ROCK HALL ITEMS

Such glorious New Year weather, clear and balmy, it put everybody in the mood of singing the long metre doxology, a person of a morose disposition could not be found during the day, church goers were out in force, quite a large congregation greeted Rev. Mr. Burr at the M. E. Church, who preached to them a splendid sermon on repentence and salvation, from the text, Psa. 51 : 12, &c.

The Sunday School was reorganized Sunday afternoon with the following officers: Supt. Rev. Mr. Burr; Ass. Supt. James Taylor; Supt. primary department, Mrs. Jos. W. Apsley; Secty. Miss Edna Durding; Asst. Secty. Miss Warner, Librarians, Damon Rollison, Carroll Davis; Treas. Wm. T. Downey; Choristors, Jos. and William Downey; Organist, Miss Annie May Ayres; 263 was the first installment on the new roll every one of whom were present.

The Sunday School Journal and Bible Student's Magazine which has been used by the teachers for 30 or more years, came in new dress and greatly enlarged, but almost took the teacher's breath by its smattering of Greek, and the absence of some of the old familiar features, many of the teachers will use the Senior Quarterly in preference to the Journal.

The following shows the contrast between the first Sunday of last year and the first Sunday of this year in school attendance and collection.

Last year, attendance.....	122
This year, attendance.....	263
Last year, collection.....	$2 99
This year, collection.....	$18 75

Camp No. 13 P. O. of A. are planning to have an interesting entertainment and public installation of the officers elected at the session of Dec., 29, as follows: President, Nellie B. Ashley; Assistant Pres., Joseph Stein; Past Pres., Ellen Rollison; Asst., Past Pres., Ida Ayres; Vice Pres., Mary Hersch; Asst., Vice Pres., J. W. Joiner; Chaplain, Jennie Coppage; Conductor, Mary E. Stein; Asst., Con., Annie Thomas; Rec., Secy., Laura J. Urie; Asst., Rec., Sec., Ida Moffett; Finan., Secy., Nora Jones; Treas., Mary El Taylor; Grd., Sallie Jones; Sentinel, Sarah Hardesty; Orator, James Marshall. Prominent members of the National Camp will be present. D. D. G. M., Benj. H. Coburn, assisted by W. T. Harrison, J. B. Downey, Jos. Ryan.

Installed were the following officers of Maxwell Lodge, I. O. O. F., on Wednesday evening: N. G., J. A. Greenwood; V. G., Wm. R. Larrimore; Treas., B. H. Coburn; Finan. Secy., S. B. Colyer; Rec. Secy., J. W. Boyer; Chap., M. L. Maslin; Supporters to N. G., W. T. Harrison and Jos. Ryan; Supporters to V. G., Thos. Maslin and Wm. G. Hindes; Ward, J. B. Downey. After which the doors were thrown wide open and families the best girls and invited guests came and enjoyed an excellent entertainment of oratory, song, music and feasting. Messrs. J. A. Greenwood and Wm. T. Harrison did the oratory for the occasion. Mr. M. L. Maslin was master of ceremonies. Thus another bright spot is left on life's journey.

Many of our citizens were listeners to the New Year display at 12 midnight Saturday at Steelton. The whistles, horns and bells could be distinctly heard here.

Capt. J. R. Downey and crew find it very monotonous on Swan Point bar since their chase after dredgers two weeks ago. Not a sign of a dredger has been seen in the river since. Captain Downey is very sorry the local boat failed to render assistance, had they done so, one or more of the dredgers would have been captured.

Mr. Wm. Clayton carrier of Route No. 2. had a mishap on Monday. Having geared his horse to the carriage, his faithful body guard a dog ran under the horse and tripped him to the ground, breaking both shafts of the carriage. Will took the matter philosophically, saying "well I am glad it is'nt my new wagon."

Wednesday found us in the grip of a blizzard and an almost entire cessation from remunerative work, but everybody seemed happy, a kind Providence having smiled upon us and gave the watermen 4 or 5 days fine work since Christmas. The only disgruntled fellow we have found is Charlie Smith, who says he wanted to plant potatoes on Thursday. Guess he wanted to take the new moon by the horns.

