged about 22° during December and almost as cold for month of November. Most farmers have filled their ice houses.

Friday, Christmas Day, was rainy and but few persons were seen on the streets of Chestertown. The usual firecracker engagement took place at night. Not an arrest has been made during the holidays.

THE following have obtained marriage licenses this week: David H. C. Warren and Annie R. Seeney.

THE partnership heretofore existing between W. W. Beck, M. R. Walker and Hiram M. Brown, trading in fertilizers under the firm name of Beck, Walker & Brown, has by mutual and amicable agreement been discontinued. The fertilizer business will be conducted at the old stand under the name of Beck, Walker Company, the members being W. W. Beck, P. B. Hollis, M. R. Walker and Allan Harris. The new firm will improve their factory and enlarge their field of operations. Mr. Brown retires from the firm so as to give his whole attention to grain buying.

THE ice in Chester river did not prevent the Emma Ford from making her regular trips this week. The boat arrived here on time each day, but was two hours late in reaching the city on Wednesday. The Sassafras river boat has not been able to run because of ice.

THE Electric Light Plant at Chestertown broke down Friday night and the town has been in darkness for a week. It causes a great loss to business and the management are receiving a large amount of criticism. They expect to be in good shape tonight.

CONTRACTOR CULP and others from Chestertown returned from Greenwood last week for the holidays. Mr. Culp says that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, though it has been accused of moving slowly are carring out its announced determination to restore to the residents all their property which was demolished by the terrific discharge of high explosives being carried over the road three weeks ago.

The company is still maintaining silence about the various settlements, but some of the residents who are feeling good over the treatment they have received at the hands of the railroad corporation are now talking. Aged Dr. H. C. Johnson, whose home and stables were wiped off the map by the explosion and subsequent outbreak of fire, received $2,200, and his mourning was thereby turned into rejoicing.

"I am alone in the world," said he, "no house to rest in and my only home is where I take off my cap and shake off my overshoes at night, but I have my money in hand for the damage. I am perfectly satisfied at my treatment by the railroad company—they have settled on the square with me. My, what a big loss it was for them.

William Lord, whose property was situated near the explosion gets $1,200 and is satisfied even if his handsome new home looks as if a locomotive had run through it. The parsonage of the Methodist Protestant Church, situated beside the old church, which was deprived of its gable end by the concussion, was adjudged as damaged $1,000 by the railroad people, and the sum was accepted.
