AHERN HELD UP!

Senator Foxwell Listens to Advice and Recalls Appointment of School Commissioner.

A dispatch from Annapolis on Monday says: The Senate was in session but a few minutes tonight before it adjourned till 11.30 A. M. tomorrow. The body went into executive session and reconsidered the nomination of John P. Ahern for school commissioner of Kent county. The nomination of Mr. Ahern was sent in with a big batch of recess appointments a few days ago by Governor Smith, all being confirmed. Later it was discovered that Mr. Ahern's name was in the list, and as Senator Foxwell, of Kent county, had some objection to offer the nomination was tonight reconsidered and referred to the committee on executive nominations. The appointment was for the balance of an unexpired term of six years from May, 1900.

This appointment has to be confirmed by the Senate and it is usually the custom to allow the Senator to name the officers in his county. This is what is known as senatorial courtesy.

FIRE INCIDENTS.

Mr. Alonza P. Foreman, tenant on the Francis farm, near Tolchester, built a fire in his bedroom before retiring Monday night and left same while he went downstairs for fuel. The stove became hot and ignited the bed covering and when Mr. Foreman returned he found his bed rapidly being consumed. He succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but not before the feather bed was burned and all his clothing which was hanging on the foot of the bed!

Mr. J. Romie Byron, of near Chestertown, sent one of his colored men to the straw stacks Monday for a load of straw. It being very cold the negro built a fire to warm his hands and in a few minutes the whole rick was ablaze! Mr. Byron is getting straw now from his neighbors.

MATRIMONIAL EVENTS.

License was granted in Baltimore, last week to Miss Eva Storks, daughter of Mr. Thos. Storks, of Chestertown, and Harold Dickerson, of Pocomoke City, but employed until recently at the Crane, Hynson & Valliant basket factory.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence (Flatland's) of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Davis, brother of the bride, Wednesday evening, January 20th, at six o'clock, by the Rev. J. M. Sheridan, pastor of St. James M. P. Church. The contracting parties were Miss Mamie S. Davis, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davis, of Hanesville, and Mr. Walter Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fowler, Flatlands. Promptly at the appointed time the bride and groom entered the tastefully trimmed parlor preceded by the pretty little flower girls, Addie Gale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Gale, and Mabel Lentz, of Baltimore, a neice of the bride, carrying baskets of carnatians. The bride's maid and broomsmen, Miss Jennie Davis, sister of the bride, and Mr. Ellsworth Fowler, brother of the groom, and the manly little ring bearer, Freddie Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Davis and nephew of the bride. In one corner of the room was a beautiful bower of evergreens from which was suspended a marriage bell, under which they stood while the ceremony was performed in a very impressive manner by Brother Sheridan, pronouncing them husband and wife. "Whom God has joined together let no man put asunder."

The wedding march, Lohengrins, was very skillfuly rendered by Mrs. Thomas J. Davis on the piano. The bride was married in a handsome dress of white silk mulle with valencienness lace trimmings and white satin ribbon and carried a bunch of bride's roses, with buttoniere of white carnations. The bridesmaid's dress was of light blue Paris muslin with lace trimmings and ribbon to match. The little flower girls were dressed in white French muslin with silk lace and accordian plait skirts. The bride's going away dress was a dark blue cloth tailor made skirt white satin waist with hat and gloves to match and a handsome set of furs the gift of the groom. After the wedding a bounteous and splendid roast turkey supper with the usual occasions of salads and other things was served to the relatives and friends in Mrs. Davis inimitable style. They were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents consisting of silver cake basket, dinner and tea set, large rocker, lamps, rugs, sets knives and forks, bed spreads, table linen, towels, mantle ornament, silverware and many others.

Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Sheridan, B. F. Davis and wife, J. W. Fowler and wife, S. G. Lee and wife, M. M. Rasin and wife, John Gale and wife, Thos. J. Davis and wife, A. S. Crawford and wife, W. W. Newcomb and wife, Norris Rollison and wife, Mrs. J. W. Kelley, Mrs. John Robinson and daughter, Misses Jennie Davis, Mary Sheridan, Louise and Mabel Beck, Minnie Rasin, Katie Fowler, Miss Robinson, of Still Pond, Addie and Ethel Gale, Mabel Lentz, of Baltimore, Miss Elburn and sister, of Chestertown, Morgan Hessey; Messrs. W. J. Beck, Geo. Hudson, Purnell Jefferson, Dr. J. H. Hessey and son, John, Joshua Davis, Ellsworth Fowler, Clarence Newcomb, Samuel Jefferson, Freddie Davis, Harry Fowler, William Davis, Mr. Lentz, of Baltimore, Thomas, Clarence, Preston and Eddie Fowler, William Clark, of Lynchs, Mr. Elburn, of Chestertown, and others. The company was entertained with music on the piano during the evening by Mrs. Norris Rollison, Misses Mary Sheridan and Addie Gale and Mrs. T. J. Davis.

After spending the evening in social conversation and pleasure we bid our host and hostess and the happy couple good night, with many wishes for their future happiness and prosperity. They will make their future home on the Bacon farm, Flatlands, owned by Mrs. Jere Miller, of Fairlee.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at St. Luke's P. E. Church, in Queenstown, Md., at high noon, on Tuesday January 19, 1904, when Miss Carrie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lockerman Goldsborough of Queenstown, was married to Mr. Elwood Spencer Strong, a popular young farmer of Kent Co. Md., second son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Romie Strong, and grandson of the late James P. Wickes.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away, and preceeded by the ushers, Messrs. Wilford C. Wilkins, W. O. Snyder, of Baltimore, and James P. Keating of Centerville, cousins of the bride; Frank S. Dudley, Dr. J. K. Uhlig of Baltimore, and James T. Earle of Centerville, Md., marched to the chancel, where she was met by the groom, who was attended by his brother, Mr. J. Page Strong, as best man.