Rock Hall Council No. 149 Jr. O. U. A. M. held a very interesting meeting on Monday, Jan. 2nd. The semi-annual installation of officers was the main feature, and State Councelor George W. Webb not being able to be present, Bro. Charles S. Porter represented him and installed the following: Councilor, Jos. R. Ryan, Jr.; vice-councilor, Harry C. Lake; recording secretary, Charles S. Porter, 4th term; assistant recording secretary, C. E. Moffett; financial secretafy, George P. Orr, second term; treasurer, T. B. Durding, sixth term; conductor, John W. Elburn; warden, J. Arthur Downey; inside sentinel, B. F. Bunch; outside sentinel, John T. Coleman; representative to State council, J. A. Smith, second year; alternate to State council, Charles S. Porter, second year; chaplain, Harry C. Webb; trustees, T. E. Joyner; representative to State council, George P. Orr, one year; alternate to State council, J. W. Williams. This council is in a flourishing condition, has a large membership and the treasury of over $1,500.

FAIRLEE NOTES.

The Christmas holidays are at an end. During the festive season merriment prevailed. All seemed to be filled with joy and looked on the "sunny side of life". Happiness and contentment is manifested all over our native land. These are attributes of prosperity, Mercantile, mechanical and agricultural life were bouyant during the year just ended and decidedly profitable. Farming interests were never so prosperous and every other interest depends upon that. We must therefore concede that the year 1904 was one of solid success and achievement. There was more prosperity for the masses, and less extraordinary success for the few. This is a normal and healthy condition; this is true prosperity. Wage earners have been paid well, on a whole being higher than for some years. Give men purchasing power and more business in all lines will follow.

Last Sunday, New Year's day was spring-like and many attended the service in our village church. Rev. W. E. Habbert acquitted himself excellently in two masterly discourses.

The present conference year has been a wonderfully successful one in our church work. Bro. Habbert is an indefatigable worker. In the beginning of the year he sat about to pay off a twelve hundred dollars indebtedness against the church parsonage. The debt is fully provided for and Bro. Habbert and his faithful people are very very happy. To pay off the heavy indebtedness it was necessary to appeal to many out side of our community and church. Contributions came in from many quarters, Baltimore, Chestertown and other parts of the county. He and his church are very very thankful for the munificence of the many who took part in the liquidation of the heavy burden. The indebtedness was made and the parsonage was built while Rev. Jno. M. Arters was on the charge as pastor. During Bro. Poole's pastorate which followed Bro. Arters, it was thought better for the indebtness to run awhile. It required hard labor on the part of Bro. Poole to adjust the indebtedness, to tide it over for the two years. For this Bro. Poole deserves great credit and his people appreciated it very much. For the adjustment he collected several hundred dollars. While Rev. John M. Arters was pastor of the charge, the church building was improved to the extent of a thousand dollars, so that now we have valuable church property such as the village and community are very proud of.

Many changed their places of abode at the end of the year. Rev. W. E. Habbert from the pretty Miller dwelling into the parsonage and Capt. Benj. Adkinson from the parsonage into the dwelling vacated by Rev. Mr. Habbert. Mr. John L. Lewis from Edesville back to his dwelling in the village, occupied last year by Mr. Hopkins Burgess who removed to Rock Hall. Mr. Sutton removed from the Schwearer place to Mr. Hopkins Burgess farm in Swan Creek. Mrs. Ella Lewis moved into the dwelling vacated by Mr. Sutton and Mr. Loffland into the house left by Mrs. Lewis. Mr. George Faulkner Jr., left Fairlee for Queen Anne's, and Mr. Amos Crouch moved into the dwelling tenanted by Mr. Faulkner last year Mrs. Orr moved into the domicile occupied by Mr. Crouch in 1904. Mr. Geo. Faulkner Sr., moved to where Mrs. Orr left and Mr. Hudson to the farm left by Mr. Faulkner. Mr. Linwood Luther moved from Mrs. Legg's farm to the Crew farm near Lankford and Mr. Mahlon P. Lee to Mrs. Legg's farm.

Dr. Smith has his office in the parsonage still.

School opened here on Tuesday with a very fair attendance.

Our Washington College students wended their way to the college through the storm on Wednesday morning.
