CHESTERTOWN, MD. MARCH 12, 1904

Maryland Legislature.

A hunting bill has been sent to Annapolis, requiring all residents of Kent county to pay a license of $1.25 to hunt or kill game in the county. It is proposed to appoint game wardens in each district, &c.

The legislature has passed the bill introduced by Delegate Gibbs authorizing the confirmation of the deed given for the farm at Massey by Stephen Boyer to the Massey P. E. Church. This magnificent gift of Mr. Boyer's means over $10,000 for this church.

Senator Kirwan has introduced a bill to repeal an act of 1902 so as to make the waters of Queen Anne's county free to crabbers. Heretofore every crabber has been compelled to pay a license fee of $2 before being allowed to crab in these waters.

There is some concern lest the Educational Bill, which is now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee, will not pass. It is understood that the members of the committee are not favorable to the proposed large increase of four and a half cents in the state school tax, and unless a considerable reduction is made the most salient features of the bill will fail. It was introduced in the Senate a week ago, and was referred to the Committee on Education.

George C. Townsend, of Millington, has been appointed magistrate for that precinct.

The increased salary bills are "asleep" in the House.

THE Town Charter Amendment has passed the House and is now in Senator Foxwell's hands.

The Jim Crow bill, which includes the whole State, has passed the Senate and House and now awaits the Governor's signature. The bill comprises steamboats and steam cars.

THE disfranchisement bill has passed the Senate an dHouse and is now before the Governor for his approval.

THE Haman bill ought not to pass. It is now before the Senate having been reported unfavorably by the committee. A number of substitutes are proposed in order to kill the bill. It has been made the order of the day for Wednesday.

Mr. Dawkins has introduced, by request, a bill which practically repeals the 80 per cent. clause now incorporated in every insurance policy. It provides that it shall be unlawful for any resident or non-resident fire insurance company doing business in this state, in case of total loss, to make settlement for any less sum than the amount stipulated in the policy and upon which premiums shall have been paid. A company refusing to make full settlement shall be prohibited from doing business in this state, and its license shall immediately be revoked. Suit may also be brought by attachment for fraud in case of judgment for the amount of the policy, and in addition to the usual costs the company must pay 5 per cent. of the amount of the policy to pay the expenses of the assured and 10 per cent. for his counsel fees.

When the mortgage tax bill was recommitted last Thursday there was every reason to believe it would pass when again submitted to a vote. Since it is said that some of the county members who voted for the bill have been importuned by former constituents to vote against the repeal. A pole was taken by one of the friends of the bill, who reported that it lacked half a dozen votes and that it was therefore inadvisable to take it up again at this time. The measure will, therefore, be allowed to rest for the time being. If it should again fail for want of a constitutional majority the bill will be dead. The advocates of the repeal therefore do not purpose to take any chances.

Damaging Floods

Raging Torrents in the Susquehanna River Cause Great Damage.

The heavy rain on Monday added to the vast volumes of water dammed up in the Susquehanna river by ice gorges, causing a raging flood in that stream that has caused the loss of many thousands of dollars worth of property in Cecil county, and millions in Pennsylvania. Buildings and bridges have been swept away, and many people rendered homeless.

The water reached its most destructive force in Cecil county Tuesday afternoon, and is still sweeping everything before it. Two spans of the bridge at Conowingo were carried away, caused by buildings washed down from above lodging against the structure. At Port Deposit, Lapidum and Havre de Grace the loss has been a fearful one, the water being higher than ever known before, and the damage can not even be estimated.

The Tolchester Co's. sheds at Port Deposit were carried away and at Havre de Grace the wharf was inundated.

Great fields of ice came down the bay Thursday and have prevented the steamers reaching Tolchester and Betterton. The bay will likely be clear today.

The Hersch-Sutton Wedding.

Rock Hall M. E. church was the scene on Tuesday, March 8th of the prettiest wedding of the season. The contracting parties were Miss Jeannette M. Hersch, accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hersch, and one of the popular teachers of Rock Hall public school, and Mr. Lynwood A. Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Sutton, and a prosperous young farmer residing near Fairlee. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of light tan with silk and champagne trimmings and carried shower bouquet of carnations, and was attended by her sister, Miss Mary M. Hersch as maid of honor, and by Miss Elma Sutton, sister of the groom, and Miss Mamie Miller as the bridesmaids, dressed in Persian lawn. The ushers were Mr. Earnest Hersch, brother of the bride, and Mr. Bayard Sutton, the brother of the groom. The church was tastefully decorated with evergreen and potted plants. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss Nannie Taylor. During the ceremony "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" was played softly. Rev. Warren Burr performed the ceremony. The bridal couple left on the 3 p. m. boat for Baltimore, Phila. and other points. The bride's going away dress was blue broad cloth with hat to match. The presents were numerous and handsome. The couple will reside on Mrs. Legg's farm near Fairlee. The NEWS extends congratulations.

J. W. McClary, Jr., of this town, and Miss Annie E. Hall, of Baltimore, were married Wednesday evening by Rev. I. C. Burke, D. D., pastor of the Third English Lutheran Church. The bride wore a beautiful gown of blue etamine and carried a large bunch of lillies of the valley. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception and supper was given in honor of the young couple. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hall, 1807 E. Madison street, and a niece of Mr. Theodric B. Hall, a noted member of the Baltimore detective department.

The groom is a farmer and a son of Dr. J. W. McClary, near Chestertown. The bridesmaid was Miss Naomi J. Hall, sister of the bride, and the best man was E. Lawrence McClary, a brother of the groom. The bride and groom arrived at their home in Quaker Neck on Thursday and were given a hearty welcome.

DEATH OF A WEEK.

Rev. Wm. Munford, aged 75 years, formerly a colonel in the Confederate Army, and who served under Mosby's command, died at his residence at Annapolis Tuesday night. He is survived by a wife, three daughters, a son and a brother, Gen. Thomas T. Munford, of the Confederate Army. Colonel Munford entered the Virginia infantry as a lieutenant at the outbreak of the Civil War, and at its close had gained the rank of colonel. He then entered the Episcopal clergy, from which ill health compelled him to retire two years ago. He was at one time the popular rector at St. Paul's P. E. Church.

Mrs. A. Lizzie Burris, the devoted wife of Mr. Thomas J. Burris, died at her home in Clayton, Del., at noon on February 27, of hemorrhage of the lungs. She was a daughter of the late Charles H. Dulin, a well-known farmer of near Blackiston's X Roads, and was of a kind and sympathetic nature, of gentle manners and firm in her friendships. During the ten years of her wedded life no words of bitter reproach were ever uttered to her fond husband, who more than any other knew how to appreciate her exalted worth and who mourns her as no heart can mourn her irreparable loss. When the sad messenger came her house was "in order," and she met it with that calm resignation born of the christian's faith and joined the mighty hosts where saints immortal reign.