After the beautiful marriage service of the Protestant Episcopal Church read by Rev. A. Batte, assisted by the bride's cousin, Rev. James A. Mitchell, they were pronounced "man and wife." Miss Susie Mitchell, a cousin of the bride played the wedding march.

The bride, a semi brunette, was attired in a champagne crepe cloth trimmed in Irish point lace, with hat and gloves to match.

Among a host of nearby relatives and friends were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Wilkens, Mr. and Mrs. W. Overton Snyder, Misses Blanche E. Celeste, and Cora F. Wilkens, relatives of the bride, and Misses Edna and Lulu Strong, sisters of the groom.

After the wedding the bride and groom were given a wedding supper at the home of the groom's parents. They will reside in Kent County, Md.

Mr. William Tylden Brice and Miss Amelia Williams Hill were married on Wednesday at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Jas. L. Beck, near Fairlee. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. T. Denroche, of St. Paul's P. E. Church at noon. Only the family of Mr. Beck were present at the ceremony which was a very quiet but impressive wedding. The groom is a son of the late John Brice and one of Kent's well-known farmers. Miss Hill is a native of Baltimore, but for several years has taught the Lankford public school. She is a very attractive and talented young lady and we are glad to welcome her to Kent. After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Brice left on the afternoon train for Washington for a short stay. They will return today and make their home at the groom's residence near Lankford.

Miss Jane D. Anderson, daughter of the late Wm. T. Anderson, was married in Baltimore Wednesday evening to Maulsby H. O'Laughlin.

At the appointed hour, 8 o'clock, by the march rendered by Mrs. Jno. Broening, cousin of the bride, the elected bride and groom, preceded by Miss H. E. Stephens, maid of honor and also a cousin of the bride, entered the parlor and were met by the Rev. F. H. Lewis, pastor of Mt. Royal M. P. Church, who performed the ceremony. The bride wore white crepe de chine over white taffeta, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and asparagus fern. The maid of honor were white Japanese lansdown over white taffeta and carried a shower bouquet of pale pink carnations and asparagus fern. The groom wore the conventional black. After a short reception they left the city for a trip South, and will be at home at 425 E. Lafayette avenue after February 20. They were the recipients of quite a number of useful and handsome presents.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Bridegroom of Two Weeks Institutes Legal Proceedings to Secure His Bride—Met by a Counter Suit for Divorce.

Alfred W. Dill, a bridegroom of two weeks, has instituted novel proceedings to compel the parents of his wife to give her into his keeping. It is said the writ is in the hands of Constable John W. Duyer, of Worton. The writ was gotten out this week, and on Saturday Attorney John D. Urie added a new chapter to this book of unfortunate marriage circumstances by docketing in the Kent county circuit court a suit for divorce by the bride in the name of her parents.

This marriage took place on December 30. The groom is Alfred W. Dill, of Hanesville, and the bride is Miss Florence M. Smith, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyland P. Smith, of Worton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Merritt.

It was a runaway match, as the parents of the bride were very much opposed to it and are now very bitter against the groom, having forbidden him to see his bride or even come to the house. After the marriage the bride returned to her home and the groom to his. She and her mother are in Philadelphia visiting friends and have the sympathy of a large circle of relatives and friends.

In the suit for divorce filed in Baltimore by Mr. James S. Patten against Fannie Patten, the NEWS stated the charge to be unfaithfulness, when it should have been on a charge of cruelty and excessively vicious conduct. J. Henry Baker, Esq., represents Mrs. Patten.

Ida Appleby, who keeps a boarding house at 1012 North Broadway, Baltimore, was granted an absolute divorce yesterday from John T. Appleby, on the ground of unfaithfulness. They were married July 14, 1874, at Kennedyville, and have a daughter 23 years old.

Announcements—The wedding of Miss Mary R. Russell, of Worton, to Mr. Thomas H. Bryan, is announced to take place Wednesday, January 27th, at 5 o'clock in Union M. E. Church. No cards in the county.

The wedding of Mr. William Clark and Miss Josephine Jones, of Still Pond, is announced to take place Wednesday evening February 3rd, 1904, at half after seven o'clock in Still Pond M. E. Church. No cards in the county.

Daughter and Son to Marry.—Mrs. Rachel Conner, of Middletown, has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Edith May, to Mr. William I. Berry. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride, South Cochran, St., on Wednesday evening, January 27th, at 7.30 o'clock.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Grace Severson, of Philadelphia, daughter of Mr John M. Severson, of Still Pond, to Mr. J. Fletcher Conner, son of Mrs. Rachel Conner, of Middletown. The ceremony was performed on January 14 in Philadelphia.

Leap Year Social.—The ladies of Christ Church Christian Endeavor Society will hold a Leap year Box Social in Stam's Hall on Wednesday, Feb. 3rd. It has been decided that the ladies invite the gentlemen and there is every prospect of a unique and enjoyable affair. Lunches prepared in fine style will be auctioneered and sold to the highest bidder, while they are being enjoyed the music committee will furnish entertainment. The ladies having the affair in charge guarantee a good time to all who attend.
